"The Liberal" is always willing to publish interesting items regarding people and events contributed by its readers in Maple, Concord & Edgeley districts. Our representative in Maple is Mrs. Len Shore, Alpine 7-1150; and in Edgeley and Sherwood, Mrs. Raymond Stuart, Av. 5-1934.

Maple Notes

Reeve John Perry officiated at the ceremony commemorating the opening of the Trans-Canada Gas Pipeline, on the 6th Concession, Vaughan Township, Tuesday morning, September 13. On Thursday evening, September 15, Mr. Perry was guest speaker in Pt. Colborne, at the opening fall meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Perfect Crib Hand
For 60 years Mr. Fred Sainsbury of Weston, now 80 years of age, has been an ardent cribbage player and fan. He has belonged to crib clubs but now more or less depends on cornering his sons and daughters for a game when they drop in for a visit.

Each Friday he visits his daughter, Mrs. Mary Darker of Maple, and a few hands of crib is the accepted routine. So it was on Friday, September 16, that Mr. Sainsbury had what every player dreams of, but few experience, a perfect hand!

Congratulations — and his opponent, Mary Darker was as excited and thrilled for him as he was himself!

"Big" Winner
Bozo, a great dane, won a new bicycle for his young master, Bryce Yorke of Maple, on Saturday when he was judged biggest dog at the "mutt show" at Richmond Heights Plaza.

Annual Cancer Society Meeting
See the account of this meeting elsewhere in "The Liberal" and please support Maple Branch by inviting a neighbor and come along to hear Dr. Dorothy Ley — you'll find it worth your while.

United Church W.M.S.
The September meeting of Maple United Church W.M.S. was held Tuesday evening, September 20, in the church parlor with Mrs. T. F. Jackson presiding for the business session.

Mrs. Harry Jackson gave a report on the District Rally held at Uxbridge. A "Primary Club" is to be formed as a branch of the "Explorers", to include girls aged seven and eight — as reported by Mrs. H. Davies.

Hostess for this September meeting was Mrs. M. Kinnee and she, with her group, was in charge of the program and refreshments. The devotional period was led by Mrs. N. Woods with Mrs. G. Watson, pianist. Mrs. J. Neufeld sang a solo, "How Great Thou Art," accompanied by Mrs. R. Clegg.

The new study book, "The Ship Under the Cross," by John Webster Grant, was introduced by Mrs. H. Davies. Rather than the study of a country as before, this book deals with the development of the Ecumenical Movement (meaning universal or worldwide, its past, its present and its possible future as it has developed into the formation of the World Council of Churches.)

Refreshments were served at the closing of the meeting.

Please Note - the Fall Thanksgiving meeting will be held in the church, Tuesday, October 18, at 2:30 p.m., with Dr. Long, immediate past president of the Dominion Board as the guest speaker.

Sunday School Rally
Rally Day was observed in the Maple United Church Sunday School on Sunday, September 25. A special Rally Day program was followed along with promotions in the various classes. It was an open session under the leadership of Mr. Morley Kinnee and his departmental superintendents and with Mrs. Wm. Woods as the pianist.

Just For the Record
The Home & School catered for the first Lions' dinner of this season last Thursday night. By the way — this is not a closed or exclusive club — don't hesitate to call one of the convenors if you are just dying to lend a hand but don't want to appear "pushy"! Your services would be most welcome.

Did You Know?
If you have pre-school aged children, here is something I just heard about that may interest you. There is daily transportation from Maple to a co-operative nursery school in Richmond Hill. As far as I know this is something new this year so if you are interested, give me a call and you can make further enquiry.

St. Andrew's WA and WMS
The WA and WMS of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held its first meeting of the fall season at the home of Mrs. H. A. Constable, on Wednesday evening, September 21.

Mrs. J. Kingsburgh presided and extended a warm welcome to members and visitors. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. David Sinclair and Mrs. Pust.

The topic "Together We Work in Eastern Nigeria" was conveyed by Mrs. Sinclair and assisted by Mrs. H. Smythe and Mrs. J. M. McDonald.

The next meeting will be the Autumn Thankoffering Meeting to be held at the church on Wednesday evening, October 19. Reeve Perry Guest of Jaycees

When Reeve John Perry was guest of the Port Colborne Junior Chamber of Commerce at Cedar Bay Inn, Thursday, September 15, he chose as his topic, "The Canadian Way of Life."

Maintaining that Canadians must determine a definite purpose in this "credit card" society, or crumble as other internally decayed nations have done in the past — Mr. Perry went on to emphasize, "This generation must seek solutions to the religious, economic and moral problems which riddle today's moral fabric."

He insisted there must be a reevaluation of our morals and goals in life.

In stating that "American unions are ruining this country," he expressed doubts whether Canada could maintain a national industry producing costlier but shoddier goods and still compete on the world market.

Mr. Perry concluded by saying that members of such groups as the Jaycees would have to provide leadership in solving the grave religious, moral and economic problems facing their generation.

Back From Summer at Jasper
Tim Weir is home and getting caught up in the fall swing of things around these parts, after spending three months at Jasper Lodge where he did some caddy-ing for such interesting personalities as Bing and Cathy Crosby, and Phil and Faye Harris, to name a few.

He's trying out the business world by working at Maclean-Hunter in Toronto these days. A Model Resident

No doubt you recognized that certain assured lovely model strutting her stuff at the fashion show, sponsored by the Catholic Women's League in Richmond Hill, as the same one and only Ruth McConkey who can be spotted astride a small tractor or exercising the Pine Hill Farm harcandy, garden produce etc., as well as well made aprons. In the other booth, more West York W. I. ladies were busy quilting a woolen plaid quilt.

Kingerafts
In the next building the Kingcraft group from King, were making hand hooked rugs and displayed other useful articles such as door-stops, coasters, chair mats etc., that could be made from old woolen garments after they are dyed attractive vivid colors, cut in strips and hooked into many beautifully patterned household items that are both decorative and useful.

The Simon Resor group in another booth were having a busy time converting cabbage into sauerkraut which the public eagerly sought. Here also the individual sweet tooth could be satisfied with Mr. Resor's fine honey.

Mrs. R. Burton, in an adjacent building demonstrated the making of butter in an old fashioned churn, while Mrs. E.

Blair demonstrated the spinning techniques employed by the early settlers.

And, of course, the Snider brothers Percy and Wilber, were on hand at the big cauldrons, bailing down the cider and the apples into apple butter. The Snider family have been making this delicious spread for about 140 years and its making is a large undertaking.

Descendants
Many of the descendants of the pioneers in the immediate area were on hand to help out with the converting of five whole pigs into sausages, lard, spare ribs and pork roasts, and they found it difficult to keep up with the public demand for their products.

There were also demonstrations of threshing, both with flail and by horse power.

Overseeing this operation was Homer Whitmore of Edgeley, a direct descendant of a local pioneer family. Close by, demonstrations were conducted on the technique of re-tiring a wagon wheel.

And of course, cultural pursuits were not forgotten as a Victorian play was enacted and the dance and music of that era were portrayed.

Edgeley W. I.
The members of the Edgeley Women's Institute were on hand with their delicious home baked apple pies and generous wedges of Canadian Cheddar cheese as well as cider, fresh from a cider mill in Markham.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind provided a real service for the visitors and hosts alike when they undertook to provide lunches and dinners or light refreshment for all who desired it. So great was the demand for their services that they were all sold out by mid-afternoon.

Many groups seized the opportunity to enjoy a picnic at the rustic tables so conveniently arranged along the tree-lined creek banks.

The eleven pioneer buildings attracted huge crowds and many of the people proceeded to visit the Pioneer Cemetery on the grounds where the settlers of the land that is now the Pioneer Village are buried. Visitors also could experience the thrill of transportation by horse and buggy as they shuttled in this mode around the Pioneer Village. A bus transported visitors to the pioneer barn north of Steeles Ave.

All in all, it was quite a day to remember, and a most pleasant one too, for this event provided an excellent opportunity for many a reunion with friends and relatives, which everyone seemed to take advantage of to the fullest.

Walk — To Really Enjoy Visiting Historical Places Of Interest

By Toby Shore
A most delightful and interesting holiday was spent in England and Scotland by Mrs. David Archibald of Maple, who flew B. O.A.C. jet last July to visit friends there and has now returned to her home and family in Maple.

Although Mrs. Archibald had lived in England for eight years, 21 years ago, the weather, she says, couldn't have been more dreary or cold. It rained consistently and the old "saw" — "you know our weather hasn't been as wretched as this for ages" — was banded about whenever a non-native should happen to comment. To be fair, the sun did shine after the first four and a half weeks but the temperature never reached sixty degrees.

One such lucky day was the Civic Holiday when all elements combined to make Navy Day at Portsmouth an exciting and memorable affair. Giving Canadian tourists a touch of pride and a reminder of home were the Canadian destroyers taking part in the naval exercises and displays.

Mrs. Archibald took a tour around the bay on a landing barge. A touch of nostalgia was felt by all a building was constructed could stand the ravages of time and weather so magnificently — he firmly allowed 'faith had held it together!' A yew tree proudly and serenely had survived the passing parade over the centuries as it was as old as the church. Many well-known people, down through the ages, were buried in the crypt and many visitors, some very famous, others not so famous, had signed the guest book.

Mr. Archibald explored Alton and Borden Camp in Hampshire; Winchester — King Alfred's town; Aldershot, Southampton and more. One cathedral she attended (still in use) was built in 1450, and is 200 feet long; the rectory was built in 1477.

Yes, in those days the buildings were built to last and to a great extent they most surely have. Some friends of hers are living in a house, just one of many that is 400 years old!

Next our intrepid tourist journeyed to Bonnie Scotland and Kelso, the home of Sir Walter Scott and Bonnie Prince Charlie. Along the Tweed River flourished beautiful sheep grazing land.

On to Jedburgh, where Mary Queen of Scots resided in a house with walls four solid feet thick and with cobblestone floors. In Southampton, known to many as 'God's House,' is a large old structure, housing and making a home for retired minister.

Take it from one who knows — the only way to really see something in a country (a section at a time) is to walk! So recommends Mrs. Archibald who says she completely wore out a pair of shoes as she walked a full 30 miles on foot over Scotland's banks and braes.

Perhaps not so strongly recommended as travelling by train — that is if you are in a hurry. It took 14 hours for Mrs. Archibald to travel back from Scotland to Borden and half that time, seven hours, to fly on her jet to Malton — such is our jet age!
