HIGHLAND PARK NEWS CORRESPONDENT: MRS. A. A. SMITH 22 Highland Park Blvd., phone Avenue 5-2795

C.N.R. Line The largest throng of ratepayers seen in many years in this district jammed the auditorium of Henderson Avenue School on Friday evening, March 20. The meeting, called to discuss the proposed railway through Doncaster was sponsored by the Doncaster Ratepayers' Association; but a number of Highland Park residents attended and took an active part in the proceedings.

Despite the obvious fact that almost all regarded the coming of the railway as little short of a disaster to community life in the district, there were relatively few acrimonious remarks. Rather, there appeared to be a firm determination to oppose the railway with all the resources of community effort.

The meeting first voted to petition the C.N.R. to find an alternate route which would cause less disruption to residential areas. It was the strongly held view of many present that such an alternate route could be found. In view, however, of the open meeting scheduled for the following Tuesday, at which C.N.R. representatives were to state their case it was decided to withhold the actual circulation of any petition until after that time.

A committee of eight was elected to represent the residents of Highland Park and Doncaster at the open meeting. All present proposed to attend the open meeting, but the committee, in conjunction with similar groups from other affected communities, would act as official spokesmen. The meeting then formulated a series of questions to be placed before the railway representatives. Prominent among these were: the reason for the choice of the present route; whether alternate routes did not already exist; and what compensation, if any, could be expected by residents whose property declined in value because of the proximity of the railway.

It was realized that any firm opposition on the part of district residents would involve legal expense for legal counsel and other expert advice. To this end, therefore, the hat was passed and the beginning of a "fighting fund" was collected.

Powell Road Home & School Association held their regular monthly meeting in the school on Monday evening, March 23. Dr. Gaitskell, director of art for the Ontario Department of Education, was the guest of honor. Dr. Gaitskell described the revolutionary changes which have taken place in the art program in the schools during the past twenty years. He emphasized that the Department is firmly behind the teaching of art, on the principle that the child who is not adequately instructed in this regard is not fully educated. The Department runs an art school for qualified teachers at the College of Art; and also holds summer "colonies" in other parts of the province. Research programs are carried out, and Ontario, at the moment, is considered to be a leader in art education.

Dr. Gaitskell illustrated his talk with a series of slides, selected from the work of 10,000 children to show the normal or average product of children at various levels of development.

First comes the stage of "manipulation" when the child, given a brush and some colour, is merely learning to handle his materials. When the child gains some command of his tools, the first signs of organization and design appear. Then follows the first recognition by the child that his painting can have a subject. The product here may look like a scribble, but it is a "named scribble," to the child, it represents "me" doing something, where the previous stage was just a design. Then follows the symbol stage, with the human figure being usually the first symbol. And finally comes the final stage of the "symbol in an environment" - which is basically the stage of even the greatest painters.

Art, Dr. Gaitskell concluded, is a means of organizing thought and conveying it, if the child, through his painting, can organize his thoughts and convey them, then he is to that extent educated.

LANGSTAFF NEWS CORRESPONDENT: MRS. M. J. ROY Phone Avenue 5-2806

On Saturday, March 14th, the Langstaff Home and School Association held their annual dance at the Uplands Golf Club. This is an event looked forward to by all who have attended the dances in the past and each evening seems to be even more pleasant than the last. The committee in charge is planning for the evening under the competent supervision of Mr. Neal, aided by Claire Moore, Stan Turpinny, and Ross Joliffe, are to be congratulated on their planning and organization.

Gay murals in the spring motif, bright, table decorations, streamers and balloons gave a festive air to the hall, and Art Hallman's Band played pleasant music for dancing.

There were individual favors for each couple as well as many wonderful door prizes.

Refreshments provided by the ladies of the Home and School Association were enjoyed by all. Another success for the Langstaff Home and School Association.

Langstaff Baptist Church Easter Sunday will be a day of special music at both services. At the 11 o'clock morning service, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lawson, will be at the piano and organ and the soloist will be Mr. Stan Carter. In the evening, the choir will present a Cantata entitled "The Living Redeemer" by H. Lillemas. Pastor MacSpadden will preach at both services.

Mark Vaun Women's Institute A very successful euche and bridge was held at the home of Mrs. N. Hicks, Essex Avenue, on Monday last week. Five tables of euche and one of bridge were enjoyed by all.

The April meeting of the Institute will be held on Thursday, April 2nd, at the home of Mrs. Mary Jones, Garden Avenue. The roll call will be "A Hat made from Kitchen Gadgets." Annual reports will be read and election of officers for the coming year will be held. Members are reminded to bring donations for the "Cancer Cupboard." This meeting marks the 8th birthday of the Mark Vaun Branch and all members are urged to attend. 1st Langstaff Scout and Cub Mothers' Auxiliary Mrs. E. Sand, Maryvale Crescent, was hostess for the March meeting of the Auxiliary. After a short business meeting, a happy time was spent by those present in making an Easter bonnet out of edible products. The amusing results were judged by Mrs. Eyle who announced the winners, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Brash, Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Clark.
