Successful Dollar Days

THE THREE DOLLAR DAYS declared by Richmond Heights Plaza last week were very successful. Public attendance increased business while all the events which were organized to make the occasion a shoppers' mecca were well received.

Beauty Contest

Highlight of the occasion was the Beauty Contest for the title, "Miss Richmond Heights, 1959". Mrs. Anne Hodgson, aged 19, of 50 Benson Ave., Richmond Hill, was elected Queen. Her vital measurements are: Bust 36½", Waist 26" and Hips 36". Anne is 5 ft. 7 inches tall and weighs 125 lbs.

Elected ladies-in-waiting were Miss Judy Richardson of 236 Alcease Road, Richmond Hill, and Miss Evelyn Gordon of 387 Fernleigh Circle, Richmond Hill. Opens Store

Mrs. Bernice Gibson of 371 Fesserton Road, Richmond Hill, kindly took care of the girls and tutored them. She also recorded their measurements. Mrs. Gibson has this week opened a ladies' wear store of her own on Alencourt Shopping Centre.

Three Shoppers
Judges were Deputy-reeve Tinker, Mr. Roy Chandler, Manager Bank of Nova Scotia and Mr. Fred Wise, Managing Director, Town & Country Marketers of Markham Road, Richmond Hill.

Following the selection, Reeve Floyd Perkins officiated at the crowning and presented bouquets to the girls.

Rices' Flowers
The banner and crown, as well as the flowers presented to the Queen and her attendants were kindly donated by the popular local florist Al Rice of Yonge Street.

Contest In Store
The contest was held in Kaye's Casual Toggery, a ladies' wear store on the plaza by kind cooperation of Mrs. Kaye Baker, the proprietor. Mrs. Baker also engaged an organist complete with electric chord organ to provide beautiful music for the occasion.

The store window was used as a platform and this enabled the public to watch the proceedings from outside through the window while in the centrally heated store, the girls did not risk taking cold.

Master of Ceremonies
Mr. Colin Burgess, popular Vice-President of Richmond Hill Junior Chamber of Commerce efficiently performed the duties of M.C. throughout proceedings.

CANADIAN CANCER SOCIETY

McKillop Home & School

Members of McKillop Home & School Association became very active on the evening of the 28th meeting. Constable Douglas Young introduced the theme with a film "The Broken Doll." A story of the Community Safety. In this film a safety council was formed by interested citizens after a well known resident had been the victim of an accident. It showed how a Safety Council Committee is established, the results of such a committee working with the town police, setting up School Patrols; such as we have at McKillop School; how safety is taught to the children through safety games, bicycle Road-E-O, learning of road rules; safe driving habits; and water safety habits. The film taught that traffic loss can be reduced by the parent setting safe habits for the children to follow twenty-four hours a day.

Following this inspiring and thought provoking film a Panel Discussion stressed four different points of view, dealing with Safety.

Those taking part were Police Constable Douglas Young, Parent Mrs. Arthur Spence, Medical - Dr. Maserick, Insurance - Councillor Haggart. Mrs. Spence in her views brought forth observations as a parent, with regard to Safety Patrol methods. All traffic safety precautions can not be left to the Patrol System and should not more effort be put into obtaining sidewalks, elementary blind intersections and making our roads safer. Mrs. Spence concluded that with the ever increasing number of cars and bicycles and hot roads the hazards are greater. The teaching of safety is important. The giant share rests with the parents, but safety is a community problem. Therefore our elected representatives, our employees and local press should help. Dr. Maserick started the meeting with the statement that accidents remain the number one

President Perkins then presented certificate forwarded from Headquarters in recognition of her work in topping the Unit quota. This has happened every year since the Richmond Hill Unit was organized.

Reports on the year's work were given by Mrs. Kelly, Transport, Publicity, Mrs. Ritchie, Robertson,

Old Folks Enjoy Pleasant Outing

EVEN THE WEATHER CO-OPERATED to make last Sunday's Old Folks Outing organized by the North Toronto Motorsports Club in collaboration with "The Liberal", a huge success. For three weeks this newspaper invited entries for the outing which was a club on. On Sunday at 1.30 p.m. a long line of cars could be seen lined up on Richmond Heights Plaza from which point the outing commenced.

All Points Of Compass

But an hour before that the drivers had been going to all points of the compass to collect old folk and invalids participating. These came from Richmond Hill, from Oak Ridges, from Newmarket, from Willowdale and the district generally. The arrangements had been carefully planned and each driver knew in advance of Sunday which guest he was going to collect. All the drivers met with their passengers safely aboard on the shopping plaza by 1.30 p.m.

Supported by members of the club, Ken Mansell the well known racing driver and a partner of Shelton-Mansell Motors of Yonge Street S., Richmond Hill, in collaboration with "The Liberal" was responsible for the organization of the outing while his partner Dick Shelton was responsible for the planning of a wonderful picturesque route.

Carefully Planned Outing
To indicate the care and thought which went into the planning a memorandum was circulated to all members and which stated, "Remember, this is not a Rally". It went on to guide members in behavior, etc., in the words, "We must impress our guests by our courtesy to them and other travellers on the road rather than with our ability to drive."

"Do not drive fast, especially on the secondary roads as our guests may be young in heart, but they are not young in body. It is their day and we are merely their hosts and chauffeurs, so although we ask you to stay on the route for the sake of the organizer, if your passengers request a slight deviation, possibly through some familiar spot, by all means oblige."

Maximum Speed 40 M.P.H.
The drivers faithfully kept to these instructions. At no point along the route was a speed around 40 miles an hour exceeded. Considering that these drivers' chief hobby is sport cars and racing, this was an impressive demonstration of their sense of responsibility. Also it was a delight to see them giving an arm to their elderly passengers and in other ways making a wonderful day for their guests.

The route selected took the party from Richmond Heights Plaza west from Richmond Hill on the Maple side road through Maple and Kleinburg crossing 400 and 27 highways. The party then turned north to Bolton on Highway 50. From Bolton it proceeded southwest crossing Highway 10 to Cheltenham and on to Bell Fountaine and the Forks of the Credit, proceeding then northeast to Highway 10. The route went on to Caledon and Mono Mills to pick up Highway 9 to Highway 50 back to Bolton up Highway 11 via Nobleton and King City back to Richmond Hill.

The many points of interest along this route made it a thoroughly enjoyable trip and the scenery with autumn tints everywhere in evidence, with carpets of brown leaves, decorating the wooded areas charmed the old folk.

Points Of Interest
Some of the places of interest included the old hitching post at the corner of the main street in Maple, the airport in Maple, the new bridge replacing the narrow cement bridge on what is now Highway 49 just west of 27 Highway, the small park and swinging footbridge in Bell Fountaine, the railway through the valley at the Forks of the Credit where the exhibition train special derailed many years ago to become one of Ontario's worst train disasters, the old mill at the base of the hill below the Forks of the Credit station and the other in Palgrave just to the right as you cross the bridge, the river and dam in Bolton, one of Ontario's best trout fishing areas, and King City which was never a city, but won a supreme court order to retain the name.

Good Roads For Motorist
This route was arranged because of the high degree of interest and because the club wished their guests to see as much of the beautiful countryside as possible in the time allowed realizing that elderly folk could not undertake a too protracted tour which might prove tiring, and also because these roads are generally good, free of rough sections, and are not heavily travelled and because there were enough facilities in the towns on the route as they might require.

A Delightful Tea Party
Following the return of the party to Richmond Hill the guests were entertained to a delightful tea at the Richmond Theatre Grill which they obviously enjoyed as a happy climax to a highly successful and happy occasion which they will remember for a long time to come.

Public Spirited Club
Summing up during the tea, Ken Mansell said that he was happy to belong to such a public spirited club. Thanks were extended to Dick Shelton for arranging such an interesting route and by the old folk themselves to all the members and organizers for their generosity and thoughtfulness in planning such a lovely day for them.

Many of the club were so thrilled with the obvious success of their happy gesture and with the delight which was demonstrated by all concerned that some were anxious to make further plans immediately for more outings of the kind. One project mooted was a Christmas excursion for the whole lot of the children living in the Orange Home.

The general public will be glad we know to associate themselves with "The Liberal" in extending a big "Thank You" to the North Toronto Motorsports Club for the service they have rendered in this way to the district. It was WELL DONE. Thank you.

Button's Club 15, 4th Home-maker's Club, met last Thursday evening at the home of Miss Cora Brodie.

Ghosts and goblins, fierce pirates and highwaymen, polite Chinamen, and charming little old ladies, made their way to S. S. 3. Markham, last Friday afternoon for their annual Halloween frolic and party. It's a little doubtful if many hearty suppers were eaten in Headford that evening, as hilarous celebration in the evening at the Sunday School. Here, with the addition of the teachers and officers in costume also, and some pre-schoolers dressed up most cunningly, excitement ran high as Mr. Cummer Lee's programme of games took place. Ample refreshments of chocolate milk and cookies brought a very busy and mirthful day to a close.

Weather for the "Trick or Treat-ers" on Saturday evening was not so kind; and although the rain let up for the time being, the mud was certainly very "soupy," and slowed down the juvenile enthusiasm a little in Headford.

On Sunday, the Stan Clarksons and family went to Stouffville to visit Mrs. Clarkson's mother, Mrs. Topham, and "Aunt Dora," who makes her home with Mrs. Topham, the occasion being Grandma's birthday.

Murray and Lorraine Acreman were guests in Toronto on Sunday of Lorraine's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Ewart; while the Hal Acremans called on Mr. and Mrs. Mel Jones.

Headford W. A. will hold its November meeting on Tuesday evening, November 10, at eight o'clock in the Sunday School room. Program is in charge of Mrs. Wes Clark, and the word for roll-call is "stand." Nomination slips which were handed out at church, should be returned at this meeting. If you did not receive a slip, please enquire for one.
