Edgeley Forum Says —

One Main Disadvantage To The Workman's Compensation

The question of whether Workmen's Compensation is useful to farmers, and the advantages and disadvantages in the application of Workmen's Compensation to farmers and farm workers were answered last Monday night when Edgeley forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Spencer. Forum members agreed that Workmen's Compensation should be used by farmers. They indicated the advantages were that the compensation covers financial risks involved resulting from farm accidents; a farmer under Workmen's Compensation cannot be sued by an injured worker; in case of injury Workmen's Compensation pays all costs of medical aid for the injured farmer as long as it is necessary, plus 75 per cent of his wages as long as he is disabled. It also eliminates what could be an embarrassing situation for many farmers, in that they could not pay the charges and expenses of an accident to their workmen. One Disadvantage The only disadvantage forum members found in the present set up of Workmen's Compensation is that it does not give the farmer protection at all times, only while at work, and he must therefore to carry other insurance if he wishes to be fully protected.

For one young lady, for one year . . .

Even this picture doesn't show all the children's clothes you have to buy. And then there are things like birthdays, and bicycles, and the dentist . . . It's no picnic, handling the purse-strings for a growing family. But it's a lot easier if you can just keep ahead of your shopping list, instead of behind it. And the practical way to do that is to deposit a regular amount, each month, in a Royal Bank savings account. As your savings build up you can go ahead and buy things as you need them . . . pay cash if you want . . . pick up bargains, too. You can get started, at any branch of the Royal Bank.
