CARS ARE MY LINE
 By Bud Lauria

More drivers would take loving care of their batteries, we think, if they realized what a safety device the battery can be, as well as the reservoir for the car's electrical system.

When your car has stalled in a tight spot you can move it by turning over the engine with the starter motor and slowly slipping into gear. It is not the best thing for the battery, but it can save your life.

Besides this stand-by emergency role, what a job the battery has to shoulder! The average car today has 20 light bulbs, some models have as many as 38, to say nothing of those power-enters, the radio, horn and starter.

Looking after your battery is a simple matter of remembering, and it can double your battery's life. Usually, water needs to be added about once a month, but if the battery needs water too often, then charging is too high. If it's only one cell that constantly needs extra water, a leak is the problem.

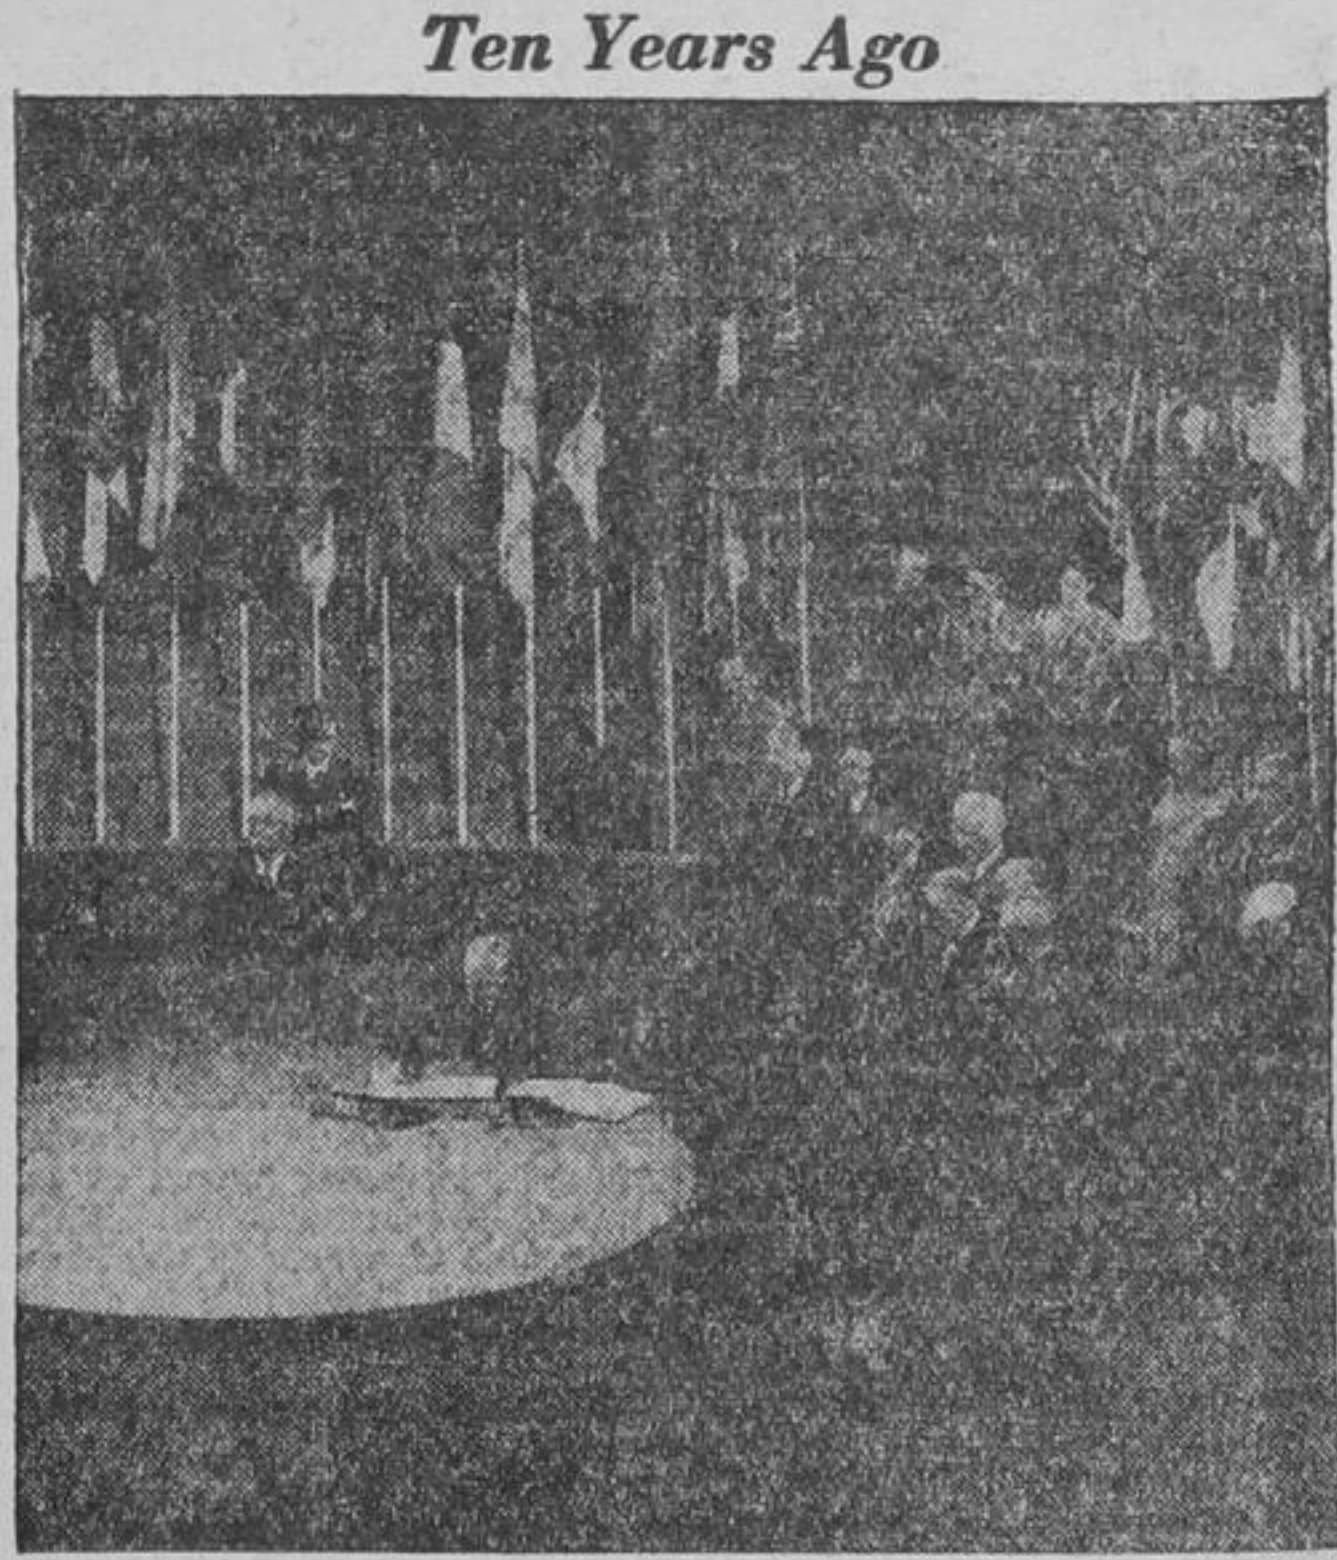

It's usually pretty obvious why a battery runs down; you've been driving only at night, or using the radio and heater too much. But it can come from hidden things, too, like forgetting to use a light enough oil to ease the load in winter starting.

We can tell you in a jiffy the shape your battery is in. And you'll notice the cars on our used car lot start in an instant. The battery is one of the many things we check before any car goes out for sale.

A $42,000 car was once sold for $950, I'll tell you about it next time.

Ten Years Ago
 This historic photograph showing former United States Secretary of State Edward Stettinius signing the Charter of the United Nations in the presence of former President Truman, was taken almost ten years ago—in San Francisco, on 26 June 1945. This coming June, the representatives of the original 51 U.N. Member States—plus nine countries which have since joined—will gather in the San Francisco Opera House, where the Charter was signed, to commemorate the first decade of the existence of the United Nations.

This and That
 The aerial tower on the township offices is to facilitate police car radio communication. Duncan McPherson replaced Mrs. James Powell, whose resignation took effect at Easter, this week at teacher of the senior grades at Buttonville School. Congratulations to Mrs. O. Brook who celebrated a birthday on Monday, April 18. Mrs. Gordon Scott was a guest recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McQuay. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Boyington, who had hoped to move to Queensville early in April are still in the community. Road conditions have been so bad it has been impossible to move. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Robinson are now established in their new home at Thornhill. In our own locality road conditions have been so bad that many people were unable to travel for two or three days last week.

Mrs. P. A. Johns of Yongehurst Rd., returned home on Thursday after spending a week's holiday with her sister, Mrs. Tom Harvey of Stayner, Ont. During her vacation, Mrs. Johns visited Mr. and Mrs. Rawn of the Blue Mountains, Mrs. Foster at Camp Borden, and friends in Collingwood and Barrie, Ont.

 We welcome to our community Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Peters, who moved from Thornhill last Friday to take up residence on Yongehurst Road, in the home recently occupied by Mrs. Harvey and family.
 Mrs. Mary Stankewicz from Rangers, Sask., arrived last Saturday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry Mayer, Yongehurst Road, where she will spend an indefinite holiday.
 Mr. and Mrs. Vic Davenport attended a going-away dance and party at the H.M.C.S. York, on April 16. The celebration was held for the Navy lads leaving for duty very soon, one of them being Roy Scanlan, brother-in-law of Mrs. Davenport.
 Mrs. A. Ryder, who was formerly of Richmond Hill and now of Toronto suffered a heart attack recently, but is much improved and able to be up and around again.

In show business it is always the star who gets the publicity, but there are those unheralded actors who play what is known in the trade as bit parts. These are generally taken by actors still on their way to becoming stars themselves, and Louis Negin (above) is one of these. But life is not dull for these players by any means; Negin, for example, in recent CBC radio and television productions played such diversified roles as a dead man, a snake charmer, an Arabian policeman, an Indian scholar and a moslem priest. The road to stardom isn't easy.
 Cancer Society figures show that 37% of all cancer deaths in females under the age of 75 years are due to cancers in sites where they are readily accessible and respond to treatment. Early detection and adequate treatment can prevent many of these deaths.
