Horticultural Highlights

BIRD NIGHT
Richmond Hill Horticultural Society will hold its popular annual Bird Night at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 24. Mr. R. V. Corlett will speak and show a large number of his colored slides. Mr. Corlett is a member of the Federation of Ontario Naturalists, The Toronto Field Naturalists and a Past President of the Color Photographic Association of Canada, and has been active in photography for the past 30 years. As head of the Photographic Department of de Havilland Aircraft of Canada, he is a member of the Commercial and Press Photographers Association.

The slides that will be shown are all from original Kodachromes taken by Mr. Corlett. They consist of about 150 slides of birds of Ontario in their natural habitat, and include some Wild Flower subjects to provide a continuity throughout the seasons. Many of these pictures have been shown in the International Photographic Salons throughout the world. Mr. Corlett will also have six black and white bird prints available for inspection.

Advice will be available on many types of Nature Photography, and the equipment used will be demonstrated during the talk. If you are a "Birder", a Naturalist or a nature photographer — this is your night. At the February meeting valuable door prizes of grass seed were provided by Bob Keith and a bag of fertilizer by F. C. Manley Co. Ltd. At this meeting there will be a draw for a most artistic and desirable garden feature in the form of a bird bath.

Ontario Cancer Society Elects A. R. Winnett President

At the first meeting of the Board of Directors following the annual meeting of the Ontario Division of the Canadian Cancer Society held in Toronto March 4, Albert Rendall Winnett of Toronto was elected president of the society. He succeeds Dr. Welch of Toronto who held the position for the past five years.

Representatives from Richmond Hill and District Unit who attended were President, Stuart Parker and Vice-President, Mrs. Gordon Purves.

Also elected were three vice-presidents, L. L. Lang of Kitchener, Mrs. Henry Krug, Kit-chener and A. Scythes of Toronto. The number of Class "A" Directors, who are directors at large, was increased from 15 to 25 following a motion passed at the annual meeting. This enables the society to include in its directorate more men and women of the province who are interested in the vital problem of cancer control. Besides these are directors from each of the society's local units and representatives of 12 provincial organizations, including the Department of Health, the Ontario Medical Association.

Mr. Winnett, who is Vice-President, Finance, of the John Inglis Company Limited and of the English Electric Company of Canada, has been active in the welfare organizations in the past and has considerable experience with fund-raising. He was educated in Trinity College School, Port Hope and at Queens University, specializing in finance. Before his present position he worked with the Royal Trust Company, after which he was controller of the Canada Wire and Cable Company.

Following his resignation at the annual meeting, Mr. Welch was presented with a scroll in honor of his five years service to the society and with a silver tea service. The presentation was made by Directors, Dr. L. M. Grose and Donald Clarke, who pointed out that a good deal of credit to the society's remarkable growth and success during the past years must go to Mr. Welch. In reply, Mr. Welch said that "running a society such as this is like constructing a large building. The real credit must go to the architects who do the planning and to the hundreds of people who do the actual work". He stated that he was proud and privileged to take part in such a vital job as cancer control and expressed the sure conviction that the Society's three-fold program of research, service to cancer sufferers and lay education would continue until "we have defeated this dreadful disease!"

Following Mr. Welch's speech he was given a standing ovation by the members present. He will continue to serve on the society's Board of Directors in the newly created position of "Past President."

"There's An Old Spinning Wheel In The Parlour"

"There was an old spinning wheel in the parlour" in Grand-papa's day. There were new-fangled lamps on the walls that glowed with twice as much light as the outmoded coal-oil lamps. It was the heyday of gas light — when no woman had a vote.

Strangely away from our times is the Curtain Club's current production "Gaslight" to be shown in the Lions' Community Hall March 25 and 26. Strange are the customs of the 1890's today.

No woman had a vote then. No woman had a vote in her own household either unless her dear husband was kind and considerate and would listen to the little woman's views. A husband alone had the privilege of unquestioned comings and goings. A husband's word was law. This is the world the Curtain Club will introduce to you.

A young wife like Arabella Manningham with two servants to look after her house would not be expected — or permitted to find amusements of occupation outside the walls of her home. A young wife like Arabella Manningham who finds her husband behaving strangely, with mysterious "business" calling him each evening, would have no redress, no recourse. Jack Manningham had isolated his wife from relatives, removed her from friends when the young couple moved, on his idea and her money, to the house on Angel street. To that house comes Inspector Rough. He is a perceptive man. He is sympathetic to the young wife. His warm chuckle is a friendly sound to her lonely ears. Inspector Rough sees an attractive, but somewhat pale and sad young woman who watches the gaslight go up and down when her husband is out at night, and who believes she is going out of her mind."

The gas goes down when a taper lights another lamp in the house. There is no other lamp being lit in that house, but the gas goes down. There is a picture off the parlour wall. No one moved it, but it is no longer in its place. There is a terror for the young wife in her own home. Patrick Hamilton has described his play as a thriller. It is.
