Wins 33 Ribbons At CNE Show

Edgeley Stock Breeder Saluted At Grandstand For 51 Years In Show Ring

The dairy cattle show at the CNE ended Monday and beef animals were moving into the ring, but the show wasn't over for Alf Bagg of Edgeley.

Mr. Bagg, a CNE exhibitor for 51 years, was chosen Monday as guest of the fair at the evening grandstand show. On Monday night, the man who walked to his first Ex leading cattle for competition, rode to the front of the grandstand in a shiny new car with Ed Sullivan, star of the show.

He was introduced to the crowd that jammed the grandstand, then escorted to a seat to watch the rest of the show.

For Alf Bagg, it was quite a night, but his appearance in front of the grandstand didn't give him more pleasure than the recollection of ribbons tacked up around the stalls where his Jerseys have been on display.

With 25 animals entered in the Jersey Show, Mr. Bagg and Sons received 33 ribbons, together with the Premier Breeders Banner and the Premier Exhibitors Banner.

Included in their winnings were 7 firsts, 12 seconds, 4 thirds, 2 fourths, 3 fifths, 2 sixths, 2 sevenths and 1 eighth.

At a double ring ceremony in Zion Lutheran Church, Sherwood, on Saturday, September 3, Reta Catharine Keffer, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland G. Keffer, Sherwood, and Arthur Edmund Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Moore, Toronto, exchanged wedding vows. Rev. E. J. Fischer officiated at the ceremony against a background of pastel gladioli. Mrs. Charles Grubbe played the wedding music and Mrs. Arnold Peter sang, "O Perfect Love" and the "Wedding Song".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the same wedding dress and veil that her three sisters wore at their own weddings. The white embroidered marquisette gown was fashioned with a gathered scoop neckline trimmed with pearls and the floor length skirt came to a point at the bodice. Her embroidered net fingertip veil was fastened to a small crown made of the same material as the dress and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Allan Orr, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Mrs. Jack McGregor was bridesmaid. They were dressed alike in ballerina length embossed pale green taffeta frocks and their elbow-length gloves and crown headdresses were made of the same material as their dresses. They carried bouquets of yellow and bronze flowers.

Miss Ruthie Bryson, niece of the bride, was flower girl in a long shrimp taffeta gown fashioned with puff sleeves and round neckline with scalloped frill yoke.

Master Ronald Orr, in grey trousers and blue flannel blazer, was ring bearer and the ushers were Pete Turner and Allan Orr.

At the reception held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride's mother received the guests wearing a navy figured crepe dress and lilac pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses circled with gold lace. The groom's mother assisted wearing a navy and peacock blue figured dress, peacock blue accessories and corsage of yellow roses.
