Two local babies, a girl and a boy, are making headlines this week, because in their cases - small things came in large bundles.

Catherine Joanne Whelan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carson Wholan, Dufferin St., weighed in at a cherubic 11 pounds, 3 ounces, when she arrived at Newmarket Hospital on March 14.

On March 22, a bouncing baby boy, gladdened his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Moore of Maple, by his arrival at Eranson Hospital; he tipped the scales at 12 pounds 11% ounces. The chief obstetrician exclaimed that among approximately 20,000 births at that hospital

"This is the largest." Mrs. Moore's mother said her daughter only weighed five pounds at birth and the Moore's two other boys, now 8 and 12 years old, weighed 9 pounds and 9 pounds, 11 ounces. Baby David Russell beats the lot.

"The Liberal" takes pleasure in extending best wishes to both babies and in congratulating their parents.
