Shoplifting Is Costly

Merchants Lose $30-$50 Thousand Annually From Many Petty Thefts

In Richmond Hill as elsewhere, the most shoplifting is not done by professionals but by everyday, otherwise conscientious citizens, according to Police Chief R. P. Robbins. Further, shoplifted goods, translated into dollars and cents, average between $2 and $3 per year per citizen, or between $30 and $50 thousand dollars. "Absolute figures are impossible to work out," he pointed out, "because in order to arrive at a more or less exact estimate the merchants would have to take stock and balance their books every few weeks and obviously this is asking too much."

Shoplifting motives are as old as time and deep as human nature. Old people, for example, who live on short rations, are periodically tricked into lifting items by their very kindness. "Many elderly citizens will try their hand at it when Christmas or friends' or relatives' birthdays come round," he said. "They don't have the money to buy gifts but they want to make the gesture." Others shoplift in order to augment low incomes, but, he thinks, only a very few pilfer for the thrill of the game.

Teenagers account for much petty shoplifting. They go for junk jewellery and cosmetics which they can't always get from their parents and feel they should have. Said the chief: "By the time you count up the combined cost of innumerable pairs of nylons, jewellery or cosmetic items, you arrive at quite a sum, running into the thousands of dollars." The most serious hazard for teenagers, of course, is that when not apprehended they often develop acquisitiveness for more expensive merchandise, become confirmed thieves and wind up behind bars.

The chief said shoplifters sometimes show a surprising amount of ingenuity, boldness and persistence. "Not only are petty things taken," he said, "but televisions, toasters, guns, suits and coats and in one recent case even several pounds of meat."

Impaired Youth Jailed Ten Days

Twenty-two-year-old Michael West of Scarborough pleaded guilty to an impaired driving charge when he appeared in Newmarket Court recently, was sent to jail for ten days by Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake, who also ordered accused's driving privileges in Canada be revoked for one year.

Markham Township Police testified that they received a call shortly after 8 p.m. on August 5. Accused's car, they said, had almost caused an accident at Victoria Square and forced several cars off the road during its erratic course toward and south on Don Mills Road. Police said the vehicle struck a ditch, ploughed along it for about 100 feet, hit a tree and a culvert and flipped over on its side. The wheels were still spinning when police arrived at the scene. The driver was hospitalized.

When the magistrate said: "Are the facts correct as stated, Mr. West?" accused replied sheepishly: "As far as I know, I don't remember very much." Police said he was blind drunk.

Anthony Greenhall, 21, of Newmarket, his passenger, paid $50 and costs for having liquor in a place other than his residence. Police found a half dozen bottles of beer and a quantity of liquor in the car. Greenhall asked for time to pay. When told that such fines were payable forthwith he shrugged and muttered something as he was being led away. If the money is not forthcoming he will spend seven days inside looking out.

Petrie-Kelly Nuptials
A pretty double ring wedding ceremony was solemnized in Holy Cross Catholic Church, Norwood, Winnipeg, Man., on August 19, when Doreen Agnes Kelly and Russell Petrie were married.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Kelly, St. Vital, Winnipeg, are the bride's parents. The bridegroom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Petrie, Crestwood Rd. He lived a good many years on Crestwood Road, went to Powell Road Public School and Richmond Hill High School. He worked for Loblaws Groceteria and he and his brother were transferred to Loblaws, Winnipeg. Doreen is also a Loblaws employee.

Entering the church on the arm of her father the bride was radiant in a gown of white embroidered lace with full skirt fitted at the waist, sweetheart neckline. A crown held her waist-length veil. She carried a cascade of red rosebuds. Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Shirley Ann Kelly, as maid of honour. The bridesmaids were Miss Richard and Miss Barbara Gaw. They carried cascades of yellow rosebuds. Mr. Bob Petrie, the groom's brother, acted as best man. Ushers were Leonard Kelly, the bride's brother, and Stanley Rewitzki.

The reception was held at the St. Vital Curling Club. The bride's mother received wearing a pale blue sheath dress, matching three-quarter length coat and accessories, with a corsage of pink and white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a rose chiffon dress with matching accessories, with a corsage of blue and white carnations. For travelling the bride wore a white brocade satin dress, a matching three-quarter length coat and green accessories.

The honeymoon trip took them through the United States to the groom's parents' home on Crestwood Road and through Northern Ontario, back to St. Vital, Winnipeg where they will take up residence.
