"Where Is Junior Heading?" Interesting H & S Discussion

"Where Is Junior Heading?" was the topic chosen by P. Hugh-ey, Parent Education convener of Oak Ridges Home and School Association for the meeting held Tues., Nov. 22. A large attendance of parents learned a great deal of what Grade 8 Public School students expect in High School and also some decisions which have to be made by young people at present attending the upper school.

Dr. Emerson, president, introduced W. Jeans, principal of Oak Ridges Public School, who gave a short instructive talk on study methods. He asked that parents be more patient and understanding with the smaller children, when they come for help and information regarding their studies. A method of study now in use is that referred to as the P. QR2T method, in which a child scans his material for a preview, looking for questions that he could ask, reading to find the answer, then stating what has been learned before he is tested to find what has been remembered.

Mr. Jeans stated that most parents are too busy to do homework for their children but should be ready to give help when possible and be patient while the child tries to acquire his knowledge.

Mr. Jeans then introduced Pat Smith and Michael Troyer, students from grade 8. They were asked if they had any ideas about the future. Both students replied that they wished to complete High School and go into professional courses. Both felt that along with studying necessary subjects, High School years should give an understanding of social life.

With so many extra community activities in the form of societies and sports, every facet of life will have an opportunity to be developed.

Dr. Emerson called on Miss Katherine Gunn and Miss Bonnie McEachen, students of Aurora High School and asked them to outline some of their problems at school and the assistance that is available.

Both girls felt they did not have such definite goals in mind as Pat and Michael, perhaps due to more education and the knowledge of wider scopes open to young people of today. Katharine and Bonnie intend to complete High School and continue with a University education.

It was pointed out that courses at High School need not be decided during the first year, but with the assistance of the vocational guidance teachers each pupil has an opportunity to determine what courses are needed for different positions and when these courses should be taken.

Two local High School graduates Mrs. Norma McEachen and Richard Bull were also present. Mrs. McEachen felt that the time she had spent at school had fitted her for a fuller and more organized life. She had taken an active part in extra community activities while keeping up with her studies and felt she had gained definite leadership qualities preparing herself for parenthood and a position in community life.

Mr. Bull finished High School and continued his education at Ontario Agricultural College before returning to Oak Ridges to open his own business.

Mr. Knowles, principal of the Aurora High School, was present and summarized the remarks of the young people.

Mrs. B. Kays, executive member of York-Simcoe Home and School Council was present and explained that the Canadian Federation was sponsoring a Leadership course for all interested members.

The class prize and banner for attendance were won by Miss Hunt's class.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. H. Knucky and her social committee.

Eversley Socials

"That those who expend their charity on remote interests to the neglect of their family and community are said to hang a lantern on a pole which is seen afar off but gives no light below," quoted Mrs. J. E. C. Shepherd, wife of the Presbyterian minister, as she officially opened the Eversley Presbyterian Church W.A. bazaar Nov. 25. Mrs. Shepherd went on to speak of the work a bazaar entailed and how the money realized was for a useful purpose in the church.
