The May meeting of the 1st Langstaff Mothers' Auxiliary will be held at the home of Mrs. Patterson, Westwood Lane, on Wednesday, May 21. Members will find this a very entertaining meeting as a Scout Patrol will give interesting facts and demonstrations on Scouting. It will also be election night so a good turnout is encouraged.

The Teens Group of the Langstaff Baptist Church will be meeting at the church at 6:30 p. m. this Friday evening and will go to the home of Ellwood Caines, 318 Drury Avenue, Willowdale, for their regular meeting.

The pre-school registration of kindergarten and grade 1 pupils will be held at Langstaff on Friday, May 23. Those whose surnames come in A-M are requested to come from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m., and those of N-Z from 1:30 to 3 p. m. This schedule has been arranged with the York County Health Unit and the nurses will wish to obtain as much information as possible for the children's health records.

The Area Safety Committee sponsors a Safety Poster Competition annually in the area. Two students from Langstaff, Jill Anderson and Barbara White received honorable mention and are to be congratulated for a fine job done.

Several shrubs have been received from parents to help complete the landscaping of the grounds, and these are very much appreciated.

Mr. Hare and Miss Galowski are to be thanked for their work with the baseball teams. The Senior girls lost to Thornhill girls 13 to 8.

A service is being planned to observe Commonwealth Day and both juniors and seniors are preparing songs and speeches befitting the occasion.

Spring Concert
Pupils of Henderson Avenue Public School staged their annual spring concert in the school auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, May 7 and 8. The auditorium was crowded to the full with appreciative parents for both performances.

Grade I pupils opened the program with selections by the Rhythm Band, and with an amusing play based on the old first reader story of the "Little Red Hen."

Pupils of Miss Hunter and Miss O'Neill then took the stage, to sing a pleasant group of spring songs. And they were followed by pupils of Miss Cowden and Miss Fowler, displaying their talents in a set of four exuberant dances.

One of the longer offerings of the evening was the play "Jack and the Beanstalk," staged by pupils of Mrs. McDonald and Miss Brown, with a most imposing giant, and an enterprising Jack running off with the hen that laid the golden eggs.

Several pupils from Grades VII and VIII put on an amusing puppet show, under the direction of Mrs. Rae. The boys and girls made their own puppets, constructed the back-drop, and even wrote the script themselves.

The final half hour of a full and entertaining evening was taken up by a selection of songs by Stephen Foster, sung by pupils of Mrs. O'Beirn and Mr. Laycock, and set in the framework of an episode from the life of the songwriter.

Intermission on Wednesday night was taken up with the formal installation of the new executive officers of the Henderson Avenue Home and School Association; and on Thursday, young Teddy Andree brilliantly filled the gap with several piano solos.

It was noted that, contrary to the usual custom at affairs of this kind, the teachers who had carried such a major share of the work involved were not presented to the audience at the close of the entertainment. This, we understand, was due solely to the modesty of the teachers; Principal Allan Martindale did his best to persuade them, but they declined the honour.
