The son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bell of Aurora is a graduate of Aurora Public School, Aurora and District High School and Toronto Teachers' College.

With his promotion and night classes he does not have the time he would like to devote to his hobby — weight-lifting which he introduced to the school through the home and school association a few years ago. He has become an extremely popular with the students in the seven years he has taught at Oak Ridges.

A bachelor, he lives with his parents in Aurora.

Proverbial Kitchen Sink Missing

10th Annual King Lions Auction Sale Raises $800 Community Work

For the first time in years, a kitchen sink was missing when hundreds of articles were auctioned at King City Lions' Club tenth annual sale in King Memorial Park.

In spite of the chilly weather, which slightly reduced the size of the crowd, the popular community event cleared $800.00. Past President George Bennet was chairman of the lively auction that attracted not only King residents, but visitors from Maple, Richmond Hill and Toronto.

Another Past President, Fergus Lawson, under-tuned the role of auctioneer for the first time and managed so capably he might well have carved himself a new career.

The total profit included the boost of $140.00 in cash donations, $51.60 raised in home-baking by Lions' wives, and $25.00 from the garden centre.

Though the kitchen sink was missing, a long kitchen counter with cut-out hole allowing for a sink, went on the auction block.

Most expensive item was the gleaming white kitchen range, which drew several brisk bids, and went for $27.00.

A large carton of high rubber boots sold for $2. Two old-time victrolas in good condition found ready buyers. One with a pile of records in the cabinet sold for $4. Albums of records were popular.

As usual, a dated treadle sewing machine was available and an unusual item was the machine for sewing harness.

Two original oil paintings brought $2.50. Numerous table and floor lamps were quickly purchased.

Bedroom chinaware, consisting of wash-basin and antique plumbing with a lid, evoked considerable levity and resulted in a $1.65 treasury boost.

A handsome, woolly sheepskin find went to a teen-aged lad for $2.75. Children were interested in the bicycles, selling for $1.75, a box of large sea shells for 50 cents, and several baby carriages at 25 cents each, their wheels valuable to the younger set.

Large stuffed chairs went for 25 cents and the value of an old-fashioned love seat was placed at 75 cents.

One young lady carefully considered her purchase of a chest-ferried and matching chair, "wasn't bad for 50 cents."

Two sewing forms went to needlewomen after an assisting Lion cuddled "Gertrude" and vouched she was "in good shape."

A cord of wood, ready for the fireplace, netted $18 and the load of manure on display before delivery brought $13.

Three vouchers were auctioned. Gadden Brothers' offer of five yards of tonsil, delivered, raised $7. Cousins' Dairy $5 voucher was a $3 bargain and Mr. Charles Baldwin's promise of two professional hair cuts went for $2.50.

One good-looking green Kroehler chair sold for $11. Furniture included kitchen, parlor and garden chairs, tables, beds, crabs, mattresses, sideboards and a kitchen cupboard. Even a set of wooden stairs found a purchaser.

A basketball and basket set went for $8; a roll of chicken wire, 25 cents, and a hot water tank, 50 cents.

Twenty-five bales of straw sold for ten cents each.

Operating the garden booth, Lion Gordon Orr had tulips, daffodils and hyacinth bulbs, Shasta daisies, bronze and mauve chrysanthemums, African violets, and little cedar and Scotch pine trees.

From Eaton Hall the club had purchased 60 bushels of apples and 30 bags of potatoes. McIntosh apples went for $2.50 to $2.80 a bushel and all the bags of potatoes sold at $1.50.

Considerable produce had been donated. Pumpkins sold individually for 35 cents up to 80 cents for an enormous one. Beets averaged 25 and 30 cents a basket; turnips, 30 cents; squash, 35 a basket, and pears, 50 to 65 a basket.

One lad was happy with the basket of gourds he acquired.

Bidding brought the price of a four-pound tin of honey up to $1.50 and the frozen turkey raised $8.

Chairman George Bennet told "The Liberal" his job was made easy because every Lion "pitched in" and helped in some capacity". He expressed appreciation to the many area residents making the sale possible by their donations.

Records and payments were efficiently managed by Lions Jack Walkington and Jack Barcough.

Also benefiting from the Lions' sale were the Lake Marie and King Athletic Association operating a barn refreshment booth, where hot dogs and hot drinks were in popular demand, and the girls guides with their outdoor table of candy apples for the children.

Speed Protested By Residents As Limit Is Increased

Many Lake Wilcox residents are up in arms regarding the raising of the speed limit in the area from 30 to 40 m.p.h. This area is thickly populated with small children and speeding has always been a problem of major concern. Placing of a cross-guard at the intersection of Wildwood Avenue and the north road is not an adequate answer, they feel, as according to the safety rules taught in school, cubs and brownies, when walking along a road with no sidewalk should walk on the left-hand side, facing oncoming cars. Thus the guard serves only the correct. Children proceeding east on the North Road should not cross until they have reached either their home or the corner at Bayview if they wish to go south. The way it appears now, if they cross with the guard, they walk contrary to proper safety rules for up to two blocks, with their backs to oncoming cars.

It is their contention the 30 mile limit should be returned and if proper safety instruction should be given another guard should be placed at Bayview and the North Road.

Lorraine Adele Murdoch Weds Hendrik Jansen

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Paul's United Church, Oak Ridges, on September 30th, when Miss Lorraine Adele Murdoch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Murdoch, became the bride of Mr. Hendrik Jansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Jansen of Oak Ridges.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Gordon Winch. The soloist, Mr. Clifford Deathe of Oakville, sang: O Love Divine, Perfect Love; the Wedding Prayer and Grel's I Love Thee.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organza and chantilly lace over net and tulle, a scalloped neckline, long tight sleeves pointed well over hands. The full skirt swept to a chapel train.

A crown of pearl held her long veil of illusion tulle which swept beyond the hem of the chapel train.

She carried a cascade of red roses on a white Bible. Falling from the Bible to hem of gown were strands of white satin baby ribbon with rosettes looped in love knots.

The maid of honour was Miss Jill Morning. The bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Bolsonello and Mrs. Sybe Post. They were gowned alike in jewel-tone red organza over taffeta fashioned with a scoop neckline edged with self cording. The skirts were bell shaped and offset with petite bows in self detail about the hemline. They wore matching net chapeaus and carried white baskets of white mums and gypsophila.

The flower girl, little Miss Karen Whetstone, was dressed in white frocked organza with red sash and carried a small white basket of red and white baby mums.

The best man was Mr. Johannes Jansen, brother of the groom. The ushers were Mr. Joseph Southwell and Mr. John Jansen. They were all dressed in black suits.

The bride's mother received in a dress of rosewood lace over taffeta, with navy blue accessories and a corsage of pink mums and white mums.

Mrs. G. Jansen, mother of the groom, chose a navy blue dress over satin with beige accessories and a corsage of pink mums.

Out of town guests were from Niagara Falls, Oakville, Lorne Park, Toronto, Islington, Pickering, Newmarket and Whitby.

The happy couple left for points south and on their return will reside in Pickering.

For travelling the bride donned a sandlewood silk shantung dress, mink jacket, pill box hat and a corsage of bronze mums.

"the best things In life are free ..."

Free is a nice word to sing about, but not very practical advice when it comes to raising a family.

In fact, when you get right down to sorting the thistles from the clover, you begin to realize that the really important things for day-to-day existence aren't free at all. And we're willing to part with our hard earned cash to buy them simply because we feel they are important.

Take a simple thing like a copy of a newspaper . . . people just aren't going to buy it if they don't want it. Paid circulation is important because it demonstrates the wantedness of a publication.

ABC^a audits our circulation at regular intervals. Following these audits, they publish the facts to help you decide the kind of a job we can do for your advertising.

From our ABC report you can find out how many people buy us . . . how they buy . . . how much they pay to read us . . . information to help you plan your advertising with confidence.
