Education Night at School

The pupils and teaching staff of Jefferson Public School recently took the Education Week motto, "Education is Everybody's Business", to their hearts, minds and hands, as was witnessed by those parents who attended open house at the school last Thursday night.

The artistic work displayed by all grades was excellent and samples of the Three R's also on display throughout the new and the old school were a further example of the close co-operation between teacher and pupil.

We were most interested in the art work displayed by the juniors in Miss Margaret Cressy's room. The drawings on view there showed a great deal of thought for detail for such youthful artists.

"Across the way" the intermediates, studying under Miss Dora Little, exhibited their penmanship and art work, the former being very neat and tidy and the free-hand drawing very good.

Miss Audrey Leary's classroom as well as part of the hall, was taken up to good advantage with numerous projects done in team work by grades 5 to 8; chief among these perhaps being the story of "Oil" done in poster form and relief work. Other projects were: Textiles, Wood, Sugar and Milk, as well as illustrated posters depicting the proper diet for daily meals.

Parents of the students expressed their gratification in having this opportunity to review their children's work as well as being able to discuss their progress or problems with their teachers. Referring to the overcrowding in the school, which is definitely in the senior rooms where Miss Leary has 48 pupils in four grades in a room built to accommodate 35, Miss Leary said she would keep the four grades complete (rather than sending some over to the old school) as long as possible. However, should there be an influx of new pupils in these grades after the Easter holidays, as there has been in the past years, the picture may have to be changed.

During the evening Mrs. Stanley Leno poured tea in the teacher's room, where refreshments supplied by the school board were served.

Personals
Dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Dick on Sunday were Mr. Dick's mother, Mrs. J. Dick and Mr. and Mrs. Fred White of Vineland, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dick, Erindale, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dick and children from Toronto.

Fifty-five of the 59 school-age children at the Orange Home are taking part in the production of "The Pied Piper" at the Home this Friday night. Guests will make a tour of inspection in the classrooms and throughout the home, as the children and staff observe their own Educational programme.
