Albert Windrim of 345 Centre Street East, Richmond Hill, concentrates on stopping opposition shots during the winter. As goalkeeper of the O.M.H.A. Pee-wee Champion Hornets, Albert worked up quite a reputation as a shot stopper. Now he takes a shot and scores with it. While playing with his father at the Don Mills golf course, Albert achieved every golfer's ambition and dropped in a tee shot. His hole-in-one came on the 110 yard twelfth hole at the Don Mills spread. Using a seven iron like a veteran he had the pleasure of seeing the shot disappear into the cup.

It's almost enough to make dad despair. Here's a brot of a lad who has already achieved the ultimate in the golfing world while still, figuratively speaking, wrapped in swaddling clothes. Could this be another way of saying diaper???

Whether or not young Albert goes on to fame, fortune or the Willingdon Cup team, he'll never experience the same thrill as he got from his first ace. We're lucky! We haven't had the first one yet and just think how thrilled we'll be then!! Don't laugh, the hand mashie is working like a charm!

The Dynes Jewellers, Allencourt Lanes O.A.S.A. Intermediate "A" Series opening game proved to be a real softball treat. No matter which side you want to achieve ultimate victory, you've got to admit one thing for sure — every player on either team is giving it all he's got, every inch of the way. And you just can't ask more than that.

For five years some people have contended that such a series would be a natural. And they were so right, it is a natural. The only trouble with it, from where we sit, is that one sponsor or the other just has to have his club bow out of O.A.S.A. competition for this year. Both sponsors are such nice guys we hate to see it happen to either of them. However, c'est la guerre! Let the base hits fall where they may and a great many people will enjoy seeing a series that will be remembered for a long, long time to come.

Summer draweth fast to a close now that Exhibition time is here. Some wit once remarked that you always know when it's "Ex" time in Toronto because all the roads are under repair and four lanes of traffic funnel down to one. Probably a gross overstatement with a touch of hyperbole thrown in for good measure.

It does remind us, however, that school will be resuming any day now. The high school set are hurriedly collecting clothes and books in just that order. Would-be football players are starting to take a bit of exercise and teachers are already practicing stern and solemn looks. It's really a great time of the year but just try telling that to the happy student in your house! They'll never believe you.

Coach Russ Snider, of Bayview High School Junior Football Team, figures to have a real powerhouse going for him from the initial practice. Mr. Snider is one of the most respected teachers we know and he has willing material talked into reporting in excellent condition. Bayview intends to make a determined bid for football recognition this year and, if desire is what it takes, then they'll be recognized.

At Richmond Hill High School, Bill Babcock won't be coaching football this year. That's what the man says. He has enough other duties to make for a full day and just won't have the time to devote. This man kids you not. His schedule of activities would tax Charles Atlas, there just isn't room for any more.

Same story down at Thornhill. Charlie Seath is calling it quits as a football coach. Mr. Seath also has an action packed agenda ahead of him and he feels that he just won't have the time to devote to football. If the successors to these two worthy gentlemen have the same success enjoyed by aforesaid parties, both schools should have a big football year. Just wait until the first practice and the sound of the toe meeting leather is heard throughout the hallowed halls of learning. If they still stay retired, then they really meant it. Even if they don't coach a team, neither school will have any more ardent fans than these two good people.

The bowling fraternity (and sorority) are camping at the bit waiting for bowling to get under way for another year. Since the wind-up last spring some ardent bowlers (it is rumoured) have been growing and fling toenails in a real effort to eliminate foul line problems. They're really going to dig in!!

Mr. George Nicholson of the Eastsiders bowling league would like to let everyone know that his favourite league opens for action on Tuesday, September 5th at 7.00 p.m. and that the time is 7 p.m. sharp. The Eastsiders are also launching out with a corn and wiener roast which goes at 8.00 p.m. on Friday, September 8th. Tickets are 50c, so if you'd like to launch out (ouch! what a lousy pun!) why not plan to attend?

A meeting of all bowling league executives operating at Allencourt Lanes was held on Sunday, August 13th. Plans to have a central executive and sub-committees formed to handle complaints and inter-league scheduling were proposed and got verbal acceptance. After the short meeting broke up, guests

Sponsor Deserts Softball Girls Ron McAndrews Gives Timely Aid

The Richmond Hill MicMacs, coached and sponsored by Ron McAndrews, will represent Richmond Hill in the Juvenile P.W.S.U. Playdowns. The P.W.S.U. is the Provincial Women's and Softball Union - the female equivalent of the O.A.S.A.

Until recently the team was sponsored by the other newspaper in Richmond Hill. However, with the sudden demise of the paper, the future looked bleak for the fledgling team.

As he has done so many times in the past, McAndrews picked up the tab for the team, rechristening them the MicMacs. Throughout the season to date the team never received

Four From Hill Leaders In Pinecrest's Feature

It was Richmond Hill night at Pinecrest Speedway Saturday. Dave Stephenson and Jack Cook of this town finished one-two in the Highway 7 track's 25-lap feature race, and two other Hillmen, Bill Rice and Murray Acreman, were in the first 10 finishers. It was Stephenson's second feature win at Pinecrest this season and reflected a measure of success he has had racing in Ottawa on Wednesdays.

The steady Mac Bound of Scarborough captured third place and his 11 points on the night consolidated him in first spot in the championship derby. His 136 total places him 21 points up on George Symons of Milliken, who was right behind him Saturday as they crossed the finish line. Cook moved into third place (108) past the idle Sam Snider of Unionville (105). Stephenson holds down fifth, with 94 points and Acreman's 71 gives him eighth.

Ladies' champion Betty Carone of Weston did well in 12 of this season's first 13 ladies' features, spinning out once, but never worse than second in the other dozen. Then, using a woman's privilege, Betty changed her car number from 36 to 77, to match hubby Tony's car. Since then, Betty has been fourth and seventh. The lead that looked so big earlier is now down to 13 (126-113) over Jo Cresswell of Willowdale. Saturday, newcomer Gail Bunt of Aurora won her first race and the persistent Jo was right behind. Perhaps Mrs. Carone will change back to that almost-perfect 36.

Allencourt's Defeat Of Dynesmen Sends Team Against N. York Group

Allencourt Lanes defeated Dynes Jewellers by winning two of the three games in the opening round of the O.A.S.A. intermediate "A" playdowns. The win sends Allencourt against North York's men's Wear of the North York League and the Jewellers can hang up their tack as far as O.A.S.A. play goes this year.

The series was a bitterly contested affair from the opening pitch of the initial game that saw Allencourt come up with the win by virtue of a 4-1 score. Gary Smith, Allencourt second sacker, found a pitch to his liking and drove a long fly ball to deep centre field that was over Tony Hunter's head. Roberts and Smith came home with necessary to declare a winner and Allencourt fought back to achieve a 10-8 win after being down in the score on three occasions.

For softball fans the series was all that was promised. The final game in particular had fans elated or in the depths of despair, depending upon where the loyalties lay. Allencourt may win the series but, after this one, all the others will seem anti-climatic.

Roberts, Sullivan Start Allencourt Lanes elected to start Norm Roberts and Dynes Jewellers gave Al Sullivan the nod in the first game played on Tuesday last week. For seven innings it was a real pitchers' duel with both clubs playing close to the vest. Finally, in the seventh inning, two back-to-back home runs, one by Don MacMillen, saw Bill Jackson come in to relieve Sullivan. Richards got off to a shaky start, but by the third inning had steadied away and was pitching in the form that he displayed in last year's O.A.S.A. playdowns. Last year Roberts won seven games for Wimbridge Cleaners as they swept to the O.A.S.A. intermediate "AA" crown. Some great infield play held the Jewellers scoreless as they threatened dangerously in the second inning. In going the nine-inning distance, Roberts struck out eleven, walked two and gave up four hits, one a home run blast by Sil Steffan for the Jewellers' lone run.

Allencourt scores in sixth The first run of the game was notched by Allencourt in the sixth inning. Bill Robson, Allencourt starry left fielder, led off with a single. Doug Watt followed with another single to move Robson to third base. Stan Thornington grounded out third to first and Robson came ripping home with the opening run. Allencourt jumped into a 4-0 lead in the seventh inning and Bill Jackson came on in relief for the Jewellers with one man out. Bill DeGeer opened the seventh for Allencourt by grounding out second to first. Norm Roberts was safe on first as Sullivan attempted to shovel a punt to Little covering first base for the Jewellers. The attempt was muffed and Allencourt had a live runner.

Bill Bowen was on the mound for Allencourt and Jackson for the Jewellers. In nine innings, Bowen gave up only four hits and the only long hit registered by Allencourt was a home run by Bowen over the left field fence in the eighth inning. Allencourt scored a run in the top of the first inning only to have the Jewellers tie the game in the bottom half of the inning. Bill DeGeer drew a walk and advanced to second on Norm Roberts' sacrifice bunt. DeGeer scored on a single by Don MacMillen.

Fur, Fin & Campfire

By Stan Schendal, Gunsmith, Richmond Hill

Hi and Hello! The evenings have turned out quite chilly in comparison to what we are used to, but to the advantage of many keen fishermen. As the waters have cooled down during the night your fish have come in to the shallows to feed and early morning fishing now has brought big and good results.

Worms have been found to be the best on pickered bait. I have had word that a few of the better spots have been up at Lake Simcoe - and this comes from a very good source - that off Georgiana, Snake and Fox Islands there is exceptionally good fishing and many of the old rounders have been brought out.

So, if you are looking for a good spot not too far away, hitch up the trailer with your boat, or throw in your motor. You can always rent a boat and give it a whirl. I will try to keep you up to date on spots of interest and where to fish.

If any of my readers have any good fish I would like to pass it along to the rest of the fellows in my column, so give me a call at the store any evening after seven p.m.

I have a bit of good news for all hunters. There is now out the hunting hat we have been waiting for. Probably some of our wives might think it as bad as being at a fashion show, but I have ordered these hunting hats and they should be in next week. They are a red and yellow fluorescent material and can be spotted for a great distance as they show up tremendously. They were designed by a member of the Department of Lands and Forests. Now, for the lads leaving their guns till the last minute to get cleaned, blue or repaired - you might find that your gun might not be ready in time so get me a call at the store any evening in working condition before fall.

To those of you who are doing a bit of camping - please be careful and put out your fires and matches.

Stan
