A very happy event took place at the home of Mrs. Joseph Steckley on Thursday evening on the occasion of her 90th birthday. About 65 members of her immediate family enjoyed a picnic supper together on the lawn of the farm home where she resides. Among those present were eight of her ten children, Levi, Annie and Clare who live on the home farm; Clarence, Mrs. Alvin Winger, Mrs. Roy Brillinger, all of Gormley; Mrs. Roy Wideman, Unionville, and Walter of Fort Erie, and one daughter, Mrs. George Sheffer of Stayner were unable to be present. Twenty-two of the 35 grandchildren and 19 of the 36 great-grandchildren attended. Mrs. Steckley has been confined to her bed following a stroke three years ago which left her partially paralyzed. She has a keen mind, enjoys reading and visiting. During the evening when the 19 great grandchildren entered her room and sang "Happy Birthday," it was interesting to note that she could call each one by name.

Many friends called throughout the day to offer best wishes. One of these of special interest was Miss Karen Stewart of Ballantrae, nine years of age, who brought a gift for her great-great aunt.

The family presented their mother with an electric oscillating fan which should bring comfort during the heat waves.

Mrs. Allan Pope is spending a week with her mother, Mrs. E. Fennell at Glen Orchard. Miss Helen Schlichter entertained her friends recently on the occasion of her birthday.

Dr. Robert M. Taylor New Director Of Cancer Society

Directors of the National Cancer Society and the Canadian Cancer Institute of Canada have announced the appointment of Dr. Robert M. Taylor of Deep River as executive director of both bodies. He succeeds Dr. O. H. Warwick of Toronto who recently joined the staff of the new Ontario Cancer Institute.

Dr. Taylor, who is a graduate of Toronto University, is a fellow of the Royal College of Physicians of Canada. Until recently he has been director of the medical division of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. in Chalk River.

In announcing Dr. Taylor's appointment, the Cancer Society's national president, R. B. Buckfield of Vancouver, stated - "We selected our man with the greatest care because the director plays a most vital role in the fight against cancer. He helps to co-ordinate the work of the two volunteer organizations - lay and professional - who are leading that fight and he provides valuable advice and guidance."

The Cancer Society, which is made up of thousands of lay volunteers, has division in each of the ten provinces and more than 700 units in local communities. It conducts a programme of lay education and welfare for cancer patients and raises money for this work as well as for vital cancer research. Last year it raised over 2 million dollars.

The National Cancer Institute, which is made up of doctors and research people across Canada, supervises a nation-wide cancer research programme and provides for the training of cancer specialists.
