"Tom" Hitchman Dies At Ottawa

The sympathy of the community is extended to Norman Hitchman, Oak Ridges, with the loss of his brother R. G. T. (Tom) Hitchman at Ottawa last week.

A pioneer in Canadian livestock organization, Mr. Hitchman died in his sleep at his home, 98 Glen Avenue, Ottawa.

Born in England in 1884, the late Mr. Hitchman was educated there and came to Ottawa in 1905 to help organize the Canadian National Livestock Records. For many years he was assistant director of the organization, which issues pedigree certificates for almost every breed of stock, and became the director of the C.N.L.R. in 1935, retiring in 1953.

Mr. Hitchman was also secretary of many breed organizations, and was a familiar figure at fairs and livestock meetings across Canada.

In 1935 he was made president of the Ottawa Winter Fair, and continued in this post for several years before becoming honorary president. He was also a former president and vice-president of the Central Canada Exhibition, a former director of the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto and an honorary director of the Calgary Stampede.

An Anglican, he was a former member of the Royal Order of Foresters and the Royal Arcanum. He was married in Ottawa in 1908 to the former Daisy Wright, who died two years ago.

Surviving are three sons, Major Robert Hitchman, British Columbia, Jack of Port Arthur and Norman, of Washington; three brothers, Arthur and Walter of Toronto and Norman of Oak Ridges; a sister, Mrs. Florence London, Toronto and seven grandchildren.

The funeral took place last Friday with interment in Beechwood Cemetery.

SCARBORO : Scarborough Township Council voted four to one in opposition to the Bloor-Danforth-University Avenue Subway. It would be paid for at the expense of their school and services projects.

Wear light, porous clothing.

Remain where there is a circulation of air, if possible. Electric fan may be used to create a breeze.
Avoid undue physical exertion.

Drink adequate amounts of cool water (not iced). The body is cooled by perspiration but the fluid lost must be replaced by a large intake of water.

Observe healthful living habits - sufficient sleep, frequent baths, well-selected and usually light foods, regular and thorough elimination.
