WHAT THE PEOPLE WANT

"What do YOU look for when you buy a new car?"

If you're like sixteen out of seventeen Detroit radio listeners recently asked that question, you'd answer that dealer integrity, reliable service and economy, in that order, count most. Price would place a poor fourth.

M. R. Bear

Summing up the consensus of opinion, one listener to the program called "Phone Opinion" responded: "One of my pet peeves in buying an automobile and I'm sure the majority of your audience agrees with me is the rosy picture they paint you before you buy the car. 'We are going to take care of your car.' 'It's the best car on the road.' etc.

"Everybody has the same story, basically. But after the sale it's a totally different story: You go back for repairs—even minor ones—with your warranty still in effect, and they just give you the run-around. They stall you off by referring you to one mechanic after another and keep you waiting for hours until you finally get tired and leave."

One lone dissenter—an automobile salesman—claimed price was the most important of all to buyers, economy and service notwithstanding.

As most automobile dealers realize, actual public behaviour is a compromise between these two attitudes. To be successful, a dealer must be competitive in price, but back his product with honest dealing and reliable service if he is going to acquire and keep customers.

Our town is not so big that we can afford the one-shot no-repeat sale, or to lose customers by offering less value for the buyer's money.

Richmond Hill Presbyterian Church Evening Auxiliary is holding a Rummage Sale at the Church on Saturday, Sept. 23, at 1:30 p.m.

Ontario Home & School Feder. Want Members To Take Nuclear Stand

The Board of Directors of the Ontario Federation of Home and School Associations yesterday urged members to make known to their members of Parliament their views as individual citizens on Canadian acceptance of nuclear armaments.

Under discussion was a tentative suggestion of The Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teachers Federation that home and school in Canada should urge the Diefenbaker Government to maintain its stand against accepting nuclear weapons.

The question is due for a decisive vote at next year's annual meeting of the Canadian body.

The Ontario Board decided to distribute to all associations material for and against Canadian acceptance of weapons of mass destruction. The association then will discuss the matter and record their opinions with the Ontario Federation so its representatives will be able to give a definite answer to the national body.

A resolution adopted by the Ontario Board asked that "because of the time element involved, our members be urged as individual citizens (not as home and school members) to make known to their respective members of Parliament as soon as possible, their wishes regarding the acceptance of nuclear armaments by the Federal Government."

Richmond Hill's Artist In Silver Is Acclaimed In National Magazine

Richmond Hill's famed artist in silver, Douglas Boyd, is given a special mention in the September issue of the Maclean publication "Canadian Homes." A well-illustrated article entitled "Why Canadian Craftsmen Are Winning New Renown" acclaims "a remarkable revolution that has been largely unheralded and unreported" in Canadian crafts.

"Thousands of Canadians are now seeking out Canadian-crafted objects for their homes and have become more conscious than ever before of the Canadian crafts represented in offices, art centres and other public buildings," the article declares. Referring to Mr. Boyd, it says:

"Another who is in the same happy predicament of being hard-pressed to fill orders for ecclesiastical silver from churches all across the country) is Douglas Boyd, recently commissioned to supply all the altar silver for the new Beverly Memorial Chapel in the Anglican Diocesan Centre, Toronto. He has also fashioned a pastoral staff in silver for the Anglican Bishop of Saskatchewan. Queen and Communist

"Boyd, who likes to point out that he plays no favourites among his customers, has produced silver objects for Queen Elizabeth II and for the Chinese Communist authorities in Peiping, as well as for people in Australia, Czechoslovakia, the United States and Brazil. The item for the Queen was a silver cigarette box, presented by the Province of Ontario when she was touring Canada as Princess Elizabeth. The item for the Chinese Communists was presented to a group of Peiping business men by Walter Gordon and James Duncan, representing a group of Canadian businessmen touring Red China."

Mrs. C. Matthews Leaving School Bd.

Richmond Hill's public school population will decline by two, the high down one and the membership of the public school board will go down one temporarily at the end of the month, due to the resignation from the latter of Mrs. Connie Matthews, who is moving with her family to Aurora. Mrs. Matthews, who was elected to the board last November, tendered her resignation to the school board at its last meeting. She also resigned the presidency of the Richmond Hill Ladies' Conservative Association this week. The Matthews family has resided in Richmond Hill since 1945.

The vacancy on the public school board will be filled by the board itself at its next meeting. Under the law, no election is required at this time of the year.
