STORY WITH A MORAL

Undoubtedly, the greatest problem a reputable dealer faces in his community is gaining his buyer's confidence. Sometimes, the customer becomes convinced the hard way.

I was reminded of this recently by an incident concerning another dealer in a similar town to ours. He was unable to sign a young used car buyer who was very enthused about a particular car. The M. R. Bear car was a popular 1956 model in unbelievably good condition. The price was slightly above market average, but the car's condition made it a real buy. The young man was the son of one of the dealer's customers, had started his first job, and was buying his first car. He confided to his dad he wanted to shop in a large city, 45 miles away, because "I think I'll save myself some money."

Well, he shopped and bought an "identical" car for $130.00 less money. "Even the mileage is less," he boasted, (it had been turned back to a fraction of the true figure). He drove it for 27 days before a breakdown revealed a hole in a cylinder wall (temporarily plugged). Labor, plus a new engine block, plus what he still owed on finance totalled about DOUBLE the actual value of the car.

When the used car dealer refused to pay, he decided to abandon the car on which he'd paid $375 of an $800 total. An expensive lesson may become more expensive still if the dealer's finance company sues him for the balance of his contract.

Let's all support the 5th Richmond Hill Cub and Scout Ladies' Auxiliary Rummage Sale to be held at the Richmond Hill United Church main hall on Saturday, March 18th, 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Easter Seal Presentation

By Lorne Wells, Maple Lions Club
With the symbol of the crippled child displayed on Easter Seal stamps, in local store windows and on posters throughout the community, it is an indication that Maple Lions Club is once again making annual appeal for your help. Each year, in cooperation with the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, the Maple Club has launched this campaign. One half of everything you give is forwarded to the society, for general work such as more summer camp sites like the now famous Blue Mountain Camp. To visit one of these camps and witness the pleasure the crippled child receives from attending is a memorable event. The other half remains with Maple Lions Club to administer on behalf of crippled children in our area. Across the years the club has provided braces for limbs weakened by disease, arranged for transportation to therapy centres, purchased special boots or shoes for needy cases, sponsored a local youth throughout a training period at Variety Village, sent several children to camp and assisted in other ways. Four or five years ago the people of Maple and community were most generous in that out of 209 service clubs participating in Ontario, Maple Lions Club was third in the return per mailing of Easter Seals. The need is as great as ever, in fact even greater today. Our local "Timmy" Lisa Boron, asks on behalf of all crippled children that you place your contribution in your envelope today and return it to Maple Lions Club. Let's show these children our generosity is as grand as our community.

Vaughan's Relief Shows Increase

February's welfare commitment by Vaughan Township — $4,545.37 for 182 persons — was in sharp contrast to the outlay of $2,575.85 in February, 1960 and its upward spiral pointed up the bleak unemployment picture. These figures, released at Monday's regular meeting of council, also pointed out that last year in February the winter works program accounted for almost half of the $2,575.85, or $1,182.41. Council on Monday authorized the reeve and treasurer to petition the Provincial Department of Welfare for the statutory grant of 80 per cent.

Vaughan's February welfare expenditure combined with the upcoming three per cent sales tax to be imposed by the Provincial Government, rising municipal taxation and the continuing shortage of work indicates that the district's belt tightening is to come.

Preliminary Work For New Hospital Progressing Fast

A considerable amount of work has been going on behind the scenes since York County Council gave its approval last month to financing which will result in extension of the York County Memorial Hospital at Newmarket and the building of a new one-hundred-bed hospital in the southern part of the county.

Documents in connection with the $2,360,000 debenture issue of York County which will finance the work have been sent to the Ontario Municipal Board. Exploratory work in connection with the site of the southern hospital is going on. Approximately 25 acres will be needed. The architects are well on the way with the drawing of preliminary plans. Medical and surgical advisers are busy considering facilities for the new hospital. An important step was taken this week when the Ontario Hospital Commission gave the new hospital its backing and blessing. Officially termed "project clearance," this is a prerequisite to approval of the debenture issue by the Ontario Municipal Board.

MARKHAM — On May 7, the Don Valley Conservation Authority will sponsor a train-tour to Lindsay via a "northern" type steam locomotive with four wheel drives on each side.

Dairy Queen Project Setback Now Changed 40 Feet Is Favoured

Prospects for the establishment of a Dairy Queen outlet at the northern end of Richmond Hill brightened this week when the town planning board at its regular meeting decided that if the owner would consent to a 40 foot setback, bringing his establishment more nearly into line with other commercial properties, they would agree to the necessary readjustment of the land. This piece of property, on which a 70 foot setback had originally been demanded by the planning board, sparked the recent controversy over setbacks, with proposed amendments being thrown back to the board by town council for further study.

Said Councillor Howard Whillans as planning board members agreed to the compromise — "We have no alternative under present conditions." Chairman Ross Scrimger agreed. "We could drag our feet but that wouldn't be fair," he declared. Forty feet, it was pointed out by the board's consultant, M. Farrow, allowed adequate parking and turning.

Freedom From Sales Tax Municipal Need — Mayor

"Never in our lives will we witness a better example of Indian giving," declared Mayor James Haggart of Richmond Hill this week in a radio address in which he criticized the Ontario Government for its failure to eliminate the new three per cent sales tax on municipal purchasing. At the Ontario Mayors and Reeves Association convention held in Cornwall last year a resolution sent in by Richmond Hill had been turned down, said Mayor Haggart. That resolution called on the Federal and Provincial Governments to exempt municipalities from paying sales taxes.

Saying that he was glad to see some relief given to "the poor old property owner" who had borne the brunt of municipal taxation, Richmond Hill's Mayor at the same time deploring taking money from one over-taxed source to be paid to another level of government in another form of taxation. Principal target of Mayor Haggart's ire was the collecting of sales tax from the municipalities themselves. Money returned to the municipality in the form of grants was being taken from the municipality first in the form of sales tax, he pointed out. The action taken last week, said the Mayor, "is nothing but a hoax — a deliberate attempt, it would appear, to fool the municipal taxpayer."

If the matter comes again before the Mayors and Reeves Association at its London meeting this year, he added, "it is to be hoped that the opinion of the majority will have changed — and if it does I suppose there will be a few red faces."

(Provincial Treasurer James Allan announced at press time that the sales tax to be paid by the municipalities will be rebated on a wide range of articles. He said the Frost Government will rebate the tax on capital costs of municipalities and tangible personal property required for such projects. Editor)
