Jaycees Of The Month Receive Presentations

At the head table sat five Jaycees of the month, when the Richmond Hill Jaycees had their dinner meeting on January 15th. It was membership participation night and External Vice-president Ralph Markham was chairman.

Dinner started at 7:15 with grace and the toast to the Queen, followed by the Jaycee creed. Internal Vice-president Murray McLeod came to the front to make two presentations, a Jaycee of the Month pencil to Stan Troyer for the month of November and to John Hogarth for December. In addition to these two at the head table were the following Jaycees of the month: Colin Burgess for August, Peter Pfennig for September, and Howard Jack for October.

Cec Williams acted as finesse master for the meeting. When anyone was fined and got up to plead his case, Cec just turned off his hearing aid, and as a result, numerous fines were collected. One in particular is noteworthy. Present at the dinner were four guests from the Richmond Hill Police Boys' Band. These were, Chief Constable Robbins, Jack Williams, Constable Green and Constable Cider. Colin Burgess rose and called the attention of the fines master to the fact that he had always wanted to fine a constable so he fined the Chief Constable on 'general principles.' Robbie pleaded his case but was found "guilty" and the fine was collected.

The four leaders of the Richmond Hill Boys' Band, particularly the vice-president, Jack Williams, spoke on their need for money. They were well received and Roger Scarf expressed the Jaycees' thanks and that consideration would be given.

Three more presentations were made (special awards) - Bob Frater for his outstanding job on the V.O.N. campaign, Hal Barnett for outstanding work on the Christmas lighting campaign, and Colin Burgess for his fine job of chairing the anniversary dinner.

There were several announcements. Two coming events were stressed, (the convention in Sault Ste. Marie and the ice fishing trip) and the proposed Richmond Hill convention was shown. A film made by the National Film Board, on Parliamentary Procedure was shown, and as it was now quite late the chairman asked if they wanted to adjourn for the effective speaking course. As it was the wish of those present to leave the effective speaking course the next dinner meeting the meeting was adjourned at 10:15 p.m.
