A delightful surprise miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mr. John Sim, Avenue Road, for Miss Kathleen Tomlinson, whose marriage to Mr. Bruce Blackburn is taking place at St. Mary's Anglican Church on Saturday, May 16. There were 25 neighbours of the groom present and a delicious lunch was served at which a beautifully decorated shower cake was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Doreen Sim and Mrs. Geo. Lawson Jr. were hostesses on this auspicious occasion, and the bride-to-be was overwhelmed with the many lovely gifts she received.

Enjoying Holiday

Municipal worries seem far away as Richmond Hill's Deputy-reeve Stanley F. Tinker relaxes on the sand beaches of Florida. With Mrs. Tinker and family he recently returned from a pleasant holiday in the sun. He is shown above with his children Delia, Brian and Donny.

The W.A. of St. Gabriel Anglican Church held their first annual birthday party the evening of April 14, at the home of Mrs. R. Lister, 125 Rockport. It was a highly successful party with games and music under the direction of Mrs. H. S. Newland and Mrs. J. Haggart. The refreshments were provided and served by Mrs. A. G. Hunter, Mrs. D. Lindy, Mrs. V. Strother, Mrs. W. Whitmore and Mrs. R. Lister. A very large birthday cake was made and tastefully decorated to suit the occasion by Mrs. Newton Smith and Mrs. J. Haggart. The next meeting is to be a combined one at Wrixon Hall, April 28, at 8.15 p.m., at which time Miss Nora Lea will give a talk entitled "Through Asian Windows".

The Ridge Inn, Oak Ridges, was the scene of a pleasant evening's relaxation for members of the Tuesday Richmond Hill Bowling League when they held their annual banquet there last Saturday evening. Prizewinners were: Men's High Triple, Ross Casement; Men's High Single, Russell Lynett; Ladies' High Single and Triple, Pat Tinker. Mr. F. Bovaird was the genial Master of Ceremonies and even though he had to contend with a few of the men being a little too interested in the Maple Leaf-Canadiens hockey game, dancing and a sing song with Jean Ward at the piano was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Hill, of Wright St., have just returned from a month's vacation at Treasure Island, Florida. Their daughter, Mrs. J. W. Eakins of Point Claire, Quebec, joined them for a week during that time.

On Monday of this week Crosby Heights Public School entered two choirs in the Peel Music Festival held at Port Credit and the Grade 7 choir won the cup for first place and the school choir placed third in their group. Mr. Glen Wood conducts the choir with Mr. Herman Fowler accompanying on the piano. Mr. Fred Browning, Grade 7 teacher travelled with the group. A nice closing to a very happy day came when the winners arrive back at Crosby Heights School in the afternoon—the whole school was waiting outside to cheer them and offer congratulations for a job well done.

Unanimous approval was expressed for Mr. Lex Mackenzie our present member. John Graves and Dave Kerwin will present information obtained from the recent sessions of Young Conservatives they attended in Toronto.

The "Safe Driving Campaign" organized by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, will wind up on Thursday evening, April 23, when the Jaycees hold their dinner meeting at the Richmond Theatre Grill. At that time the courtesy drivers will be presented with complimentary lubrication cards donated by the Richmond Hill Service Stations, and the presentation will be made by Police Chief R. P. Robbins. Courtesy drivers are few and far between, and the Jaycees are justly proud to have found five, and trust that this will be the start of an ever increasing number of courtesy drivers. The courtesy drivers are Messrs. Patrick Martin, Murray Schell, W. B. McDougall, Wilfred Fournier, John Harold Price.

"Three Cents A Day" and "Thinking Aloud", two one act plays were read for Curtain Club members at the meeting on Tuesday night. Directed by Mr. Stephen Appleby, both plays were well received by a most receptive audience. Plans for the forthcoming annual meeting were discussed and refreshments were served under the convener'ship of Mrs. L. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Sevenoaks with their sons Timothy and Guy spent the weekend with Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. F. Klenavic, at Ipperwash Army Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Tinker, Richmond St., have just returned from a most enjoyable trip to Florida. They report a very delightful vacation and observe that one of the amazing things of travelling to Florida by car is seeing the change of seasons occur in just a few days.

Their first stop after leaving Richmond Hill was just outside Batavia. Here there was about six inches of snow. They drove through a blizzard down through New York State to Pennsylvania where it had turned to rain. This wet and cold weather lasted through Maryland to Virginia where city last a change became apparent, with green grass and early flowers. They stayed the second night in Leesburg, Virginia, where they had their first taste of real southern cooking at an inn called the "Laurel Brigade". Here they were told Lafayette and other figures of history had stayed.

Both North and South Carolina were enjoying lovely sunny days and flowers of all kinds were in full bloom; wisteria, which grows like a vine and covers almost everything, tulips, and daffodils. In Georgia it was almost summer and here roses, iris and marigolds were all in full glory. Their first night in Florida was spent at St. Augustine, America's oldest city. Here everything is the essence of old Spain, with walled gardens, and black iron gates and balconies. The Spanish fort "Castillo de San Marcos" from the 1600's still stands in all its splendor. Ponce de Leon's fountain of youth and a slave market built in 1538 give silent evidence of another age.

On their way down the coast they stopped at Marine Studios to see the wonders of the deep: shark, barracuda, sail fish and the educated porpoise. That night they reached their destination, Hollywood Beach, just sixteen miles from Miami. This is the ideal vacation site; it is nearly tropical, the streets were edged with Royal Palms, there were hedges of hibiscus, azaleas and gardenia, and black iron gates are common and exotic bloom cascade themselves over the picturesque gardens. The grass is so green and the sky such a deep blue that the whole scene is somewhat like a technicolour movie.

They had wonderful accommodations on the Atlantic and never missed a day swimming and sunbathing. The temperature was between 85 degrees and 90 degrees every day, but with the lovely breeze off the sea and the moderate evening temperatures they were never uncomfortable. As much as they hated to leave, duty was calling; so they took the west coast route home, stopping at Fort Myers beach for a swim in the Gulf of Mexico, then north to St. Petersburg and Tampa, across the state to visit the Everglades where they saw alligators, crocodiles, toucans and flamingos. They were surprised to see the Seminole Indian villages as the Indians still live in a very primitive state.

They didn't stop in Georgia, but did spend several hours in Charleston, South Carolina. However, their sightseeing was confined to the shopping area, where linens, towels and bedding were priced so low they couldn't resist them. Another highlight of their trip was the time they spent in Williamsburg, Virginia. A whole section of the town has been restored back to colonial days when it was the capital of Virginia and George Washington lived there.

The old ins were lighted by candles and the coloured waiters all dressed in colonial style. It made them feel as if they were really there three hundred years ago. They visited also the city of Washington briefly to see the lovely cherry blossoms and after one more stop over at Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, they reached home about five o'clock in the evening. They all agreed that everything was perfect and that it was the best vacation ever.

On Monday, April 20, twenty-five Scouts enjoyed a two hour swim, during which time Scoutmaster Norm Foster, who was a Red Cross Water Safety Instructor, put the lads through a series of tests, to ascertain their swimming ability. There are still 12 Scouts to be put through this test, before instruction on the different levels can be commenced. It is expected that about 14 boys will receive their swimmer's and rescuer's badges as a result of this extra activity. At the regular meeting on Tuesday, April 21, Scoutmaster Graeme Gould gave a talk on light weight camping and cooking. Mr. Gould who was a member of a team who captured the "Yeoman Hike Trophy" open to Rover Scouts of the Greater Toronto Region, was talking from experience. Ten Scouts attended the second training session on the weatherman's proficiency badge, which is being conducted by the Scoutmaster. The monthly hike was announced April 26, which will be a sealed orders hike.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH
TWP. OF NORTH YORK
Do You Know That
With fresh green grass appearing and buds bursting forth, most of us get the urge to clean up and tidy up. This is of course as things should be, for a clean tidy home and yard not only gives our morale and sense of self-respect a boost but the clutter and debris all too often left behind after a too cold winter may be of a nature dangerous to life and limb. Sharp objects which have until recently been buried in the snow suddenly appear. Steps or walks may need repair. When you look for possible accident hazards you will doubtless find many.

Later in the evening we saw the camp slides, which were very interesting. To close the meeting, we sang "Taps". Don't forget the CGIT Rally to be held at Newmarket, on Saturday, April 25.
