Roy Judge President Crosby Home & School

The latest home and school association was formed in Richmond Hill on Thursday night of last week when about 60 parents in the new Crosby Heights Public School district, despite the heat of a torrid July day, turned out for an organizational meeting called by Mr. Roy Judge in St. Matthew's United Church on Crosby Avenue.

Mr. E. Gooding, principal of the new school, spoke to the group of parents outlining temporary plans for housing the 300 children on the rolls for the fall term, explaining just how and where the various classes would be accommodated until the new school is opened, possibly by Thanksgiving time. Children of kindergarten age will attend school in St. Matthew's United Church.

Mr. Gooding told the parents present that the prime requisite for a successful home and school association was the interest of the parents, "and the fact that you have chosen to come out tonight testifies to your zeal," he said.

Mr. Gooding, who comes to Crosby Heights School from the MacKillop School where they have an excellent association, said a home and school is very important because it brings the parents into the school to see some of the things principal and staff try to do for pupils and parents through school activities. In order to carry out the affiliation of teachers and parents to the fullest, one or two teachers and the principal serve on the home and school board, he continued.

Following Mr. Gooding's address he introduced Mrs. Crown, a vice-president of the Metro Home and School Association from Scarborough who is an organizer for the home and school association.

Mrs. Crown informed the group of parents that they lived in the area of York Central and that for the successful organizing of a local association at Crosby School they must learn the following facts and accept them as part of their constitution.

Policy. "We do not endorse any commercial products," Mrs. Crown emphasized, "We are non-partisan, anyone, regardless of race or creed may belong; we are non-political, in matters of politics home and school associations may have all party members speak at a meeting, but they must not single out individuals to do so. This policy is the same throughout our organization," she told her listeners.

The organization is made up as follows, the speaker continued, York Central Area, of which Richmond Hill is a part; York-Simcoe Council; the local association; and the provincial organization. There are 43 councils in the Province of Ontario, and the provincial organization has 12 vice-presidents, of which Mrs. Crown is one.

"At our provincial level we are a policy making group," Mrs. Crown said, "council is not. We interpret your wishes to the executive committee in the provincial group. The provincial group is more or less the extension of the constitution for the home and school."

National Level
The home and school as a whole is an educative program, combining school and the health and welfare of children as its chief aims. Money making events are not the general rule of the association since it is not deemed the aim of the organization to spend too much time this way, but usually one money-raising event yearly is required for fund purposes in a local association. Twenty cents of the individual membership fee charged is forwarded to the Ontario Federation and those who join as members at an organizational meeting become Charter Members.

Form Crosby H & S
At the request of chairman Roy Judge, Mrs. Crown then organized the latest local association with the following slate of members elected by the group: President Roy Judge, Vice-Presidents Mrs. Phyllis Prosser and Mrs. Iris Wright, Recording Secretary Mrs. Mary Colvin, Treasurer Mrs. Button, and Executive members, Mr. Jim Simmons, Mrs. Edith Lynch, Mr. Everett Baker, Mr. Gray, Mr. Reid and Mr. Campbell.

First business of the new association was the passing of several bylaws, the first the setting of the annual fee at 75c per person per year; secondly, a bylaw to set the meeting night for the fourth Thursday in the month, commencing in September, and a bylaw to set the limit of expenditure at $25.00 so that the executive would not have to ask permission up to this amount. The executive members then gathered at the front of the church hall and with Mrs. Crown reading their charter to them they all solemnly pledged to work for the home and school as a dedicated group. Mrs. Crown then presented President Judge with a gavel and congratulated the parents on their decision to organize their home and school association, after which she closed the meeting with the home and school prayer.

Don Head Southdown Sale Televised On Sunday

A field on which 92 yearling Jersey heifers were pasturing, made a unique and a very impressive sight for visitors at Don Head Farms earlier this year. These heifers are part of the changing picture at Don Head Farms, following dispersal of the Angus and Southdowns.

The sale of the well-known herd of Aberdeen Angus took place in June, with a $3,600.00 top, and an overall average of $863.44. The top bull was purchased by a Texan breeder, and the top female went to Pennsylvania. However the "her senior herd sire, and the second high female, remained in Ontario.

The Don Head Southdown flock was considered the top of its breed in North America, and breeders from coast to coast attended the dispersal sale on July 14th. Actual buyers represented 21 states in the U.S., four Canadian provinces, and Mexico. The event will be televised on CBC "Country Calendar" next Sunday, August 3rd, at 4 p.m. Several records were broken. The top was $2,000.00, paid by a California breeder for a two-year-old ram who had won at the Chicago International, and was Supreme Champion at the Royal Winter Fair. The same breeder also purchased the top ewe, and California breeders purchased more animals than any other state. The senior stud ram, eight years old, went to Virginia at $1,275.00. The 336 head were all sold individually by a staff of over 30 helpers, including 3 auctioneers, which were kept busy without interruption from 11 a.m. till about 7.30 p.m.

Plans are now underway for increasing the Jersey herd. However, even before this began, the average production per cow was already rising. In the first 6 months of 1958, with an average of 138 cows milking, a total of 687,383 lbs. milk were sold, an increase of 13.5% over the previous year, which already had set a record at Don Head Farms.

Marriage
BOWES-WRIGHT: On Saturday, July 19, 1958, by the Rev. Gardner of Canton, Vera Victoria Wright, daughter of Mrs. and the late William Wright, Campbellford, to Ralph Anthony Bowes, Richmond Hill, son of Mrs. Bowes and the late Emanuel Bowes. c15

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dolan, Baker Avenue have just returned from an enjoyable holiday trip to the Pacific Coast. While in Vancouver, they met a number of friends and renewed acquaintance with a former resident of Richmond Hill, Miss Margaret Lynett. They also were able to secure a close-up view of Princess Margaret, who passed in a car. Mr. Dolan states that the pitifully low crops on the prairies is tragic evidence of the lack of rain in those areas. Mr. and Mrs. Dolan travelled by train—via C.P.R. on the outward journey and C.N.R. for the return—stopping off at Banff, and also at Mount Robson.

Embarking on the first step in his chosen naval career, Charles (Chuck) Armstrong left for Cornwallis, Nova Scotia last Sunday to commence his seven year naval apprentice course. Charles, who is now 17 and the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Armstrong, Bridgeport Street. The best wishes for his success undoubtedly go along with Charles from his high school and other friends.

At Richmond Hill Presbyterian Church, on Sunday, July 27, John Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gray, Richvale, received the Sacrament of Baptism. He was also presented with a Bible from the Sunday School.

"Service to shut-ins" is the new service provided by the Richmond Hill Public Library, just announced by Chief Librarian, Mrs. Irma Kadela. This should indeed prove a boon to those people who are confined to their homes due to ill health or disablement. Assistance is given in the selection of suitable books, magazines and reading matter. Further information on this new service may be obtained by telephoning the Public Library at TU. 4-3563.

Cecilia Anderson has returned from a three weeks course in French conversation and literature at the Laval University in Quebec City. She was the first recipient of the new French Oral Scholarship to be given annually by Hollis Bigelow of Richmond Hill. To a Grade XII student of R.H. High School excelling in French. It being the 35th anniversary of the founding of Quebec City by Champlain, there were many celebrations. The City of Quebec held a reception in the Laval Gardens and a reception at the Chateau Frontenac was given by the Quebec Government for Laval Students Excursions were made to Ste. Anne de Beaupre and Sillery. Classes included the study of grammar, literature of the 17th century, conversation and "Explication des textes" — (analysis of the French novel). Miss Anderson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Benson Anderson, of Centre St. W., Richmond Hill.

The 1st Beverley Acres Sher-Khan Pack held a successful two-day camp period last week at Ox-trail Camp, situated in the picturesque Hockley Valley. Twenty Cubs—under the leadership of Akela Harry Whitaker, Baloo E. Miller, and Bagheera Elizabeth Johnson—enjoyed a programme of swimming, instructive games, baseball, soccer, and also providing opportunities for passing tests in cubbing.

A chartered bus provided the necessary transportation—also giving the Cubs a chance to practice their singing for the council fire—which was the highlight of the outing. The group was honored with the presence of Mrs. Swabey and her two nieces at the council fire, who joined the Cubs in singing, roasting wieners and marshmallows.

The meals—probably unexcelled at any cub camp—were most deliciously prepared by Mrs. B. Griffin, Mrs. J. McAlister, and Miss M. Roberts, who were capably assisted by fireman and water carrier Mr. J. McAlister. Words cannot express the appreciation of the leaders and the boys to the aforementioned, and to all who made the outing such a success.

"Richmond Hill Roses for Royalty" again displayed their beauty when a bouquet of locally grown roses were placed in Princess Margaret's private car, following her arrival at Malton Airport, Wednesday. This colorful floral tribute featured four varieties of roses—the brilliant yellow "Golden Sceptre", "Pink Sensation", "Happiness" and the latest development of H. J. Mills Ltd., the Chinese red "Baccara". John Elford, Toronto florist and distributor for H. J. Mills Ltd. handled the presentation arrangements.

Miss Margaret Fockler, a teacher at MacKillop Public School, leaves this week for Japan to attend the World Convention on Christian Education. As a delegate from the Toronto Conference of the United Church of Canada, Miss Fockler will fly from Edmonton to Tokyo with a group of delegates representing the various churches in Canada.

Over one hundred Canadians will attend the conference with representatives of seventy-two countries. On the return trip, Miss Fockler plans to spend some time in Honolulu. c15
