

HAVE YOU HEARD THIS ONE?

Two mental patients at a rest home were exchanging experiences: "When I go to bed at night I see pink and purple lights in front of my eyes."
 Second Patient: "Did you ever see a psychiatrist?"
 First Patient: "No, only pink and purple lights."
 Hope that one gave you as big a yak as it gave me. But if you're seeing colored spots before your eyes when you go over your clothes these days . . . then it's time to gather them all together and get them to us. We'll return your garments in no time—fresh, spotless, looking like new.

Maple And District Mourns Death Of Rev. C. H. Bowman In 74th Year

Maple and district was plunged into sadness to learn of the passing of Rev. Charles Henry Bowman on Monday, February 23, 1959, at Niagara Falls, Ontario. Rev. Bowman had served the Maple Presbyterian charge of St. Paul's Vaughan and St. Andrew's Maple for 33 years, until his retirement in September of last year when he moved to Niagara Falls with his wife, the former Olivia McQuarrie.
 Born at Niagara Falls, in November, 1885, Charles Bowman attended public school there and later Stanford High School. He graduated from Knox College in 1916. It was a well-known fact that it was under the guiding influence of the Bowman family minister at Drummond Hill Presbyterian Church, that Charles Bowman decided to enter the ministry.
 After leaving Knox College, Rev. Bowman proceeded to take charge of the mission field of Crowland and Port Robinson, from whence he was ordained in 1918. He remained in this charge until his call to the Maple charge in 1925.
 That same year, 1925, he married Sarah Findlay of Welland, he was widowed three years later, and in 1930 he married Miss McQuarrie, a member of the Maple congregation.
 During all the years, this gentle and much beloved couple served the congregations of Maple, they were an inspiration to all who knew them. One member comments, "He was a man who disdained any attempt to draw attention to himself or to promote his own self-interest."
 Surviving besides his wife are three brothers, Owen of St. Catharines, Albert and Leslie of Niagara Falls.
 Funeral services were held yesterday, Wednesday, at Niagara Falls, with interment in Lundy's Lane Cemetery.
 "The Liberal" joins the sorrowing community in extending deepest sympathy to Mrs. Bowman.

200 Women At R. Hill Day Of Prayer Service

Nearly 200 Richmond Hill women attended the World Day of Prayer in the Richmond Hill United Church recently, with women from eight churches taking part in the program.
 Presiding over the service, Mrs. A. S. Elson, President of the Harriet Taylor Auxiliary, W.M.S. of the United Church, gave the "Call to Worship". Mrs. G. Irwin of the Evening Auxiliary of the same church led in prayer. From the Presbyterian Church, Mrs. G. Morley led the responsive reading, and Mrs. Archie Cameron took the prayer. Representing St. Mary's Anglican church on the program were Mrs. M. C. Fry and Mrs. R. H. Hutchison, and from the Baptist church were Mrs. W. N. Price and Mrs. H. G. Pridham. St. Gabriel's Anglican church was represented by Mrs. J. W. Newton-Smith, and from Emmanuel Anglican church in Richvale was Mrs. Everatt Newman.
 Mrs. J. W. Johnston and Mrs. E. S. Bull came from the Free Methodist church, Mrs. W. W. Patterson of St. Matthew's United Church dedicated the offering which was sent to the Women's Inter-Church Council to be divided among evangelistic, educational and medical missionary work.
 The speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. C. G. Higginson, enlarged on the theme chosen by the women of Egypt for this service. She said that in the story from which it comes, the man born blind began with faith enough to wash in the Pool of Siloam, and ended with faith triumphant in his glorious declaration, "Lord, I believe", as he worshipped Christ as the Son of God. So Christ calls us — not to demonstrate great faith, but, that in worship and in service, our feeble faith may be an avenue for His power.
 Mrs. David Hill presided at the organ, with a choir of the United Church leading in the worship of song. The solo "Faithful Shepherd Guide Me", by Mrs. R. P. Robbins of St. Matthew's church added much to the spirit of the service.

The driver was unhurt.
 The blackout extended north of the Elgin sideroad, east and west of Yonge St., Mr. L. C. Roy, Area Manager of the Ontario Hydro said.

150 Delegates Attend Annual Ontario Division Cancer Meet

By Mona Robertson
 "Because of the work done by the Canadian Cancer Society (to which 20,000 women volunteers belong) many more people will see the daffodils this spring," this was the rewarding message Education and Publicity directors of the Ontario Division of the Society heard at their annual convention, held in the Lord Simcoe hotel on Thursday and Friday of last week. 150 delegates attended from all parts of the province.
 Theme of this convention was the jewelled Caduceus — the Symbol of Hope — which became the Canadian Cancer Society's symbol January, 1946. It is the Caduceus volunteer canvassers give, along with an official receipt when canvassing during April, cancer month.
 The Caduceus is similar to the symbol of the Canadian Medical Association, which founded the Cancer Society. Its origin is in Greek and Roman mythology. The Roman God of Healing (Aesculap-
