Oak Ridges, Lake Wilcox Social

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dowling, of Schomberg Road, welcomed the arrival of a daughter on September 21, Yvonne Elizabeth, sister for Ian.

First Aiders Receive Awards
Awards were received this past week by pupils of last year's grades 6, 7 and 8 at Oak Ridges Public School. St. John's Ambulance First Aid is an extra-curricular activity which has proved highly successful. Some of the pupils received first year certificates, and some 2nd year certificates, pins and a card for the wallet, identifying them as fully qualified junior first aiders. The Holger-Nielson method of artificial respiration is particularly stressed and all of these pupils are fully qualified in its application, along with basic first aid. Top boy and girl in the past school year's exams, as assessed by Mr. Hammond of St. John's Ambulance Corps, were Billy Campbell and Valerie Winch. This training was begun by Tiny Atencichuk, a teacher at the school last year and is now ably carried on by Mr. Cliff Bell, Grade 8 teacher and vice principal. Approximately 150 pupils were recipients of the awards.

Home & School
The first meeting of the Oak Ridges Public School Home and School Association took place at the school on Tuesday, September 23. New president, Mr. Wm. Schurman, introduced his executive, as follows: 1st Vice-President, Mrs. B. G. Dawson; Rec. Sec., Mrs. J. N. Emerson; Treas., Mr. Wm. Switzer; Corre. Sec., Mr. E. Coon; executive committee, Mrs. R. Laing, Mrs. M. Wells, Mrs. S. McLennan and Mr. William Craig and Mrs. B. Woodhouse. Convenors are, Mrs. D. Ground and Mrs. L. Porter, health; parents' education, Mrs. J. D. Smith; radio and visual arts, Mr. C. Swan; press and publicity, Mrs. P. Huges; citizenship, Mrs. McLaughlin. After the regular business meeting the staff was introduced by Principal Wesley Jeans. They are as follows: Mr. C. Bell, grade 8, vice-principal and social studies; Miss J. Crawford, grades 7 and 8, grammar and literature; Mr. Littlejohn, grade 7, maths; Mr. Williams, grade 6, physical education; Mrs. Harnden, grade 6, music; Mrs. Milne, grade 5; Mr. Eckler, grade 5 and 6; Mrs. Fairbairn, grade 4; Mrs. Appleton, grade 3 and 4; Mrs. Bull, grade 3; Mrs. Graham, grades 2 and 3; Mrs. Martin, grade 2; Miss Hall, grade 1 and 2; Miss Graham, grade 1; Miss Miller, grade 1.

A very entertaining travelogue was shown to round out the evening's activities. Mrs. Kecey, R. R. 3 King, unfortunately had to

King City Notes

Kingcrafts
Eight of the original members were among those attending the Kingcrafts ninth birthday meeting at the home of the founder, Lady Flavelle.

Mrs. Raymond Burt, Mrs. A. E. Jarvis, Mrs. John L. Grew, Mrs. Hilliard Bryan, Mrs. Charles Johnston, Mrs. Eric White, Mrs. Loftus Jewitt and Lady Flavelle had been among the 30 forming the nucleus of the expanding craft organization.

Retiring President, Mrs. James Baxter presided and gave a resume of Kingcrafts' nine years. It started with three groups and now has approximately 140 active and 100 associate members.

Mrs. Baxter said Kingcrafts' human values, unselfishness and its objectives, far outweighed monetary standards.

Plans were made for classes in design, open to the entire membership, to be held October 1 and 15 and in early November at Kingcrafts House. Lady Flavelle is in charge of the group, which will receive instruction from Mrs. Anne Hook.

Miss Blair Burrows, convenor of the hooking group, told of 10 members participating in the C. N.E. during its last five days and of demonstrating hooking at the Dalziel Museum Pioneer Festival.

New members were introduced, Mrs. J. I. Johnston as an associate member; Mrs. H. J. Warner, joining the weaving group and Mrs. Walter Jenkinson, the ceramics.

Convenors presented their annual reports. A slate of officers was prepared for the annual meeting and election to be held October 21.

A sale of baking and crafts was arranged for October 31 at Kingcrafts House. Mrs. Glenn Sawyer will supervise the sale of home baking; Mrs. Gage Love, crafts, and Mrs. Eric White, the dried flower arrangements. Mrs. Gregory Paul and Mrs. Ian Baxter will be hostesses for coffee and cookies to be served.

York Presbytery
It looks like the Christian community is not very responsive to peace, Rev. Gordon Winch of Oak Ridges told 50 ministers and lay representatives at York Presbytery meeting last week in King City United Church.

The Chairman of the Evangelism and Social Service Committee regretted, in reply to Khrushchev's proposals, "We have nothing concrete to offer as Christians or Canadians or members of the Western Alliance".

Urging greater emphasis on international affairs and the need for more definite lines of thought, Mr. Winch referred to Presbytery's October 27 meeting at Sandford, which will concentrate on international affairs, nuclear weapons and disarmament. One of the speakers will be Rev. J. R. Mutchmor.

A report on Presbytery's feeling on nuclear testing and disarmament is to be given to Toronto Conference by March.

The morning session in King City Church opened with worship service and communion led by Presbytery's Secretary, Rev. Martin Jenkinson.

Highlight of the day was the installation of the new chairman, Rev. John F. G. Morris of Aurora, who was presented with badges of office, a stole and gavel, by retiring Chairman Rev. Douglas Davis of Stouffville. Mr. Morris presented an engraved replica of the gavel to Mr. Davis.

Rev. R. J. McNaught of Queensville spoke on the Missionary and Maintenance Fund, stating the quota for all Canada is $8,000,000.

Church News
Rally Day
Rally Day service will be held in Teston United Church Sunday School on Sunday, October 4, at 10 a.m. The superintendent, Mr. Charles Robson, and members of the Sunday School have planned a special program for this important day. Awards will be given for regular attendance at Sunday school and church and promotion certificates will be presented. Parents and friends are sincerely invited to come and make this a memorable day for the teachers and pupils of the Sunday school.

The regular church service at Teston will be at 11.30 a.m. on Sunday, October 4.

Several members of the Teston Woman's Association were guests of the W.A. of Maple United Church, Tuesday evening, September 22.

We are pleased to hear that Mr. Garnet Diceman is home from hospital and though confined to his bed and in a cast he is in fine spirits and glad to be back home with his family and friends.

Over the week end Mrs. Chas. Bird returned to her home in Hamilton after a three month visit with the Pelletier family, one month of that time being spent in Muskoka.

We are sorry to learn that Bob Baker Jr., is entering hospital this week to undergo an eye operation. We hope he will soon be feeling fine again.
