9th Girl Guide Company The newly formed 9th Girl Guide Company of Richmond Hill held its first meeting with 100% of members present, on Monday night, October 2nd in Pleasantville school, under the leadership of Guide Captain Iva Bovard.

The evening was a "pioneer" one, with the Captain and guides discussing preliminary plans and such details as selection of plaid for their new 9th ties, etc. The attentive girls were eager to learn the fundamentals of guiding, also new games and songs, which they learnt and sang around the camp fire. In fact, the evening was enjoyed and passed all too quickly, as some of the girls were heard to exclaim, "wish the meeting was longer."

Arnold St. Man Helps Daily Check Million Lbs. Spuds

How would you like to peel the quantity of "spuds" that a Richmond Hill resident sees every day. Archie Murray, former proprietor of the store now run by Councillor Al. White as Al's Cycle and Sports, is serving as an inspector with the Ontario Department of Agriculture, a post for which he is well available as the result of his long experience in the retail food business. At this time of the year he carries out his duties at Alliston, where he is engaged in inspecting potatoes coming into the Salada-Shirriff-Horsely Company plant. The potatoes, after passing inspection, are processed into the "instant" potatoes which have achieved great popularity within a few years. They come to the plant in big tanks which hold 240 bags of spuds at a time. Those "tanks" - another word for trucks - are unloaded in twenty minutes or less. Average intake of the plant is over a million pounds of potatoes daily, with the top intake being nearly two million pounds in a day. Repeat, how would you like to peel 'em?
