The season is over but baseball news on a local scale is still with us. The Wimbridge Cleaner Ball Team got together last Saturday night at the home of Coach Russ Cripps for a post-season party and to make a presentation to Charlie Wimbs, Club President and Sponsor. By all accounts the "do" was very successful and nicely writes "finis" to the year's activity.

SPORT SPOTS

Ian McIntosh, quarterback of the Richmond Hill Indian Football Team had a little bad luck after last Saturday's winning effort. His girl friend had his car keys in her hand, but got so absorbed in the game that she apparently dropped them. Del. Madely came to the rescue by driving to the McIntosh home for a spare set of keys. If anyone found a set of keys in a green leather case, please let Bill Points or Del. Madely know and they will see that Ian McIntosh gets them back.

The Nortown Plaza in Willowdale has a new sports attraction to present — go-cart racing. The plaza parking lot is used as a race course and the action is hot and lively. In case you don't know what a go-cart is, it consists of a solidly built metal frame with eight to ten inch wheels and a chain saw or lawn mower motor slung on the back. The steering is positive — a one to one ratio being standard and the rest of the equipment is a bucket seat and a heavy hand on the throttle. Due to the low centre of gravity and the wide track the little chariots just can't be tipped over try as you will.

Top speed for these noisy doodlebugs is around 40 m.p.h., but when you're out in the open with your tail only three inches off the pavement it seems more like 80. These cars are built to a standard formula and safety features and motor sizes are rigidly controlled by the Go-Cart Racing Association.

The Allencourt or Leventdale Plaza would be ideal for a go-cart derby. Maybe in the near future a new sports spectacle may be on public view in Richmond Hill.

The 14 to 17 year old age groups seem to be very reluctant with their hockey registrations. How about it guys? Let's get the applications in and give the executive of the Richmond Hill Hockey Association a chance to get all organized for a good season.

Wick Mills has a new venture off and running. The Bayview Horse Ranch is Mr. Mills' latest interest, and as riding stables go is a darn nice layout. Wick and his partner are constantly improving the property located on 19th Avenue just east of Bayview. Horse-back riding, hay rides and sleigh rides in season are available and Wick seems pleased with the first season's activity so far. If you like equestrian sports, why not drop out to the Bayview Horse Ranch and see just what goes on?

Equipment is sorely needed by both Intermediate and Midget Football Teams. If you have a helmet, shoulder pads, pants, etc., that you no longer need, how about calling Bill Points at TU. 4-1944 and helping the local football aficionados with the job they are trying to do.

SPORT SPOTS

There are two members of the Intermediate Football Team who seem to justify just what sport is all about. Jerry McGowan, a good halfback, broke his left collarbone a month ago. Despite being out of action, Jerry has not missed a practice and always is on hand for games and he gives the team all the moral support he can. Some fellows might be inclined to stay at home and watch television, but McGowan is out with HIS team all the way.

Wayne Bailey, a genial red head injured his leg playing football last year and is sitting out this season on his doctor's advice. Wayne isn't brooding about his ill-fortune but is out with the team every time a game or practice comes up and helps with whatever chore he is asked to handle. Every football club could use a man like Mr. Bailey. It makes a coach's job a lot easier, and when a boy gives loyalty like this it makes it all seem worthwhile.

The new curling club building is rapidly taking shape on the Elgin Mills Sideroad. The main rafters are in place and it looks like a very impressive edifice. All you would-be curlers are going to have a very sharp spot to check your brooms. If you want more information a good man to call and ask is Dalton Hicks who lives on Crosby Avenue. If Dal hasn't got all the answers he'll surely get them for you.

SPORTS SPOTS

Fred Waters, Registrar for the Richmond Hill Hockey Association, had a rough Saturday afternoon at the Arena. Fred turned up to register hockey players only to find he had no forms at the arena office. He took all the pertinent information and application forms will be mailed to those boys who were disappointed.

Badminton Club Plans For An Active Season

Mr. and Mrs. George Fraser are a couple of people who really know and enjoy Badminton. They were members of the original Richmond Hill Badminton Club which was forced out of action when the shift system of schooling affected the local High School. Mr. and Mrs. Fraser kept active by joining the Aurora Club and playing two nights a week but now that the High School gymnasium is available again are endeavoring to get a local club rolling. Just in case anyone is wondering what it might cost a fledgling badminton player, Mrs. Fraser was kind enough to supply a few facts and figures. The only requirements are the urge to play, a pair of white soled running shoes and a racquet which can be purchased for as little as five dollars - shorts and T shirts are a matter of personal choice, and as everyone knows don't require taking out a second mortgage to buy.

Instruction will be available for beginners so that everyone will get the maximum benefit from the club. There are other Badminton Clubs in the vicinity and it is hoped that inter club matches can be arranged and good competition will benefit all players. At the moment membership fees are contingent on the number of members signed up. Nets are already on hand but birds are an item that require frequent replacement and the Gym rental is six dollars per evening. There is a guest fee for visitors who can then take out a full membership if they so desire. At the present time arrangements are available whereby fees can be spread over a period as long as they are paid by Christmas. Fees are merely tentative as of this writing and are subject to revision - the revision will be to lower the costs if the anticipated response is forthcoming.

Badminton is one of the finest games in the world for conditioning and anyone interested in a healthful pursuit with social overtones please contact Mrs. Fraser at TU. 4-1379.

Wrestling Program

The clean style wrestling opening at Thornhill Market Tuesday, October 13 has started quite a controversy among both the fans and grapplers. One fan stated that he wouldn't come to a clean wrestling show, claiming that there would be nothing to holler about. But Joe Greenfield says, "Any fan who is a fan, and understands the fine points in the game, will appreciate this move to clean wrestling. They will know that there is actually more thrills in a hard fought clean match than a rough and tumble contest, that sometimes upsets some of the female fans." Greenfield further states "I am deadly in earnest about these matches being kept clean, we don't want fans who are looking for blood and thunder, it will be much better if they stay home, we don't want them, but we do want people who understand and appreciate the wrestling sport as it is used to be and will be again." Roy McMahon president of the Association is looking forward to the show on Tuesday next, says it is one of the best things to happen to the game in the last twenty years, but will the fans like it, that's the question. Heading this card will be Red Garner Langstaff mat veteran and another Gori Ed Mangotich of Ryding, Ontario. Mangotich only back from England a few weeks is in terrific shape and feels that he can take Garner. "Red is a lot older now and he must have slowed down a lot," says the rugged Slav, "although the clean wrestling will help him, I'm no slouch myself." "Aledo Orlando tangles with Wolf Jennings of Sudbury in the semi final, and I have to see this one. If Jennings has to wrestle clean the Italian boy will take him in two straight falls. In the other two events carded, Pal Greenfield promising young Richmond Hill welterweight will test the skill of Ken Monckton and Jack Dennis will see if he can trip up Lanky Lenny Hewitt. All in all it looks like a good card and I for one will be on hand to see it, (this I gotta see.)

Coun. Mumberson Enjoys World Series

Calling it an "unforgettable experience" Councillor Lawson Mumberson returned to council duty Monday after attending the first two games of the World Series in Chicago. A popular resident of Victoria Square and an active member of Markham Township Council, Mr. Mumberson had been planning for some 20 years to see a World Series game, but it seemed something always intervened. This year Mr. Mumberson realized his dream and motored to Chicago in time to see the opening games.

His troubles really began when he reached the "Windy City" and tried to secure duets for the games. Wednesday morning there were no less than 5,000 fans already in line vainly trying to get tickets. Another 500 fans were seeking bleacher seats for the second game. Thanks to the kindness of the Chicago "men in blue" Mr. Mumberson was finally able to get tickets. A former policeman himself Mr. Mumberson served as an inspector with the Toronto Police for many years.

"Scalpers" were selling tickets everywhere for prices ranging from $50. to $125. Although scalping is illegal in Ontario it isn't in Chicago and tickets were being offered at fantastic prices. Stadium officials were selling standing room tickets for $4.10. The Chicago Stadium is a lot smaller than the coliseum at Los Angeles and seats only 48,000 plus 12,000 standing room.

ALEDO ORLANDO
Classy Italian Canadian grappler who tangles with Wolf Jennings at Thornhill Market Tuesday, October 13, at 8:45 p.m.

NORTH YORK — Fees for night classes have risen in North York this year. The school board has split the year into two terms - Fall and Winter, charging $10. per class per term, except in package courses such as typing and stenography. The academic course is also a straight fee for as many classes as desired.
