Rev. Chote Speaks On Need For Church In Richvale Area

Rev. Arthur Chote, minister of St. Mary's Anglican Church Richmond Hill, was guest speaker at the general meeting of the association held on Monday April 25 at the school.
Mr. G. Lunan, convener for Religious education introduced the guest speaker.
Rev. Chote spoke on "The need for a Church in the Richvale-Langstaff area. While on a trip to the U. S. A. Rev. Chote had attended the hearings of some juvenile delinquents and told the meeting the authorities young people committing offenses, were from homes of comfortable means rather than from poor families.

He also told of the work he is called on to do in our own area and mentioned, on several occasions where young people had found themselves in trouble of some kind, worried parents had called on him for advice which was gladly given. However, in most cases many had never attended church regularly or sent their children to church or Sunday school.
Churches of other denominations had tried to start Sunday schools in the area, but in most instances had been forced to close down through lack of support. St. Barnabas Mission, he related, was being carried on at a loss and help had been asked repeatedly, but with the exception of a few faithful members none had been forthcoming.

County Jr. Farmers
Livestock Judging

Plans have been laid by the directors of the York County Junior Farmers to hold their annual Livestock Judging Competition on Saturday, May 28, which will be followed by a banquet in the King George Hotel, Newmarket, in the evening.
With separate contests for those under 21 and those 21 to 26, classes of beef and dairy cattle, swine and sheep will be judged on some of the best stock farms and afterwards the boys will give oral reasons to the judges for their placings on each class.
This is one of the oldest Junior Farmer activities and the Junior Farmer Clubs are holding coaching classes not only for their members but also for anyone interested in getting into this project.
Found that a number of these es, were from homes of comfortable means rather than from poor families.

He also told of the work he is called on to do in our own area and mentioned, on several occasions where young people had found themselves in trouble of some kind, worried parents had called on him for advice which was gladly given. However, in most cases many had never attended church regularly or sent their children to church or Sunday school.
Churches of other denominations had tried to start Sunday schools in the area, but in most instances had been forced to close down through lack of support. St. Barnabas Mission, he related, was being carried on at a loss and help had been asked repeatedly, but with the exception of a few faithful members none had been forthcoming.
Sunday school teachers could be brought down from Richmond Hill but it was felt more advisable for the people in this area to run this mission on their own. But the community must show the mother church it is strong enough in numbers to qualify for a church in this area. A strong group must attend the mother church and when big enough break gently away from their own feet. A committee would be appointed on this occasion and a local church started.
Rev. Chote emphasized these were his own views on the matter and the people were perfectly free to agree or disagree with them.
Rev. Chote continued by saying he hoped he had not been too harsh with the meeting. Questions were invited and numerous ones were presented. One being "Should a child be made to go to Sunday School, if he isn't so inclined?" Mr. Chote answered by saying a child is usually made to clean his teeth while still a youngster, they are not left to go rotten till he is old enough to decide for himself. Therefore, he felt the same should apply to the child going to Sunday school. Children need to start Sunday school when they are very young and parents should also bring them to worship and stay with them. At the conclusion of the meeting Mr. Gilmore thanked the Rev. Chote for his excellent talk and the time he had spent with the groups.
A movie was shown in accordance with the subject of the evening.
