Local Trustees At Convention

Three trustees from Richmond Hill Public School Board, Mrs. Margaret Southwell, Stan Tinker and Cec. Mabley, attended the recent convention of Ontario Public School Trustees Association which was held at the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa.

Five workshops were held for the advantage of conventioners. Mrs. Southwell taking part in "The Teaching of Languages in the Public Schools", Mr. Tinker "The Trustee, The Teacher, The Community" and Mr. Mabley "Problems of Annexation and Relationship of Urban Boards With Adjoining Townships."

In the workshop she attended, Mrs. Southwell stated an interesting discussion was held on the method of teaching English and the inclusion of French in the Public School curriculum. She pointed out that in one of the Ottawa schools, which was represented on a panel discussion by one of its teachers, French is taught from Grade 5 up.

Trustees at the convention were approximately 400 in number and were presented to the Governor-General, Vincent Massey, at Rideau Hall and enjoyed tours of Ottawa City and the Gatineau Hills. Mayor Charlotte Whitton was also a guest speaker at one of the banquets.

As a parting gesture from the Ottawa Public School Board, each trustee was given a gift made by the school children, and which was presented at the closing banquet. The gifts included leather wallets, wooden dishes, book-ends, felt bags, etc., made by the students in their Industrial Arts Classes.

Lion Doings

At their meeting in the Lions Hall on Thursday, October 20, the Lions had as their guests, members of the Richmond Hill Fire Department — to mark the advent of Fire Prevention Week.

Guests included Fire Chief A.F. Stong, Russell Lymer, Geo. Pollard and Fred Bovard. The speaker was Mr. George Alexander, Assistant Chief of Fire Services, Fire Marshall's office.

Mr. Alexander emphasized the need for precautions and thus preventing the considerable loss of property, as well as loss of life, which has occurred during the past few years. Some of Mr. Alexander's "Don'ts" should be repeated:

1. Don't use gasoline for cleaning purposes — one gallon of gas is equal to 90 pounds of dynamite.
2. Don't smoke in bed — "Chaperone your butts — don't let them go out alone."
3. Don't leave rags for waxing floors in a can of wax.
4. Don't use fuse larger than 15 amp. in your fire box for lighting circuit.
5. Don't use other than flame proof paper for Christmas decorations.
6. Don't neglect cleaning out your chimney — especially if you have an oil furnace.
7. Don't allow children to play with matches.

Suggestions: Use pen-light flashlights instead of candles at a candle-light service. Bicarbonate of soda is a good fire extinguisher for a kitchen fire.

When staying overnight in an hotel, be sure your transom is closed. Hook your hose to a water tap in the cellar during the winter — to use as an extinguisher in case of fire.

Curtain Club Cast Has Wide Stage Training

The Curtain Club of Richmond Hill has been fortunate in securing a number of experienced actors for its presentation of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back", early in November. Ivor Jackson, who plays the Stranger, has acted in and directed plays with "St. John's Players" in St. John's Newfoundland. He worked with YMCA concert parties taking plays to service camps during the war and spent the season of 1948 with the "Stage Society", Ottawa. After moving to Toronto he studied under the Sternad Bennetts and last year appeared in five of their productions with the Proscenium Players.

Elizabeth Jackson of Thornhill studied at the University of British Columbia Drama School, also the Cornish School of Fine Arts, Seattle. She has also acted with the Vancouver Little Theatre, University of British Columbia Alumni Players, North York Little Theatre and the Footlights of Thornhill. One of the highlights of her career came when she was asked to play "Desdemona" in "Othello", under Robert Gill's direction at the University of British Columbia Drama School.

Edith Jones, also of Thornhill has played roles with the University of Manitoba Dramatic Society (Winnipeg), and acted for two summer seasons with the Jack Blacklock players at Midland. She has played "Queen Elizabeth" in "Will Shakespeare", Lorraine Sheldon in "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and last year was "Penelope" in the Footlights Club production of "See How They Run," at Thornhill.

Cicely Thomson of Richmond Hill has acted with the University Alumni Players at Hart House for several seasons and recently appeared in their presentation of Gigi. Stuart Parker has appeared in several productions at the University of Toronto. Both Mrs. Thomson and Mr. Parker will be recalled for their polished performances in the Curtain Club's production of "Rebecca" last year.
