Mr. and Mrs. George Boynton of Woodbridge had dinner Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wes Clark and Jean.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackwell of Toronto visited Sunday with Mrs. C. Johnson, Mr. Merrill Johnson and Mary Ellen.

Birthday greetings to Jean Clark for May 5.

Visiting at the Harry Burtons on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Russ Pearce of Richvale and Mr. and Mrs. John Rumble of King.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Brodie and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Clark and Jean, Mr. and Mrs. George Boynton of Woodbridge and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Howard of Richmond Hill had dinner Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boynton and Ellen of Thornhill.

Dr. A. F. Binnington called a meeting on Thursday evening, April 27 for all ladies of the community. Purpose of the meeting was to acquaint the ladies with the new organization to be called "The Women of the Church".

Unionville Junior Farmers and Junior Institute had a successful church service Sunday evening, April 30, in Headford United Church. The president, Barry Little, conducted the service.

Guest speaker was Mr. Murray Mellow of Bolton, and Mrs. Geo. Hooper was soloist.

Next Sunday, May 7th, Brown

coe - of the men of the Hood and the Sussex and the little ships that go down to the sea and guard their country on the great waters.

Who are they - these seamen of the junior "Silent Service" and their officer? Starting from the left, there's Navy League Cadet Larry DeBaeremaeker, Sea Cadet Dennis Murray, Sea Cadet John McCallum, Sea Cadet Officer Lieut. D. Ellison, Sea Cadet Grant Dunn, Sea Cadet Jamie Macanuel, Navy League Cadet Philip Bostock, all of Richmond Hill. They belong to two units - the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps, Ontario, and the Navy League Cadets Corps No. 29 Train In City.

It's quite a chore for these lads to get their training. They have to travel, once or twice every week, to the John Wanless School on Fairlawn Avenue, Toronto. There is, however, a possibility that before long cadet corps might be established nearer home. Authority for that statement is the man behind the boys in Richmond Hill - Gordon D. McCallum of 92 Pugsley Avenue. He is chairman of the North York Civilian Committee, which stands behind the cadets, and knows something of the practical side of a sailor's life. During the Second World War he was an engine-room artificer. Accommodation is a real problem in Richmond Hill, he says. Another member of the McCallum family - Donald - was a Sea Cadet and afterwards joined the N.v. He has just completed a three-and-a-half month training course in the Pacific, taking in Honolulu, Suva, New Zealand, Australia, the Samoan Islands and other "faraway places with strange-sounding names."

Will Parade in Hill
Incidentally, there will be a great many more Sea and Navy League Cadets in Richmond Hill on Sunday, May 14th. On that day the entire Corps will parade to St. Mary's Anglican Church for morning service at 11.

Navy Week will be observed from May 7th - which is Battle of the Atlantic Sunday - to May 13th. The parade on the 14th will be the local wind-up of the week. Towards the end of the week the young sailors will go on a fund-raising drive to help them to carry on their training. On May 4th and 5th they will stage tag days at the various shopping plazas in the Hill and will hold their down-town tag-day on the 6th.

Corners United Church are observing their 119th anniversary. Special services are at 11.30 a.m. with Dr. Bruce Gray of Kew Beach United Church and at 7.30 p.m. the Rev. W. C. Sellers of Newtonbrook United Church. There will be no church service at Headford, but Sunday School will be held at 10 a.m. instead.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Leek and Rosemary attended a trossau tea on Saturday afternoon for Miss Margaret Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith of Thornhill who is being married on May 7.

Record Odd Vote At School Board On Work Request

The unusual experience of a vote which saw only one person in the affirmative - even the second in order of the motion voting against it - occurred at Richmond Hill Public School Board's last meeting.

The vote was sparked by a letter from the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. It stated that the union had learned that the board was planning to have present lighting fixtures in one of the schools replaced and that this work was to be done by the board's own maintenance staff. It requested that this work should be done by qualified electrical contractors.

Says Training Required
Introducing a motion that this be done, Trustee Mrs. Matthews was able to secure a seconder in order to permit discussion. She presented a number of reasons for acceding to the request, expressing her belief that contractors who were in business for themselves should be given such work, which she believed should be carried out by trained individuals.

Other trustees pointed out that the work in question was of a type that could be easily handled by almost any good maintenance man. In any event, said board Vice-Chairman Harold Sanderson, a member of that staff had had training which made him fully competent to do the job.

On the vote being taken, all members of the board with the exception of Trustee Mrs. Matthews voted against hiring a contractor to carry out the work.

WILLOWDALE — North York Council has made it official that Leslie Street between Sheppard and Steele's avenues will be zoned for industrial use, subject to OMB approval.

Separate School Orators Compete In Local Finals

Our Lady Help of Christians separate school captured the trophy for the most points when the finals in the oratorical contests for separate schools in Richmond Hill were run off recently. In keen competition was Our Lady of Fatima school.

Winners in the Grade 8 contest were Paul Ferraro and John Stewart. Robin Taylor and Mary Parker captured top honours in Grade 7, with Angela Roman and Tony Killock topping Grade 6. Sixty young orators were in the contest at its start.

A varied list of topics was dealt with by the young speakers. Among them were: The history of York County; Should holidays be longer; Choosing a career in conservation; St. Blase - patron saint of health; Choosing a career; TV-good or bad?
