Jefferson School Transportation

Vaughan Township School Area Board of Trustees Thursday evening approved a motion of Vice-Chairman Mrs. Mona Robertson that there be no change in transportation arrangements for Jefferson Public School children at this time and that the bus service at the September opening of school be the same as that in effect when school closed in June.

The motion, seconded by Trustee Sam Kaiser, was made after a delegation of nine men from the former Jefferson School Section appeared before the board to try to ensure a safe trip for the Jefferson children who have to walk along sidewalkless Yonge Street. Trustees Mrs. Ruth Hogg, Mrs. Robertson and Mr. Kaiser supported the motion. Trustee Milton Savage opposed the motion on the grounds he "did not want bus overcrowding" with children who lived within walking distance of the school. Trustee Savage claimed Trustee Robertson had brought up the complaint of overcrowding earlier in the year. Mrs. Robertson denied having made such a complaint.

Not Established
 At the beginning of the discussion Chairman H. A. Constable said he understood the delegation was asking "what is going to be done regarding transportation for children in the fall." Mr. Ron Brown, speaking for the Jefferson delegation said, "Most of us are from Gamble Sideroad and Bathurst St. we heard some discussion of school buses being discontinued and we'd like to know the facts." (For the past seven years arrangements have been for two buses to carry the Jefferson children who would normally have to walk on Yonge Street.)

Chairman Constable answered by saying, "The board is aware transportation is a problem but we haven't come to any conclusion whatsoever. We referred the matter back to committee for discussion. No decision has been arrived at."
 "Then can we say there is no change of plans, deviating from the previous years?" asked Trustee Mrs. Robertson.
 "We haven't decided one way or the other. We would not be justified in saying there would not be as there might be change. Frankly, we haven't spent too much time discussing it," said Chairman Constable.

"We have no general policy regarding bus transportation," added Trustee Mrs. Hogg.
 "Until after school commences on September sixth, it is highly doubtful we could make a decision; we cannot say definitely 'yes' or 'no,'" reiterated Chairman Constable.
 Trustee Kaiser asked how far away the children of those present lived and was told all live a minimum of one and three quarters of a mile from school. Trustee Mrs. Robertson added, "The children who live closer would have to walk on the Yonge St. shoulder. That is why I made a previous recommendation that we try to get the speed limit reduced."

"It's all a 50 mile zone now and no sidewalks," said Mr. Brown. No Bus Contracts Now
 It was pointed out the board at present has no bus contracts; they expired the last of June, 1960.
Close To School Opening
 At this information several persons present exclaimed, "It's only a few weeks until school opens."
 Trustee Mrs. Robertson suggested that there be no change in Jefferson transportation from that of January, 1959.
 "You have no more to put up with than many other places," Trustee Milton Savage told the delegation. "If we pass this, we will have the delegations filling this place, many have children who live close to two miles from school. According to law, we have to transport if children live two miles."
 A delegate asked, "If a child lives 1 1/2 miles away is the school bus going to pass him by?"
 Trustee Sam Kaiser said, "I'd like you people to understand Yonge St. is no worse than No. 7 Highway. There are also heavy trucks on Keele St. The 50 mile limit applies on Hwy. 27 across the township, we are concerned about that too; Yonge St. is no more dangerous."
 "We are 10 to one more plentiful on Yonge Street, but not as many trucks," said a delegate.
 Trustee Mrs. Robertson recalled that last month she had moved that the property committee go over the township and determine where buses are needed.
 (The board members spoke of the time spent lately in visiting the schools to see what alterations and repairs are needed.)
 Chairman Constable commented, "With you people asking for definite assurance, we can give no answer. By September first if general policy hasn't been established then we cannot give a guarantee."
 Again those present said, "Time is running short, when is this committee going to meet?"
 Chairman Constable said, "In the next week or two we'll probably make policy throughout the township. We can make up a contract in 20 minutes. We are waiting for our Superintendent to return from vacation, the contract has to be authorized by the Department of Education." Later Chairman Constable said it might take until the end of the year to determine the policy of the board and could change the whole decision.

Trustee Mrs. Robertson said the expenses might be cut down for Jefferson transportation by picking up only the children who have to go along Yonge St. "We do have two buses, we might cut down on expenses," she said.
 Chairman Constable in reply to a question said the cost was by the mile, not the number of children. "It would cost no more to pick up all the children," he said.
 Chairman Constable said although he did not like quoting figures, "94% of the youngsters being transported to Jefferson School by bus are not eligible for grant." Earlier Chairman Constable said it was too bad Superintendent J. A. Gibson was not present to go over the question as he had been Inspector at the school when the ratepayers decided to assume the costs of the transportation some years ago irrespective of provincial grants. Mr. Constable also stated, "The fast finding program is at a standstill until the school year starts."

Trustee Mrs. Robertson then said, "We should give the ratepayers some assurance the bus will go on until otherwise notified." And from this suggestion came her motion to continue the bus service without change from that scheduled in 1959.
 Trustee Mrs. Robertson then suggested a "meeting where people come out and ask questions before we finalize the transportation matter."
 Trustee Savage spoke of "2,000 more kids walking to school, some over two miles, and they are all sizes."
Further Business
 On motion of Trustee Mrs. Hogg, the board decided to obtain a photograph as requested to be included in "A History of Woodbridge and District" now being compiled by Mr. Sawdon.
 In the report of the finance committee (Trustee Kaiser, chairman) it was recommended a grant of $5.00 be paid to the Kleinburg Library Association for 1960 only, and that this grant not be considered as establishing a precedent. The recommendation was passed.

Agenda For Press
 Trustee Mrs. Robertson asked if the press had been presented a copy of the agenda as mentioned previously. When the answer was in the negative, she asked that it be done the next time and Trustee Mrs. Hogg upheld her proposal to which there was no dissent.

 would require approval from the Municipal Board.
 Mayor Tomlin suggested that an agreement between the school board and Pleasantville Development Ltd. of a lump sum settlement should take care of the situation.
 Mr. Smith stated that the permanent drainage cannot be decided at present because the final plans for the subdivision have not been approved. However Mr. Smith can give to the town an approximate number of homes to be built plus a suitable plan sufficiently similar to serve our purpose at this time.
 Mayor Tomlin authorized Mr. Vandermaas to obtain from the town all information regarding the drainage requirements of the school site plus drawings from the school board. These will be turned over to Mr. Smith.
 Mr. Smith stated that the engineers of the Pleasantville Development Ltd. at their own expense would be able to arrive at a cost of the subdivision sewers in order to accommodate the water run off from the school site. Whether temporary storms or permanent storms are supplied the cost to the Richmond Hill School Board would definitely be their share and would involve no further obligation on the part of the board.
 Trustee Sanderson also made mention of the future need of a walkway from Easy Street to the school grounds. This was clearly understood by Mr. Smith.
 Mayor Tomlin stated that the town would be responsible for the upkeep of the easement. Mr. Vandermaas said the field work would not take more than three days.

Mr. Steele, the board's solicitor, is preparing another Pleasantville easement agreement with two minor changes, leaving a blank for the amount to be inserted later.
 Chairman Clement once again impressed on those present the importance of the time element, stating that for the safety of the children this work should be completed before the opening of school on September 6.

Trustee Mrs. Robertson said the expenses might be cut down for Jefferson transportation by picking up only the children who have to go along Yonge St. "We do have two buses, we might cut down on expenses," she said.

 A farm boy was attending his first day of high school and was writing a short essay on what he had done that day before coming to class.
 "It is incorrect to say I 'et six eggs for breakfast'" said the teacher. "You mean ate."
 "Wal... mebbey it was eight I et," said the boy.
 Ate or et... either one reminds me that we all still fond on our clothing at one time or another. And, naturally, this reminds me to tell you that were expert when it comes to thoroughly removing food spots from your clothing. I'd just like to add that when it happens, it's wise to get your garment to the cleaner as quickly as possible. 'Mebby' us?
