King City Notes

Mrs. D. C. Henderson, Hawthorn Hills Farm, King, world traveler and author of the book, "I Live and Move" was the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of King City United Church W.A. on Tuesday evening, March 22.

There were over 50 people present at the meeting, including members from other church societies in King District. Mrs. H. Ratcliff conducted the opening worship service. Plans were made for a Spring Tea and Bake Sale to be held on April 16.

Mrs. Henderson, who had recently returned from New York City gave a historical and geographical sketch of that city in her informal address. She spoke of the tall buildings, the beautiful parks and specifically the United Nations Building, where she attended several sessions.

After the address refreshments convened by Mrs. Aubrey Campbell were served in the Sunday School rooms.

About 25 members of Teston United Church choir attended the annual church dinner party at Ridge Inn on Wednesday evening, March 23.

On Monday evening, March 21, the Young People of King Baptist Church enacted a program from a radio station. On Monday evening April 11 King Baptist Young People will conduct the devotional part of the Aurora First Baptist Young Peoples' meeting. The film showing of Abraham's Faith at 2nd King Baptist Church on March 28 was cancelled because of the snow storms over the week-end.

Club & Scouts
King Cub and Scouts Group Committee made approximately $18 on the recent sale of taffy apples to the schools.

The meeting of the presidents and secretaries of the W.M.S. societies of section 3 at the home of the rural vice-president Mrs. L. Williams, King City, March 28, was cancelled, but will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Williams.

Barbara Billings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Billings, Kingsview subdivision celebrated her eighth birthday March 22. Oak Ridges Resident Carries Mother From Burning Home

Archie Jenkins, 43, kicked his way through a side door of his blazing home at Oak Ridges on Monday morning, carrying his 67-year-old mother in his arms, and fled seconds before flames enveloped their six-room bungalow.

Mrs. Jenkins, who had just taken a sedative because of illness, had asked her son to fix the fire. When he returned from the woodshed, he saw smoke coming from the chimney pipes, and as he ran outside to get water, "the roof went up in nothing flat."

He said a wall of flames kept him from going back in, so he ran for the side door and finding it frozen shut, kicked it in.

He dashed through the smoke and flames, and carried out his mother, who was dressed in pyjamas and a robe.

Strong winds defeated efforts of brigades from Aurora and Richmond Hill to save the home. The fire broke out about 9.30 a.m. Mrs. Jenkins and her son, an employee of Aurora Mills, are staying with neighbors.

Weekend Storm Closed Many Churches In The King City Area

The snowstorm on Saturday, March 26, accompanied by prevailing high winds caused drifts which blocked many highways, side roads and lanes in the King District. Mr. Gregg of the service station at the King Cloverleaf, reported his tow truck was busy, but added that there were no accidents. Highway 400 from Barrie to Maple had just a single lane open. King City Motors reported their tow truck was out continuously from Sunday morning to Monday night.

Church services at Laskay and Teston United churches and at the three Presbyterian churches of Strange, Eversley and West King were cancelled, as were services in the country churches of the Baptist circuit.

Miss Dorothy Armstrong attempted to drive to St. Mary's Anglican Church, Richmond Hill, where she is organist, but had to turn back. As country roads and lanes were still blocked Monday morning children had a holiday in the district rural schools.

Only a few were able to attend the regular services held in All Saints Anglican Church, King City, King City United Church and Bethel Baptist Church. Mr. Gordon Tetley conducted the services at All Saints Anglican Church, King City as Rev. D. C. H. Michell was unable to get through.

Print School Paper To Raise Funds For Jr. Red Cross

Feature articles were edited by Donna Jennings, Joan Hare, Patsy Macklin and Janet Mary Finch.

Carson Bice, senior teacher, stated the paper was entirely the work of the pupils and admitted they hope to publish another paper in the near future. Proceeds are for the Junior Red Cross Fund.

Family Pets Killed

A hit and run driver knocked over and left injured a beautiful Scotch collie and a black cocker spaniel, on the King sideroad early Tuesday evening, March 26.

The two dogs, Bruce and Buttons were the well-loved pets of Mr. and Mrs. James Kerr and their two small daughters, who live at the corner of the 3rd and the CFRB sideroad. Bruce and Buttons, inseparable companions had strayed from their home after 4 p.m. on Tuesday.

Later, passing motorists took the animals from the roadside to Dr. Heder, veterinarian in King, but they were too badly injured to be saved.
