Kingerarts members have changed their meeting date to next Thursday. Following business discussion, refreshments will be served by the Hooking Group.

Insurance Unsettled
Sacred Heart community church services are continuing uninterrupted in the school, following collapse of the church roof nearly two weeks ago.

Whether or not the building's loss will mean a boost of $9,000 to the new church fund will depend upon the exact cause of the roof caving. Rev. J. G. Brennan told the Liberal the church was insured for fire, but this did not include snow damage. There were heavy winds and rain the night the roof, holding some snow, fell. The congregation plans to start the new church this spring. A confirmation service, usually held at the parent church, St. Patrick's, in Schomberg, will likely be transferred to the new Sacred Heart Church this fall.

King City Names Commissioners

Four tenders for a new fire pumper truck, which were opened by King City Village Trustees, indicated the village will have to pay more than the $17,000 anticipated.

Lowest tender was for $18,215 by C. D. Hickey, and highest, $20,849, by King's Seaside of Woodstock. American Marsh met specifications with a $19,695 offer and La France, $19,900.

At the February 8 meeting in the Fire Hall, representatives of the four companies were interviewed separately by Trustees, Fire Chief David Glass, Deputy Fire Chief Harold Kirby and firemen Donald McCallum, Jack Walkington, John Monkman and William Willoughby.

No decision was made immediately. Trustees proposed paying cash for the Brigade equipment from a reserve fund and impost lot fees.

Plan New Church
Letters from Township Clerk Harold Rose and Mr. William Heaslip, Chairman of King City United Church Building Committee, asked Trustees' views about using the future park area beside Eva L. Dennis School as parking space for a possible 100 cars.

The committee is considering three lots on Elizabeth Grove in Clearview Gardens as site for the new United Church.

Trustees voiced agreement with the planning Board and Township Council that the park lot was unsuitable. A second property, part of land owned by Gordon Orr and adjoining the Elizabeth Grove lots was recommended instead.

"I don't think it would be fair to tie up public land for cars, especially when children will be using it as playground," commented Chairman Ronald Bolton. By-law in Force

A letter from Transport Minister John Yaremko notified Trustees their traffic by-law No. 20 drafted last year had been accepted. Secretary Mr. G. T. Thompson said it was now in force.

An insurance payment of $78.50 was announced to cover damages by vandals to No. 1 pump house last October.

Mr. George Cruickshank, representing Heritage Park Association, was told his subdivision would receive a refund of $7.31 for street lights. Agreement between ratepayers and Trustees had been the Association would pay the lesser amount of $300 or half the cost of installing four lights in their section.

Mr. Bolton read the by-law officially appointing himself Fire and Water Commissioner; Mrs. Mary Scott, Roads Commissioner, and Mr. Warren McKendry, Police Commissioner.
