meeting, "Africa Disturbed" is the study book for this year.

W.I. The W.I. meeting was held at the Temperanceville schoolhouse on Wednesday, September 16. There were about 34 entries in the flower show which made a very interesting and pretty display in the hall of the new school. Mrs. Wm. Turner acted as judge. The firstclass of pompon zinnias was won by Mrs. W. Jennings and Mrs. Nelson Thompson. 3 large zinnias, Mrs. N. Thompson, Mrs. C. Beynon, Large calendulas, Mrs. Everett Phillips. An autumn arrangement, Mrs. E. Phillips, Mrs. Don Chalk, Teapot arrangement, Mrs. C. Beynon, Mrs. E. Phillips. A corsage, Mrs. Stewart Paxton and Mrs. Milton Wells. Woodland arrangement, Mrs. Don Chalk. An old fashioned arrangement in an old fashioned container, Mrs. E. Phillips, Mrs. C. Beynon, who also won the sweepstakes prize. Various types of bulbs were given as prizes.

Mrs. Charles Henshaw gave a most interesting paper on the history and people of Prince Edward Island. We were interested in the fact that this was the home of Mrs. Graham, missionary, and where Mrs. Thomassen, her daughter, was for a short period of babyhood. Current events were presented by Mrs. Harry Hutchinson. Local news consisted of the history of the Maurice Beynon farm, now sold. A historical toy display is being made. Steve Barbara played two selections on his piano accordion. Mrs. Wm. Turner demonstrated flower arrangements.

Persons Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ken Robbins on the birth of their daughter, Jarlet, on Wednesday, September 16, at St. Michael's Hospital. Mrs. Robbins and baby will arrive home September 25. Both are fine.

Rev. and Mrs. Victor Wood visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Jennings after anniversary service on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. L. Smith and family of Sutherland were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Macklin on Sunday.

Mrs. Ron Bonham attended the special service on Sunday with her mother, Mrs. L. Cunningham. Mr. and Mrs. Carson Robinson and Murray were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wells after attending church at Temperanceville September 20. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jennings arrived home on Thursday, September 17, after a delightful trip to the West Coast this summer.

We were delighted to have the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. James Brillinger with us Sunday at church. They had travelled as far north as the Sault, then returned to get their home on No. 27 in order. This week they will visit relatives at Niagara and view the falls at night.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Ash of Belleville were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hare Saturday evening.

On October 18 at Temperanceville church the Lakeshore Inter-church Male Choir will supply the special music in the evening. This is another fine musical church group and it is hoped the congregation will fill the church on this occasion.

The W.A. bazaar is November 7. Those in charge of the different booths please keep this in mind. Mrs. Fred Hare, Mrs. Floyd Wilson and Mrs. M. Wells are publicity convenors.

It was a pleasure to see Mr. and Mrs. H. Grimshaw, Mrs. Morley and Mr. Roy Legge at the anniversary service, as well as many other guests from different districts. Friends wish Mrs. Cox a speedy recovery from her recent illness and operations.

Congratulations

Ken Stiff Furs wish to congratulate St. Mary's C.W.L. Neighborhood Notes

We are pleased to note that Mr. Wilfred Turner, who is at Weston Sanatorium has improved to the point of being allowed to visit at home occasionally. The first of these was one week ago last Friday and as there were no ill effects he will probably be given this privilege frequently.

Doug and Joan Tribbling and their small daughter Kelly are again members of this community living on John Street just west of Don Mills Road. Welcome home.

Miss Audrey Scott of Oshawa was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McQuay recently, spending some time with her grandmother, Mrs. L. Scott of Markham and Rhea and Clarence Scott. Mrs. Scott will celebrate her 94th birthday late this month.

On Tuesday of last week, Mrs. Wm. Rodick, Mrs. F. W. Baker, Mrs. John Donaldson and Mrs. Norman Reid attended the Rural Rally of York Presbyterian at Sandford.

On Thursday evening of last week, Mrs. Joe Robinson, Bayview Ave., entertained for Miss Gwen Greaves of Thornhill, who was a bride of last weekend. Guests at the miscellaneous shower were local friends of the bride, who is a sister of Mrs. Robert Hood.

We were sorry to hear that Mr. B. K. Wilson was taken ill last week. We wish for him a rapid return to health.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lewis (nee Jessie Boyington) of Queensville on the birth of a baby boy, a grandson for Mrs. Nels. Boyington.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lak are now living in their new home in Thornhill.

On Monday of last week the Junior Farmers and Institute members of the Unionville branch met at Leitchcroft Farms for the first meeting of the season with a good attendance. Plans were made for the Markham Fair exhibit.

On Wednesday evening, the girls' group met at the home of Mrs. George Hooper for further work on their Markham Fair project.

Buttonville W.I. Buttonville W.I. met at the W. I. Hall on Wednesday afternoon of last week with Mrs. John Wilkins occupying the chair and Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Adam Brown acting as hostesses.

During the business session plans for a fashion show by the Patti-Lu Shop of Richmond Hill, which will be sponsored by Buttonville W.I. in October were finalized; delegates, Mrs. G. Francy, Mrs. Jean Cooke and Mrs. John Wilkins were appointed to attend the area convention at the Royal York Hotel November 4, 5 and 6; decision to hold a euchre series beginning October 9 at Buttonville Hall was made; there was an announcement re a dressmaking finishing school to be held January 19 and 20.

Following business a debate was heard: "Resolved that the farmers of 50 years ago were happier than the farmers of today," with Mrs. F. H. Leaf and Mrs. A. Aubrey Stephenson taking the affirmative and Mrs. Chas. Hooper and Mrs. K. Arnold the negative. Mrs. Lak, Mrs. Harper were judges and the award went to the affirmative.

Mrs. Francy extended courtesies and Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Brown served refreshments during the tea hour. Mrs. George Hooper acted as pianist in Mrs. Hill's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Derek Marsh-Collis (nee Barbara Richards) returned last week from a Muskoka honeymoon and are now settled in their apartment on Fishleigh Drive, Scarborough.

Much happiness to Jean Vaughan who is wearing a diamond on "that" finger. The Vaughan family expects to move to their new home on Huston Drive early in October.

The Craig family said goodbye to John two weeks ago. He is stationed with H.M.C.S. Cornwall in St. John's Halifax.

On Friday evening of last week Mrs. Ken Stots entertained members of the Buttonville W.I. working committee at her home. During the evening plans were made for the display at Markham Fair, which the group is sponsoring.

Mrs. Doring, Wolfgang and Margaret returned last week following a two months' visit with relatives in Germany.

Obituary

LATE RUTH HANSFORD

This community was stunned on Thursday of last week, to learn of the sudden passing of Miss Ruth Hansford, teacher of intermediate grades at Buttonville School and valued member of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Reid's household.

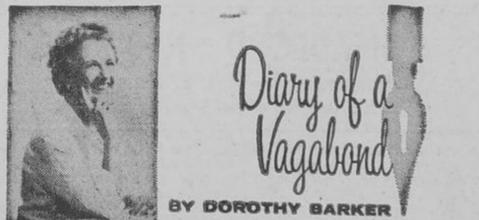

Two years ago, Ruth came to Buttonville School on completion of her Teachers' College course and since then has made for herself a warm place in the hearts of those who know her. To the children she taught she was someone very special, and no amount of extra work was too much to undertake if she felt it would help a child in difficulty.

During the winter months she was active in home and school and extra-curricular activities, and in the summer time there were special courses to improve her teaching.

On Thursday morning, Miss Hansford, who was in her 22nd year, apparently rose as usual, but collapsed while preparing for school. Death is attributed to heart failure.

Sympathy is extended to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hansford of Thornhill, to her brothers, Rev. Donald Hansford of Inverkip, Ont. and Ronald at home, and one sister, Mrs. Robert Biesenthal of Phoenix, Arizona, as well as her fiance, Harvey Brown of Brown's Corners.

A funeral service was held Monday afternoon at the Wright and Taylor funeral home, Richmond Hill, with interment at York Cemetery, Willowdale.

Diary of a Vagabond

BY DOROTHY BARKER

I felt as though my feet needed retreading. For hours they had been beating the miles and miles that wind among the acres of the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa. The day was sunny and the earth exhaled that sweet smell that is a mixture of commercial fertilizer and humus. The promise of beauty and the answer to hours of research for new and hardier varieties of growing things filled the air.

Ahead of me was a group of school children. Hundreds come to the Central Farm in organized groups every year, especially at lambing time, said Ludger Bellefleur, public relations officer for the Farms system throughout Canada. Statistics always fascinate me and when Mr. Bellefleur proudly related his 1958 visitor record, I took these notes. Two hundred and thirty-four organized groups had visited the Ottawa farm and been conducted through the buildings and gardens. This number included 120 school groups and totalled 9,508 persons.

There is no way, said Mr. Bellefleur, of keeping constant track of the thousands who roam over the grounds in summer. However, on one weekend last fall when the chrysanthemums were in full flower, 12,415 persons by actual count, strolled the acres of bloom.

Possibly the most impressive fact related to me that sunny afternoon was that scientists from 34 nations, including those from behind the iron curtain, sought knowledge last year of agricultural and horticultural methods from Canada's parent experimental farm. Some of the most intensive research is of particular interest to farmers. Rust resistant grains, cross breeding of cattle for a better beef strain, are among the most interesting subjects under constant study. Science and plastics have rapidly advanced the knowledge and control of cereal plant diseases.

In growth chambers, four or five crops a year can now be grown and studied. Formerly, only two crops a year were grown, one in summer, one under glass during winter.

There isn't a subject pertaining to agriculture and animal husbandry that has not been explored and detailed in booklet form for the enquiring public. When I asked Mr. Bellefleur which of the more than a thousand booklets was best in demand he seemed a bit apologetic. Graduate of Laval University, with years of experience behind him in the operation of experimental farms from Fredericton, N.B., to Ottawa, he was almost reluctant to admit that the greatest demand was for advice on the growing and cultivation of ornamental shrubbery.

This, however, rather pleased me, for it was comforting to know that amid that impressive display in his office (booklets surround three walls) was salvation for my garden. Born with two green thumbs but little technical knowledge, my perennials have survived over the years by the grace of nature. I came home with my suitcase loaded with literature and my head buzzing with formulas for sprays and fertilizers.

In a more serious vein, I think we should salute the thousands of employees at the experimental stations from the Atlantic to the Pacific, including the Yukon, who are assisting nature, by their knowledge that takes years of study and experimentation to acquire. They guide the farmers and gardeners of our nation.

If there is an experimental farm in your vicinity, take time to visit it. If it means a trip, it will be well worth your while to board a train bound for such a destination. As far as Canada is concerned, this continent has often been called the bread basket of the world, and government sponsored experimental farms have played a large part in making it so.

Local Baptist Church To Celebrate Anniversary

Anniversary services this Sunday, September 27th, at the Richmond Hill Baptist Church will mark the fourth anniversary of the organization of the church. It was on Wednesday, September 28, 1955, that a handful of charter members of the church met in one of the local homes under the leadership of the first Pastor, Raymond H. Galbraith, to organize the church on New Testament principles and to adopt the Church Covenant and Constitution.

Since that time the first stage of a permanent building has been erected at 50 Wright Street, opposite the Richmond Hill High School, and a thriving young church has been established. The program and outreach of the church has been extended through Boys' Club, Girls' Club, Couples Club, Ladies' Fellowship and, more recently, a Youth Fellowship. The Bible School has grown to an enrollment of close to one hundred and fifty and additional classroom facilities are badly needed.

130 Anglican Boys Compete At Annual League Conclave

The grounds of St. Mary's Anglican Church, Richmond Hill were gaily decked with flags, shields and bunting last Saturday when the Annual Diocesan Church Boys League Conclave was held. 130 members from as far afield as Peterborough, Toronto and Orillia attended and in glorious weather enjoyed a full day of fellowship and sports.

Following the opening service conducted by Rev. J. O'Neill, Rector of St. Mary's, the boys spent the morning visiting exhibits of wildlife, conservation, stamps, photography and first aid which were staged in the Wrixon Hall and practiced jousting, Javelin, discus, tumbling and combat upon the tournament field.

After lunch the tournament for the Diocesan Trophy was held and it was finally decided in favour of St. Mary's Richmond Hill in the last event judged — that of stamp collecting when David Agg's collection was adjudged the winner. St. Michael's and All Angel's of
