Happy Birthday
Before I forget, a happy birthday to our overworked and underpaid (who isn't?) postmistress, Mrs. Evelyn Lapping who added a year on the thirteenth of April.

A Real Cool Game!
A few local residents attended the biggest little hockey tournament in the world at Goderich when Young Canada Week was held there from March 31 to April 8. The tournament was for boys aged 11 and 12, the pee-wee age group. The Woodbridge Minor Hockey League submitted their all-star pee-wee team and after a hot and heavy tournament, these boys came out on top, scoring a total of 33 goals with seven scored against them. Much credit should be given to Principal McFadden, of Woodbridge Public School and the coach of the team, for his untiring work with the boys. The tournament attracted teams from all over Ontario, Michigan, Quebec and Manitoba represented as well. The kind people of Goderich billeted the boys from out of town in their homes and treated them just like part of the family.

Although many boys from Concord played in the pee-wee league this year there was only one on the all-star team. Even so, it's a little disappointing when the other members of a league fail to support such a deserving group of boys. Woodbridge is our nearest rink and the cost of playing in a hockey league there is practically nil, other than membership and a pint of gas for Dad's car for transportation. It would seem to be a foolish thought to make junior wait until he can get to and from the rink under his own steam. By then his best hockey years may be over or he has learned slap-happy tactics and had no coaching at all. When you think of the half hour of TV you may have to give up to take junior to the rink, think also of the many hours offered by the coaches and other league officials. Then maybe that half hour won't seem too much of a sacrifice.

Socials
Pete Nuttall has returned to Michigan State University after being home for the Easter vacation. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Nuttall and brother Ed and his wife all went along to Ann Arbor, Mich. and returned home again immediately. Pete is attending Michigan State on a four-year scholarship. As many know, he was an outstanding athlete at Thornhill High School, especially in track and field events, and this ability in sports helped pave the way for higher education. Keeping the scholarship doesn't depend entirely on sports, however, and Pete's marks have to be up in academic subjects as well.

Mrs. Fraser Named President

George Bailey H & S Association Hears Story Of House Of Concord

The annual meeting of the George Bailey Home and School Association, Maple, was held recently. President, Mrs. Puffer introduced Miss Isobelle Eadie from Woodbridge. As March was Red Cross Month, Miss Eadie spoke of the continual need for blood donors, and of the enormous need for an adequate stock-pile of blood.

Residents of Maple and districts are urged, to attend the Blood Clinic being held in Woodbridge Arena on May 18. Upon request, transportation will be supplied in the afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Lorraine Stevenson introduced Lieut. B. Meakings, who was appointed to the House of Concord in October 1960, assistant to the Superintendent.

A westerner, Lieut. Meakings, is a son of officers of the Salvation Army. The House of Concord is a new venture in our district but one that merits support and admiration. Opened just over two years ago, the Salvation Army staff threw wide its doors to boys and young men from the Children's Aid, probationers from courts, some on vagrancy charges and others homeless destitutes. There were forty-eight boys who needed a home, a chance to regain their respect for themselves, the opportunity for a second chance, to feel they were a part or member of something - but most of all they needed understanding and discipline.

By trial and error the staff is struggling, to reach those boys who are emotionally disturbed rather than bad boys. In many cases they have been rejected by parents and society and are in need of therapeutic care.

Throughout the various incidents related by Lieut. Meakings there was an underlying thread of humor.

The House of Concord had 122 admissions from February 1960 to February '61 from all across Canada and even a trickle from U.S.A.

Boys farm the land, grow their own crops and supply pork and beef off the farm. Recently 1000 chickens have been sent and a zoo, with animals sent from Toronto. A gymnasium has a two-fold purpose; here they may work off excess energies and the staff finds the gym to be a place to study the boy. His reactions when punching the bag, may prove most enlightening and reveal much about his inner self.

Garage men teach them the basic fundamentals of mechanics; all boys are interested in cars and as Lieut. Meakings quipped "that same interest is why some of them are on probation!" Success with about 60% of the boys has been realized.

Mrs. Mildred Auld thanked Lieut. Meakings, saying our eyes had surely been opened to the need for the help and understanding given so surely by the speaker and staff at the Salvation Army House of Concord.

Members of the association cast their ballots for the '61 slate of officers. Elected were president, Betty Fraser; 1st vice president, Marg Crook; 2nd vice-president, Lorraine (Larry) Stevenson, secretary, Jean Salmon; treasurer, Joyce Boyd.

The executive committee comprises Norma Baker, Bev. House, Val Irvine, Marion Holmes and Mrs. D. Tilt of the teaching staff.

Betty Fraser, as new president presented the first George Bailey Home and School Association past president's pin to Mrs. Puffer.

In passing may we on behalf of all the parents of Maple School children and teaching staff, take a line or two to thank Jane Puffer for her services to the H. & S. and community during her term of office. Having moved from Maple to Thistletown shortly after being elected, she carried out her presidential duties in the best tradition with distance being, no doubt, somewhat of a handicap. Refreshments in line with the season were served - hot cross buns, with coffee. The next meeting will be the 1st Wednesday of May. It was decided to have the H. & S. news appear in Maple's own section of the "Liberal."

Maple Notes

are wishing you well. Many in Maple Remember Grethe Dahl

Just recently when after reading and hearing about the "Peace Corps" in the U.S.A. a U. of T. graduate student conceived and carried out a similar plan right at the University of Toronto called Canadian Overseas Volunteers.

From the original number of about fifty, ten student ambassadors were finally chosen following an eight-week course in the language social problems of Ceylon where this first group will probably be stationed. They will work under Asian, not Canadian supervisors and will teach and give technical assistance with pay at the prevailing wages.

Already this movement is growing and 10 will be chosen from Laval University of Montreal. Included in the Toronto group are students in, engineering, physics, mechanical engineering, political science, commerce and finance, physical education, English, anthropology and public health nursing.

One of the young public health nurses is a former Maple girl who now makes her home in Richmond Hill. Grethe Dahl is well remembered by her classmates when she attended public school in Maple. Last year she graduated from Toronto General Hospital and chose public health nursing as a career. With this corps Grethe will spend one year in Asia and her former neighbors wish her all the very best in her exciting but responsible adventure.

Maybe I'm Out of Touch!
Is it because our boys have had the run of all children's afflictions that I just never hear of any measles, mumps or chicken-pox round and about? Does it still happen?

A Little Child
Last week when a canvasser for the Maple Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society, May Fortin, was out making her calls in North Maple, she called on a family who have a little six year old girl. Inquisitive as all normal youngsters Elaine Boyd asked May what she was doing. In trying to explain in a simple manner to the child, May told Elaine that she was collecting money to help make sick people better and to try and keep others from becoming sick.

Seemingly satisfied with the explanation she skips off only to return with the sum total in her bank, - a dollar bill she had received as a present and eleven pennies. This full amount and all she had given most sincerely to May so "someone else could get better."

Would you be willing to give accordingly and with just such a spirit?

You will have just such an opportunity during April, campaign month for Canadian Cancer Society, when a canvasser calls on you.

In building up funds for research and clinics, you are paying on a kind of insurance policy for the future of you and your family.

Give with the faith and heart of the little child, Elaine Boyd who, though only 6, understood and wanted to help with all she could give. St. Stephen's W. A.

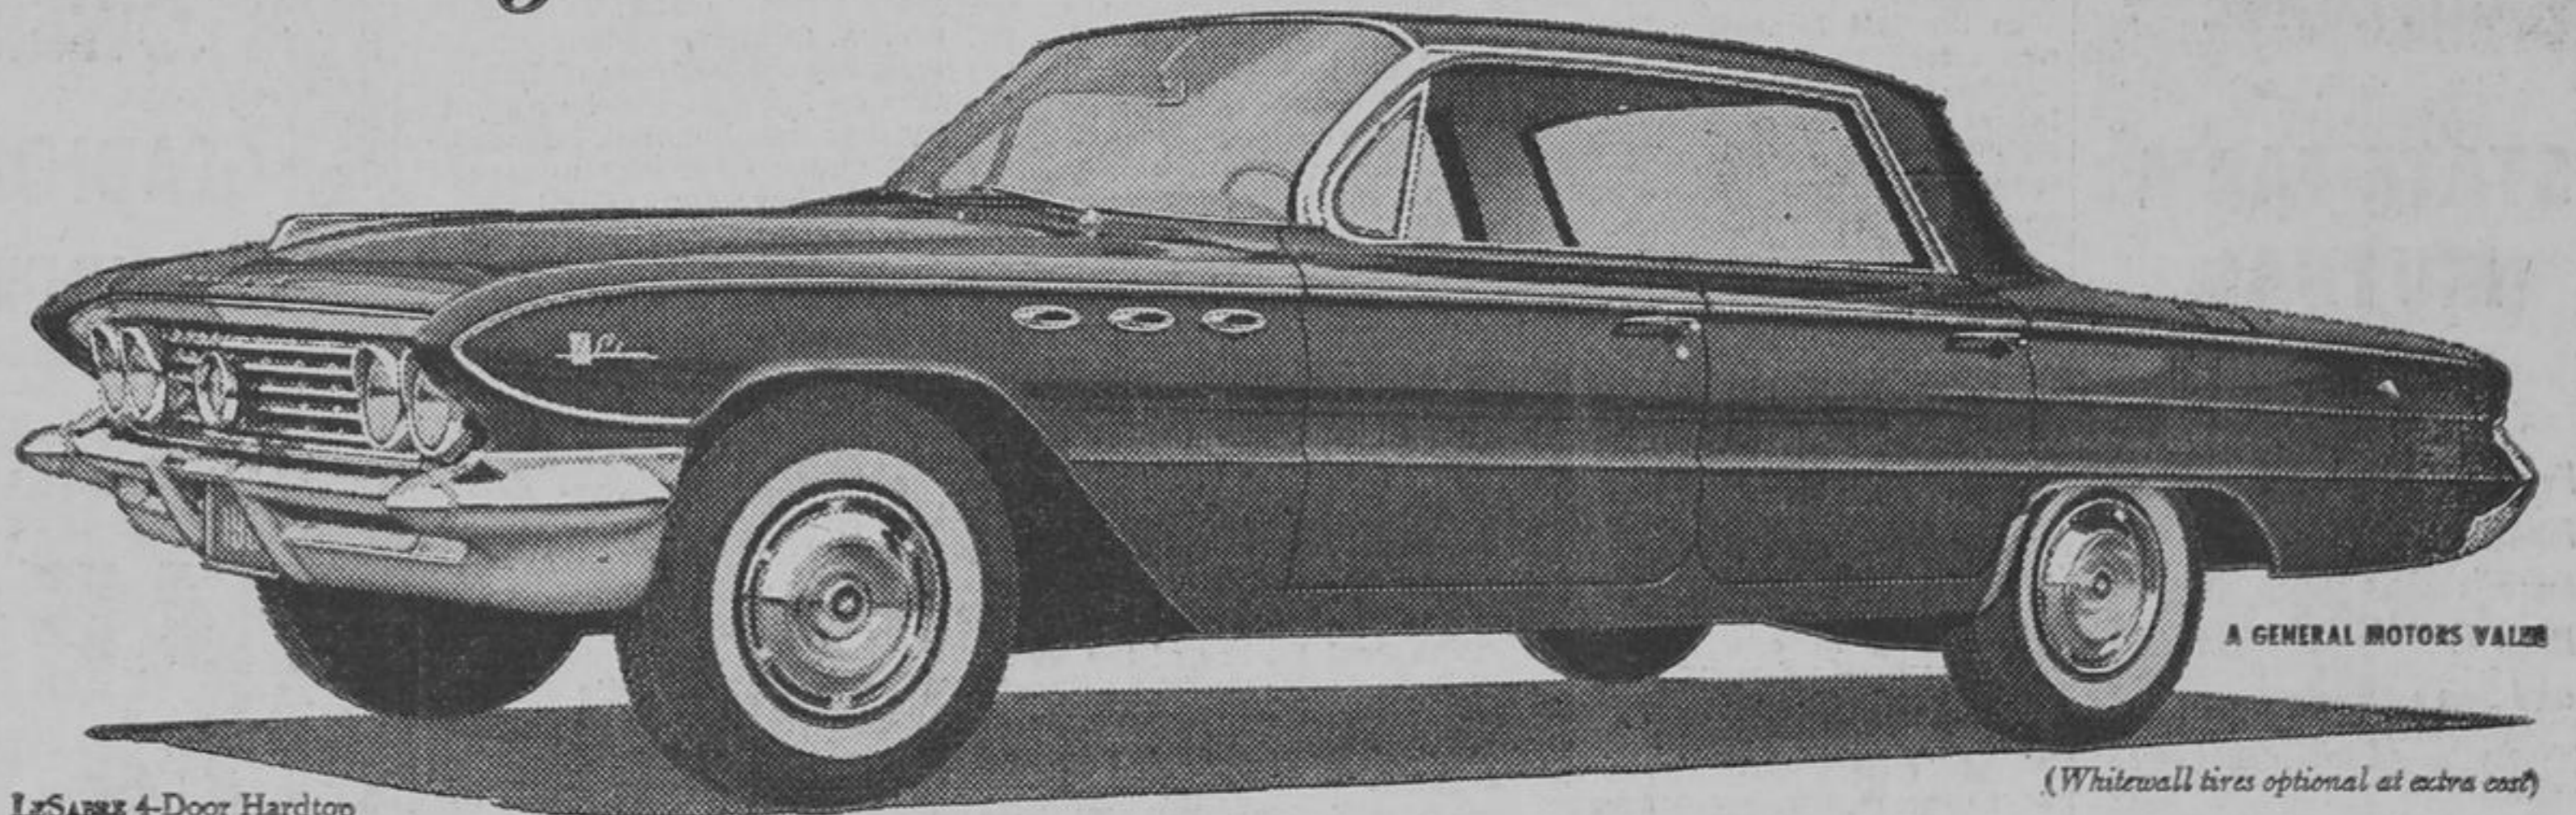

The regular monthly meeting of St. Stephen's W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. H. Bryan on Wednesday evening, April 12 with 19 members present. Mrs. C. Kirkland presided in the absence of president, Mrs. C. Reeds - who unfortunately has a broken leg. Mrs. G. Robeson read the scripture.

Mrs. Kirkland, on behalf of Mrs. Reeds, warmly thanked all the members who worked so industriously and helped to make the Rummage Sale such a success. Plans are being made for the 75th W.A. anniversary in June. St. Stephen's W. A. is holding its annual "Evening out" at the Summit, on May 3rd. The study book, "The Way in Africa" has been reviewed chapter by chapter by various members each month and the final chapter will be taken by Mrs. Armitage at the next meeting at
