St. Matthews United Held Annual Meeting

The congregation of St. Matthews' United Church met in the church building on Crosby Ave. on Tuesday evening for the review of the past year's work, and the consideration of plans for the present year. A good attendance revealed a growing interest in the organization and life of the church.

Reports were presented which showed that the size and activity of this young congregation continue to increase. During the past year the youth groups have increased both in numbers and attendance. New during the year are the Explorer group for junior girls, with thirty-five enrolled members, and the Tyro for junior boys, with twenty-five enrolled. Sunday school enrollment and attendance have increased greatly during the year. Other organizations and activities reported a healthy state of activity and devotion. Auditors reported that the total moneys raised by the congregation during the year was $18,400, as compared with $11,900 during 1959. Of this amount $1,100 was contributed for Missionary Maintenance, Fund, and $280 for the Woman's Missionary Society. The Session reported that seventy-one baptisms had been performed during the year. Sixty persons were admitted to full membership, twenty of whom were admitted on profession of their faith. The membership roll stood at December 31st at 383 members.

Of great significance for the future of this congregation was the report of the Building Committee. This committee presented the detailed drawings for the proposed new building, and the meeting discussed and endorsed them, giving instructions that the building committee put the plans out for tender during March. It is hoped that the construction of the new church may begin this Spring. The proposed plans call for the erection, as the first unit in the building the nave and chancel of the church. This will be built on grade without a basement. Surrounding it will be space for later expansion, but presently providing accommodation for Sunday school and other activities. The Nave is planned to seat 320, with thirty in the choir.

The chancel shows a choir pulpit design, with the choir massed on the one side, and provision for the organ, and console on the other.

The narthex and what will provide a gallery eventually over it are being built with sound proof walls, to allow their use for youth groups at the same time that the nave is being used for worship. Along a side of the building is also provided space which will be used presently for choir rooms and office, but will be left for the present as a Sunday school department room. Heating is planned as a hot water system, fired by oil.

The beauty of the building will only be fully realized when the second unit is erected, with the main entrance then being situated in the connecting link between the two. For the present entrance will be on the side, and at the end of the church furthest from the street.

Elections of new officers were conducted and Mr. Doug Crawford was made the new treasurer of the building fund. Elders who will serve in 1960 for the first time will be Messrs. Sam Cook, John Hill, Lorne McNaught, and Dick Rudd. Newly elected stewards will be Messrs. Cliff Plume, Bud Patton, and Harry Thomson.

Awarded Badge

The First Beverley Acres Boy Scout group takes pleasure in announcing that the coveted Religion and Life badge has been awarded to Queen's Scout David Sale. This is one of only three badges that a Scout may wear on his chest rather than on the arm. The candidate is tested by his minister, priest or rabbi.

Rev. J. W. Newton-Smith of St. Gabriel's Anglican Church was David's examiner and he found him to be well qualified for this honour.

David lives at 223 Beechy in Beverley Acres, with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sale. He recently attended a River Moot and proved that he was fully qualified to wear the Winter Sportsman badge, a symbol of allround ability in winter activities.

A credit to his Troop and to Scouting in general he has been selected along with another Queen's Scout, Pete Maddeaux, to take part in a discussion over C.J.R.H. All are urged to dial 1310 at 9:30 p.m., February 23 to hear these and other Scouts discuss Scouting in general.

STOFFVILLE Municipal council will advertise at once for a dog catcher — to prepare for eventualities... such as spring, newly tilled gardens and dogs running at large.

"Talks" To Sister Across The Miles

How excited everyone was in the Durrant household at Elgin Mills on Wednesday of last week, when Mrs. J. Durrant's sister, Mrs. Ann Hall of West Bromwich, England, telephoned "from across the pond".

Mrs. Durrant said it was the first time in 50 years the two sisters had heard each other's voices and yet despite the lapse of time there was no strangeness just a happy feeling to be able to 'talk' to one another again. Mr. Durrant also had the pleasure of speaking with his sister-in-law.

Despite an overnight snowfall and a keen north wind, 13 enthusiastic boys met at the Legion Hall on Carville at 9 a.m. on February 7 for a Sunday hike. One A.S.M. led Patrol Leaders and Seconds off to mark the trail, the remainder of the troop followed after a 15 minute interval, a wooded lot near Dufferin. After eventually joining the leaders in much searching for dry wood, fires were started and meals cooked, the S.M. demonstrating the preparation and cooking of a shishkabob which he ate with apparent enjoyment.

The boys still had energy to spare and this was partly expended on a game of "Relieve-O" which provided enough thrills and chills in the snow to tire even the most hardy amongst them.

By 2 p.m. everyone was beginning to feel a little tired, so fires were doused and with the keen wind, this time blowing into left ears, came the steady walk home.

The next outdoor event will be a week-end trip to a cottage for senior scouts, news of which will be published later.

Canvassers for the Boy Scout Campaign are pleased to report they have met with an enthusiastic response to their drive, and hope it will go over the top.

One of our best-known birds, the Eastern Bluebird, was drastically reduced in numbers in the northern part of its range two years ago. The situation was so serious that the Bluebird was termed a 'disaster species' by a well-known Ontario Ornithologist. Now, if the hundreds of letters received by the Federation of Ontario Naturalists from all across Canada are an indication, the Bluebird seems to be making a comeback, particularly in the rural and northern areas. One observer saw nineteen adult Bluebirds along a concession road in the Bruce Peninsula last June. He also found a nest containing four young Bluebirds.

However the situation is still serious and every effort should be made to provide nest-boxes, placed in suitable locations, during February and March when the Bluebird returns from its wintering grounds in the South.

Last year a number of nest-boxes were put up by the public in response to a call from the "Save the Bluebirds" Campaign, sponsored by the F.O.N.

Plans of nesting-boxes for the Bluebird are available free of charge from the Federation office, Edward Gardens, Don Mills, Ont.

The Ontario Naturalists are meeting in annual convention at Richmond Hill this week-end.

Delegation Night

The Reeve moved that traps be installed at homes in Beverley Acres where flooding occurred, and that the town engage an engineer to examine the whole system and recommend any changes or additions in the sanitary sewer system. The motion was seconded by Councillor Bradstock and carried.

Councillor Broadhurst suggested the whole matter should be considered by the Special Committee investigating the engineering for Beverley Acres subdivision. He suggested special attention in investigating the engineering when phase two of the Beverley Acres development was proceeded with.

Ambulance Service
Roy McBrien who commenced operation of an ambulance service here last October asked a town subsidy if the service is to continue. He suggested a town subsidy of $100. per month.

The operation has been unprofitable to date. From October to the end of the year he received 47 calls, and of these 27 have been paid and 20 remain unpaid. He told council he had picked up a case where the man had suffered a broken neck and had to be taken to the hospital. He answered the call in good faith but is still waiting payment of the account. About half his calls are in Vaughan and he is approaching that municipality for assistance.

Mayor Tomlin said the Municipal Act does not authorize payment of a subsidy by the town. "We're thinking of building a hospital, so should have an ambulance," said Councillor Broadhurst.

Reeve Haggart said he didn't think there would be any legal difficulties if the town hired someone to operate an ambulance.

On motion of Councillor Broadhurst it was agreed to investigate ways and means of continuing the required service up to a maximum outlay of $1200. per year.

Debentures
Reeve Haggart reported that York County Council has established a policy of guaranteeing debentures for High School Buildings in the County and will issue debentures for $800,000. for the new Bayview High School in Richmond Hill.

"Before you buy — it will pay you to give us a try!"

HAVE YOU HEARD THIS ONE?

Working in his garden one day, a man was startled to see a flying saucer alight and some little green men get out and scan the area with binoculars.

"Excuse me," he said apologetically, "but what are you fellows looking for?"

Without bothering to look up the spokesman for the group retorted: "Little green women."

That figures. And something else that 'figures' is the care you take in selecting a reliable dry cleaner. Here at Barth's we take pride in the special consideration we give every garment that comes in to our plant. For out-of-this-world dry cleaning care at down-to-earth prices, try us.
