The Charles Howitt School Christmas Concert was a huge success. The tickets were sold out for both Tuesday December 15 and Wednesday, December 16. The parents, grandparents and friends were justly proud of their children's efforts. The Christmas procession was beautifully sung by Grades 3, 4 and 5, dressed in white choir gowns with red bows and carrying candles. The narrator was Michael Tustain, whose sweetly accented voice was a joy to hear. "The Elves and the Shoemaker" was the primary operetta which was suitably done by the little children taking the parts of the elves, shoemaker and his family. The costumes were attractive and the choir in the background sang the story as the children enacted it.

The senior operetta was Scrooge's Christmas, and it was excellent in both costume and acting. You could hear the fine teaching of Mr. Hugh Martin, music supervisor in the singing, the evidence of Mrs. Kathie Elliott, art supervisor, in the colorful scenery. The piano was played by Miss E. Reid, kindergarten assistant, for the primary and junior group, and by Mrs. C. Hambly, Roosevelt Drive for the senior operetta. Gifts were presented to the two pianists in appreciation of the school for all their extra work, by Beverley Markle and Marilyn Kelly.

Cub and Scout Party
1st Langstaff Cubs and Scouts

were given a Christmas party by the Mothers' Auxillary on Friday, December 18, at Charles Howitt School. After playing games and watching a film, the cubs and scouts were feasted with do-nuts, cookies and ice cream. Pens were distributed as the boys left as a tangible Christmas reminder.

Recordings for Radio
On Friday morning the cast of Scrooge's Christmas went by bus to Stouffville to record a condensed version of their operetta. It will be played over CJRH on January 2.

Socials
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warner, Denham Dr., held a party for their friends and neighbours on Friday, December 18. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Peck, Westwood Lane, had a Christmas party for their friends on Saturday, December 19 at their home.

Chicken Roll
The Neighborhood Bowlers held a chicken roll on December 18. Winners were Joyce Miles, Eileen White, Lena Smith and Helen Sand. Winner of a chicken in the lucky draw was Elizabeth Overall-Newman. Congratulations to all the winners.
