The Small Child & Sleep

If your child's play is wholesome it will result in a good appetite and a desire to get to bed, but too much excitement and continuous mental activity may produce fatigue which will interfere with sound sleep. Exciting parties, continuous hilarity, too much radio or television, going to the movies, excessive automobiling — all may be exhausting. Teasing by parents and older children may produce the same unfortunate result. Fatigue may show itself as irritability, disturbed sleep, crying easily, loss of appetite, failure to gain weight or lack of color. These are red flags for you — warnings of trouble. Head them and see your doctor.

Side Street
Parking Ban

Town Council Monday night adopted a report of the Police Committee presented by Deputy-reeve S. F. Tinker providing for amendments to the local parking by-law. It provides that parking will be banned on both sides of Crosby for a distance of 430 feet east of Yonge St. on the south side of Arnold between Yonge and Elizabeth, on the south side of Wright from Yonge to Hall St. and on both sides of Dufferin St. Chairman Al Harley and Don G. Plaxton appeared before council and received approval of the 1960 budget of $2,598.52. Mayor Tomlin and council members paid tribute to the Parking Authority members for their prompt action in getting a start on providing off-street parking. "When we appointed the Authority members we sought out men who we thought would get things done, and you have proven you are men of action," said the Mayor.

Council approved a grant of $500. to the Thornhaven School for Retarded Children campaign. Approval was given a report of the Personnel Committee presented by Councillor Mrs. Margaret Southwell recommending an additional $20 per week to the caretaker of the municipal building for care of extra space. Mayor Tomlin extended thanks to representatives of "The Liberal" and CJRH, the only two media regularly reporting council meetings for their fair and informative reporting of council sessions.

Obituary

LATE MRS. ANNIE L. LEECE
Beautiful floral offerings filling the chapel of the Wright & Taylor Funeral Home, bespoke the loving regard of neighbours and friends of the late Annie Louisa Leece who passed away quietly early Saturday morning, December 3, 1960 in the Newmarket Hospital, just eleven hours after she had been admitted.

Mrs. Leece, widow of Joseph William Leece, Roseview Avenue, Richmond Hill, was in her 70th year. She had been in failing health for several years, and confined to her home. Born in Teston, the daughter of Washington and Catherine Dice-man, she lived there until her first marriage, to Harvey Paterson in 1914; when they moved to Richmond Hill. Two children were born of that union, Alex and Mary Paterson. Mr. Paterson died in 1929 and his widow married Joseph Leece in 1933. They had one son, Gordon.

An active member of the Richmond Hill United Church until her health failed, Mrs. Leece was a former member of the Women's Institute and the Richmond Hill United W. A.

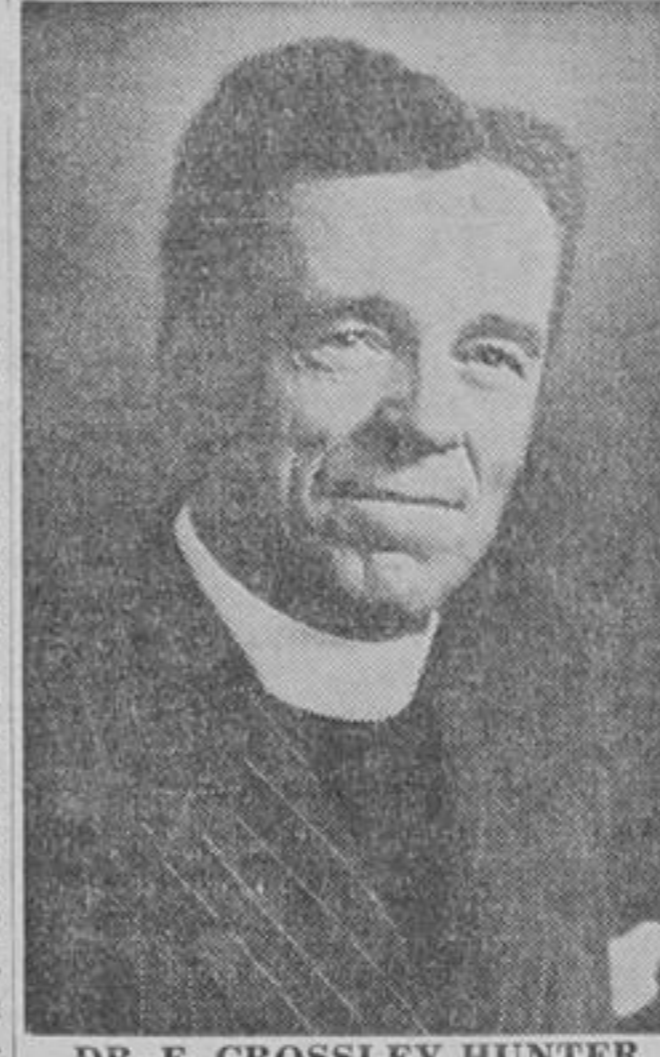

Surviving besides her children are five grandchildren; two brothers Louis and Oliver Dice-man, and three sisters, Mrs. Pearl Durston, Manitoba, Mrs. Ida May Palmer, Newmarket, and Mrs. Florence Dice-man, Maple. Interment was in Maple Cemetery on Monday, with the Rev. C. G. Higginson officiating and the pall bearers were six nephews, Stanley, Floyd, Stuart and Orville Dice-man, Fred Doust and Albert Gillhan.

Dad Delivers
Bouncing Baby

Never was a baby's first cry so welcome as the first wail loosed by baby Gary Woods, infant son born to Gerald Woods and his wife, Eileen, at 4:40 a.m. November 25, 1960. For wee Gary made such a rapid entrance into the Wood's family circle, his surprised but capable Dad had to attend his birth himself — without the aid of nurses or the family doctor, Dr. Don MacGregor. Gerald Woods, who is by occupation a designer — and never read a baby book on "baby birth procedure" in his life — was talking on the telephone to the doctor at 4:35 a.m., making arrangements to take Eileen Woods to the hospital "at once" when Mrs. Woods called on him for assistance. Baby Gary had decided to be born at home — and go to the hospital later with his mother by ambulance, wrapped in clean towels and warm blankets, accompanied for his trip by Dr. MacGregor who arrived at the Wood's Gormley home after the birth.

Mrs. Woods praised her resourceful husband, who took to the job of midwife with speed and despatch, ushering his lustily crying 7 pound 15½ ounce son into the world with loving care.

During the arrival, the Wood's four-year-old son, Roddy, who had been awakened and readied to go along to the hospital with Mother and Dad, waited to make the trip — but when the journey was cancelled, for Roddy and his Dad, the youngster finally settled down as Gerald read to him from his nursery story books. "That was the hardest part of the job," Gerald said, "trying to stay awake after the excitement, to read to Roddy."

The Woods, who lived in Beverley Acres, Richmond Hill, until a year ago this month, now live on the Gormley Townline.

Rotary Club To Sell
Christmas Trees

Local families may help the Thornhaven School for Retarded Children — as well as themselves — by purchasing their Christmas trees again this year from members of the Rotary Club, at two centres in "The Hill". Loblaw Groceries have kindly donated the use of the south-east corner of their parking lot for the Rotarians to sell trees, and Sam Sorbara has donated the use of the Sorbara Building parking lot, opposite the Municipal Offices on Yonge Street, for a Christmas tree depot.

Prices of these Rotary Christmas trees will be very reasonable and they are of excellent quality, having been selected and personally cut from excellent spruce and Scotch pine woodlots by the Rotarians themselves, in order to raise the most money possible for Thornhaven.

This is the seventh consecutive year the Richmond Hill and District Rotary Club will sell Christmas trees, and all proceeds go to Thornhaven. Last year, the money raised completely furnished the first two classrooms in use at the school.

NEWMARKET — Last year 46.4 per cent of the Newmarket's eligible 4,760 municipal voters cast ballots. This year there are 5,000 eligible voters.

NEWMARKET — On November 26, the town hydro commission moved into new quarters on Water Street. The 130 by 41 building cost $50,000.

NEWMARKET — York County's Board of Health will continue its plumbing inspection service involving three fulltime inspectors over the entire county.

Health Fine Declares
Candidate S. F. Tinker

In answer to election rumors, Saturday that I will be able to give the necessary time to my municipal duties both in the town and county, and will be available in your service whenever needed whether during the day or evening."

"During the present election campaign it has been drawn to my attention that there seems to be a misunderstanding regarding my physical ability to carry out all the duties required of the office of Reeve.

To clarify the situation, may I explain that I underwent an operation for orthopaedic surgery in January 1960, which successfully cleaned up what might have been a chronic impairment of a hip joint.

I wish to assure the electors that if honored by election on
