Launch Building Fund Campaign For Retarded School Near R. Hill

Plans to build a retarded children's school in the southern portion of York County were revealed this week with the announcement of a building campaign.

Donald M. Deacon of Glenburn Farms, Unionville has been named chairman of the local campaign committee. Present plans call for a preliminary educational campaign among the residents of this area on the growing need for adequate facilities to look after the increasing number of retarded children in this area.

At the present time the only place to train retarded children is the Thornhaven School on Bayview Avenue south of No. 7 Highway. The Thornhaven school was started in September, 1955 when the old Thornlea school house was turned over to the Thornhill Association for Retarded Children. Since that time the facilities of the school have not been sufficient for the increasing number of people in this area.

It is proposed that the school serve the district encompassed by Stouffville, Markham, Thornhill, Willowdale, Richmond Hill, Maple King and Oak Ridges. The association felt that Richmond Hill would provide a more central point than Thornhill to facilitate the transporting of students to the school.

The local building campaign will begin the first week in December following Retarded Children's Week which will be held November 16th to November 27th.

The campaign steering committee is composed of Mr. D. M. Deacon, Unionville, Campaign Chairman; Mr. A. R. Midhell, Richmond Hill, Local Proposals Chairman; Mr. H. C. Rogers, Thornhill, Local Resources Chairman; Mr. John Graham, Richmond Hill, Local Public Information Chairman.

Town Represented Official Opening Cancer Hospital

The Princess Margaret Hospital was officially opened on Thursday last by the Lieutenant-Governor, Keller Mackay. Several hundred guests watched the opening ceremonies of the new cancer treatment and research centre. Chairs were placed in the front courtyard facing Sherbourne Street and a choir of Wellesley Hospital nurses sang from a balcony above the platform where the dignitaries were seated.

Mr. W. McCutcheon, chairman of the Ontario Cancer Institute and the Princess Margaret Hospital, opened the ceremonies. Jas. C. Cardinal McGuigan spoke the invocation. In Premier Leslie Frost's address he said that the people of Ontario had invested $10,000,000 in the hospital, and that it was entirely paid for out of funds set aside yearly from ordinary provincial revenues. The following telegram from Princess Margaret was read, "Would you please convey my very best wishes to everybody connected with the hospital for success at the great work in which they will be engaged." The Premier said the Ontario government would continue to pay for additional equipment and research salaries. He suggested that the cancer society and other interested agencies might, as part of their work consider endowments. Large endowments to encourage this type of work. Scientists should be encouraged to pursue an investigation what may appear to be unusual and unthought-of lines. The hospital came into being as a result of the work of the Ontario Cancer and Research Foundation.

Rt. Rev. F. H. Wilkinson gave the dedication, after which the guests were taken in groups of 20 on a tour of the hospital. In each of the labs, the workings of the intricate machines were explained and demonstrated by the technicians in charge. The patients' rooms are the last word in modern comfort and efficiency. After the tour the guests were served tea by the staff volunteer workers, dressed in their gay yellow smocks. Guests present from the Richmond Hill Branch included Mrs. G. Purves and Mrs. H. H. MacKay, Mrs. Minn, Mrs. Farr and Mrs. Henderson from Woodbridge.
