"Dear Mr. Editor"

Christmas Too Commercialized
 Dear Mr. Editor:
 I may be a voice crying in the wilderness, but why can't something be done about the commercialization of Christmas?
 I may be termed old fashioned, but I like to think of this Season as a time for thought on the real meaning of Christmas. The real significance seems to be submerged in a frantic desire to make money, sell and give expensive gifts.
 The celebration of Christmas should centre around the birth of the Saviour of the world.
 Old Fashioned

Please Don't Steal Xmas Trees
 Dear Mr. Editor:
 It's hard to believe that anyone could enjoy coming down Christmas morning and looking at a stolen Christmas Tree. Yet we are told there are many hundreds stolen every year.
 Many people I know like to take the family and go out to the woods and cut their own tree. There's something real nice about that, and there's nothing wrong with it. But please before you go rampaging through the woods, ask the permission of the owner.
 Most farmers would welcome town people if approached the right way. Too many people take liberties with other people's property.
 Last year three men split a $90. fine for three stolen trees.
 Farmer's Wife

Enjoys Shopping in Richmond Hill
 Dear Mr. Editor:
 Congratulations to the people of Richmond Hill. Christmas is nearing and when you come to Richmond Hill there's no doubt about it.
 Yonge Street is most attractive and the various shopping plazas are bright and cheery with decorations and well stocked stores.
 Anyone who persists in going down to the big city to endure the terrific jams is just plum crazy. I've done all my shopping in Richmond Hill and I've enjoyed it.
 Decorations on the residential streets adds a special glow to the brightest holiday season of the year.
 Congratulations Richmond Hill on a fine Christmas — may it never grow dim. Merry Christmas to all.
 New Resident

Thanks to Curtain Club
 Dear Mister Editor:
 I would like to express my appreciation to the Curtain Club for their presentation of the pantomime "Cinderella" for the children of Richmond Hill. This show was received with tremendous enthusiasm and to those of us who link pantomime with the spirit of Christmas, it certainly showed that the traditionally live pantomime can still captivate the imaginative minds of the young, and foster memories in the not so young.
 Once again my thanks go to the Curtain Club for their wonderful effort, and I for one (I am sure I echo the sentiment of many) would like to see this club present a pantomime every Christmas.
 An Enthusiast

Correction
 The message of the above-named company carrying greetings to The Richmond Hill Curling Club, last week appeared erroneously under the heading, "Ready-Mixed Concrete Ltd., Gormley, Ontario." This should have appeared as "GORMLEY Ready-Mixed Concrete Ltd., Gormley, Ontario."
 No doubt most readers understood but we are glad to make this correction while regretting any inconvenience to the company.
 Yours faithfully,
 L. Sargeant

Jaycees Observe Third Anniversary
 Many prominent people of the Town of Richmond Hill will be present tonight at the Summit View Restaurant on the occasion of the celebration of the third anniversary of the establishment of the Richmond Hill Junior Chamber of Commerce.
Has Won Enduring Place
 The Jaycees as the Chamber is popularly known, has proven to be a very live addition to the district's worthwhile organizations. By its training of members in Public Speaking and Business Administration, by its organization of such community services as the recent highly successful, "Shop Locally Week" which attracted wide interest even outside the boundaries of the town, by its success in the field of national and international competition with other Jaycee groups, by its public spirited support of many worthwhile community projects over the past three years, the chamber has won an enduring place in the local community and has established a well deserved prestige and respect for itself.
Much Could Be Said
 Much more could be said on this occasion but no doubt most of it will be said in the course of the evening during its Anniversary Dinner and after, and will be reported in these columns next week.
Record of Public Service
 Thus for the present, "The Liberal" will content itself by wishing it continued success and congratulating the chamber upon its three year record of public service. May it long continue to serve the district.

New Church Established Climax To Meetings

FOLLOWING A SUCCESSFUL series of evangelistic meetings which have been conducted every Wednesday and Sunday evening in the Lions Hall, Centre Street East during recent weeks, Mr. Lawton Lowe, Pastor of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church has ended that series of meetings. He has established a Richmond Hill Seventh-Day Adventist Church which is now meeting until further notice in the new Masonic Hall on Crosby Avenue until land can be purchased and a new church building erected.
 Mr. Lowe now has a congregation of one hundred members resulting from the recently held meetings plus a few Adventist families who were already residing in the area and who have previously been compelled to travel to the Branson Hospital Campus, site of the nearest church before Pastor Lowe established his meetings in this district.
 Mr. Lowe says that the church has come to Richmond Hill to stay and that he will always be glad to welcome interested visitors.
 Meetings will be held every Saturday at the Masonic Hall with Sabbath School commencing at 2:30 p.m. and normal church services following at 3:40 p.m.
 Pastor Lowe is married and has two children. He currently lives at 26 Holcolm Road, Willowdale.

Christmas Program At W.I. December Meeting

The cheery Christmas spirit was everywhere in evidence at the Richmond Hill Women's Institute meeting, Thursday, December 10. There was a Christmas table decoration, corsages, gaily wrapped parcels and a demonstration of the making of Poinsettias.
 Mrs. J. Dewsbury, one of the W. I. representatives who attended the Safety Committee meeting gave a report. The Committee's aim is to promote safety, and get people thinking about safety. If anyone observes something that is a hazard they are asked to report it in writing to Mr. D. Toogood, 71 Rockport Crescent, Richmond Hill.
 Mrs. Pollard reported on a visit to Thornhaven School for retarded children. The members voted to give a donation of one hundred dollars to help equip the kitchen.
 A donation of ten dollars is to be sent to C.A.R.E.
 Mrs. C. H. Sanderson has received a thank you letter for her handkerchief from a lady in Helsinki Finland.
 More than sixty gifts were brought to be taken to York Manor.
 Mrs. H. H. MacKay brought a helpful Christmas message. We should not be so carried away by careless spending and lavish preparations that we are too tired to enjoy Christmas, she said.
 Mrs. Bayley brought several samples of the kinds of artificial flowers which she makes. There were corsages, apple blossom spray and poinsettias.
 She brought the material and demonstrated the method of putting the poinsettias together.
 Mrs. Bayley generously donated three prizes. Mrs. Giles was the lucky winner of the first prize an aluminum tray. Mrs. Pollard won a corsage while Mrs. Cameron won a poinsettia.
 The ladies were privileged to see a second demonstration. That one was painting on tile by Mrs. Joan McGregor, Leaside Ontario, which was quite interesting.
 During the social half hour plates of dainty cookies and Christmas cake were served. The hostesses were Mrs. J. Pollard, Mrs. Bowes, Mrs. Rumble and Mrs. Fox.

Municipal Board Gives Approval To Markham Tp. Plan
 The Ontario Municipal Board on Tuesday gave approval to Markham Township's application for an amendment to its official plan and zoning bylaw. This action gives the green light to development of several sub-divisions in the municipality which have been held up for the past four years.
 In October Metro Planning Board after holding up the development for several years gave approval to the sub-divisions. They included four sub-divisions in the south-west corner of the township.
 Approval of the Municipal Board given this week likely will mean an early start on the developments. The sub-divisions will be fully serviced with sanitary sewers, storm sewers, curbs, municipal water and 28 foot paved roads.
