Light Turnout

Strong Majority Votes Approval King Library

A vote which surprised many residents by its numbers — 114 to 1 — assures King City its 12-year-old association library will become a public library without delay.

Of a possible 658 on the voting list, 122 village ratepayers cast ballots last Saturday in King Memorial Library, the great majority registering "yes" to the question, "Are you in favor of establishing a public library in King City?"

It was found 7 of the ballots were spoiled some by being marked with a check instead of X, a few marked with ink, and 2 or 3 in error were two ballots sticking together so that the returning officer's initials were not on the paper marked by the voter.

Next step is for King Township Council to pass a bylaw authorizing the public library, which it is expected to approve right away.

Village Trustees, in the process of making out this year's budget, is taking into consideration an amount based on 50 cents per person in the village, the individual tax to vary according to assessment.

King's Memorial Library building on Springhill Road and contents, insured for $10,000 and its 3,850 books become village assets. The voluntary staff of eight librarians, on duty Wednesday afternoons and evenings and Friday afternoons, have agreed to give their services under the new library set-up.

Mrs. Harold Ratcliff, Mrs. John L. Grew, Mr. Raymond Burt and Mr. William Heaslip staffed the poll.

King City Notes

Hearts and Flowers

With St. Valentine's Day at hand, this seems an appropriate time to repeat the richest sentiment we ever heard from a middle-aged, well-weathered Irish reporter.

He was talking about his dear mate of many years, showing great concern over her progress in hospital, which was much too slow to his way of thinking. In his exasperation he blurted out fiercely to sympathetic reporters, "Why, I love her dear shadow on the wall!"

Bad Luck With Puck

Youthful hockey enthusiast, seven-year-old Bobby Clubine, received a gash over one eye, which required five stitches to close, during a recess game at King City School rink last week. Principal Carson Bice notified Bobby's mother, Mrs. Bill Clubine, of the mishap and they saw that he had immediate attention in Dr. Quentin Hardy's office.

Such accidents on school property are covered by insurance authorized by the School Board.

Weekend Visitor

Miss Sheila Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Bell, came down by train from Lefroy last weekend to be with girl-friends and go skating at Nobleton rink.

Variety Night

Mr. Howard Clegg and Mr. Harry Goulding were inducted as new members by past president Mr. George Harvey at the "Variety Night" program of King City Lions Club in the United Church hall.

Following supper served by the church ladies, Lions viewed films on skiing and the role of the immigrant in Canada. Tailwisters Stan Roots and Jos. Houlton arranged the entertainment.

Winter Birds

The feeding station outside Mr. George Gould's classroom at King City School is attracting its share of colorful bluejays and cardinals.

Day of Prayer

Not only organizations, but any interested woman is invited to attend tomorrow afternoon's service, starting at 2:30, in King City United Church, marking the World Day of Prayer.

Mrs. Irving L. Scott, new chairman of King City W.M.S., will preside and the speaker will be Rev. Gordon Winch of St. Paul's Church, Oak Ridges. Mrs. Harry Gilbert will be soloist.

Pancake Supper

Mrs. A. E. Jarvis again convened the annual Pancake Supper held Tuesday evening in All Saints' Parish Hall by the Afternoon Branch, W.A.

Check Parking

Township Constable Harold Russell is getting in a supply of parking tickets and the "No Parking" signs along King St. at the post office corner will mean exactly what they say.

Parking fines likely will be a dollar, with a higher amount set if a summons has to be issued.

King Township Council was recently asked by Village Trustees to consider enforcing existing parking restrictions on King St. and to provide for additional restriction on Hoop St.

J. D. Lucas, Q.C., has been asked by Township to prepare the necessary by-law prohibiting parking on the short street beside the supermarket so residents won't have so much difficulty moving along Hoop St.

Visits Sister

Mr. Jack Clift of William St. is recovering sufficiently. He is able to spend a few days with his sister, Mrs. Gilbert Hofland, of Newmarket.

Gather Rummage

Guides' and Brownies' Mothers' Auxiliary will soon be making plans to collect clothing for their rummage sale to be held at the Hall, Annette and Keele Sts., on May 9.

Anniversary

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Will Carson of South Keele St. who celebrated their 56th wedding anniversary on Tuesday.

Birthday Dinner

A family dinner and candle-lit cake helped Mr. James Patton celebrate his 88th birthday last week. Mr. Patton was born in King City and has lived in the district all his life. Several of his friends dropped in to wish him a happy day.

The dinner party included Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Patton of Toronto with their three children, Robert, Alan and Elaine; Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Patton of King City with Barbara and Larry; Mr. Andrew McClure, Miss Elsie Huntley of Queensville and Miss Hilda and Miss Audrey Patton.

Mr. Patton keeps in good health and blew out all the candles on his cake without any assistance. Friends sent numerous greeting cards.

Before he retired Mr. Patton was a butcher and drover. Before the Ross Walkers, he owned the farm a block south of his King St. house, which now forms part of Valentine Acres.

Besides two sons, Elwood and Ewart, he has a daughter, Arne, now Mrs. James Nield of Toronto, and a son, Will, of Tulsa, Oklahoma. He has nine grandchildren, three in Toronto and six from King City. A brother, Matt, lives in Elgin Mills, and a sister, Sarah, Mrs. Dick Badger, is in Toronto. Mrs. Badger celebrates her birthday December 21, which was the same day Mr. Patton married.

Poetic Tribute

Warm tribute to the late Dr. Archibald Wallace, editor of the United Church "Onward" for over 25 years, is found in a January issue in the form of an expressive poem, contributed by Rev. Martin Jenkinson of King City.

Valentine Euchre

Hospitalized

Friends wish a steady recovery for Mrs. Frank Powell, Dew St., after her operation in York County Hospital, Newmarket.

Kingcrafts

As illustrations she showed a skirt with original design, a print based on milkweed pods, a scarf and table mats. The supervisor of C.N.E. handicraft exhibits defined which designs are limited and unlimited, and stressed, "Designing of water colors, leathercrafts and textiles must have rhythm."

The February general meeting will be addressed by Mrs. Margaret Dove on garden. The open evening as guest speaker Dr. Ross Lord, chairman of Metropolitan Conservation Authority. The Art Group announced plans for an exhibition and sale on Saturday, April 11. A plant sale is being arranged for May.

A review of membership disclosed 123 active paid-up members and 66 associate members. With Mrs. Blair Burrows in charge, the hooking group served refreshments.

Lenten Services

Special Lenten services are being held by Rev. Dr. Bruce Jennings Wednesday evenings at eight o'clock to continue throughout Lent at All Saints' Church. Slides will be shown on church history.

Confirmation

Confirmation preparation classes are to be held in All Saints' Anglican Church, beginning this Sunday, February 15 at four p.m.

Obituary

A Laskay resident most of his life, William George Ham died in York County Hospital February 3 after a stroke. In his 77th year, Mr. Ham was invalided at home the last five years, never fully recovering after breaking his hip in a fall at work in Weston.

As a custom thresher, the popular "Billy" Ham used to undertake work on farms in the large territory from King Township's Second Concession, over to the Tenth. When more and more of the farms were bought as private estates, he gave up threshing to maintain machinery at Mofat's in Weston.

Born in Teston, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ham, he attended school in Maple when the family moved there. One of his boxing relaxations was attending boxing and wrestling bouts in Toronto.

At the Thompson Funeral Home in Aurora, Rev. Martin Jenkinson conducted the service. Burial was in King City Cemetery, the pallbearers being longtime friends, Mr. Norman Bryson, Mr. Norman MacMurchy, Mr. Ken MacTaggart, Mr. Wilbert Burns, Mr. Charles Black and Mr. Norbert Moriarty of Bradford.

Mr. Ham is survived by his wife, the former Mary Rourke and three sons, Charles (Bud) of King City, William at home, and Kenneth of Richmond Hill.

Laskay Socials

Mrs. Marvin Hunter convened the February meeting of Laskay W.M.S. at the United Church. Mrs. Effie Bath was in the chair for devotions, explaining the Scripture lesson from the Book of Jonah read by Mrs. J. Hunter.

Miss Helen Hunter sang, "The Heart of God." Laskay W.M.S. was invited to join with the King City group for the World Day of Prayer service February 13.

Mrs. Glen Dooks, Missionary Monthly secretary, presented an outline of the February issue, urging members to read it. Her talk was completed by a recipe for a missionary meeting.

Mrs. Earl Scott, delegate to York Presbyterian annual meeting, reported on the morning and afternoon sessions and Mrs. Martin Jenkinson reviewed the evening period. Others attending the meeting in Richmond Hill were Mrs. Jesse Bryson, Mrs. William Bryson and Miss Marjorie McMurchy.

Mrs. Jesse Bryson tested members with a jumbled name quiz of Canadian centers where there were homes for senior citizens. Lunch was served by Mrs. Martin Hunter, Mrs. Effie Bath, Mrs. Jesse Bryson and Mrs. James Hunter. Christian Citizenship will be the theme of the March 4 meeting.
