Make Changes Street Names
A decision to retain the "decimal" numbering system already existing in older parts of the village, was reached by King City Village Trustees at a special meeting in the Fire Hall with some 20 interested ratepayers present.

Among those joining in the discussion to clarify house numbering were representatives of Clearview Gardens' Home Owners' Association, Heritage Park Ratepayers' Association, and King City Lions' Club.

To eliminate some of the confusion in newer subdivisions, trustees hope to proceed with house numbering this Spring. Changes were made in several street names. Heritage Park ratepayers had requested their street names be altered. The entrance will be called Heritage Park Road. Hambly Ave. is unchanged, but the remaining three-part road will be known as Humber Drive.

In Clearview Gardens, Clearview Crescent is eliminated, becoming a continuation of Clearview Heights. The brief street off Station Road was named Eric St.

Along King St., Patton Lane becomes Patton St. Near the eastern limit, King Boulevard is being altered to Garrow Road, after the original farmer owning the property.
