Neighbourhood Notes
 Mrs. H. Johnson, Trudy, and Lynette enjoyed a visit to Vi's niece at Elmvale last Saturday when they welcomed the new baby daughter that arrived in that household recently.
 The ladies from the Gormley Home were entertained at a "Perm Party" on two successive Wednesday mornings recently.
 This very worthwhile project is the work of Vi Johnson and her group of White Cross Volunteers who arrange transportation, lunch and help with the hairdressing.
 The Thornhill United Church Midget Hockey Team got away to a wonderful start when they won their first game on Wednesday night at Stouffville 7-0 against St. Stephens. The goals were well shared among the boys and Paul Condon is to be congratulated on a shut-out for his first game as the new goalie.
 Suffered to report John Kenwell after a practice game a week ago, was hospitalized for surgery and will be unable to play this year. He is home and progressing nicely and would appreciate a visit from some of the fellows.
 There were three neighbourhood babies among those recently baptized at Thornhill United Church. Deborah Mary Quinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Quinn of Highland Park Blvd.; Lynette Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Johnson of Woodward Ave. and our own grandson, David Lindsay Mac-Kinlay who wore a christening gown made by hand by my mother nearly fifty years ago.

Henderson Ave. School News
 A very impressive Remembrance Day service was held in the Henderson Ave. Auditorium on November 9th, when senior classes assembled for the occasion. Pupils who participated in the program were: Roger Wainfield, Sandra Dockman, Susan Morse and Anne Russell.
 Mrs. Burke played the piano and Mr. Westlake directed the singing. Supervising Principal E. J.
 Sand spoke on this solemn occasion. A two minute silence was observed after which Mr.
 Martindale led in prayer.
1960-61 Graduation Graduation ceremonies for the 1960-61 graduates of Henderson Ave. Public School took place in the form of a graduation party in the Henderson Avenue Auditorium on the evening of November 13th. In the afternoon, under the guidance of Mrs. J.
 Stone, the auditorium took on a very festive air with crepe paper decorations in the school colours strung about, balloons suspended from the ceiling, and the grads' names in pennants on the walls.
 At eight o'clock, President Eric Higgs of the home and school association welcomed the grads, their parents and guests.
 After this the grads served their parents coffee and cake, with Mrs. Myrton Harris as social convener. Guests were also served while the grads had their cookies and milk. A short program followed during which greetings were brought by Trustee Les Clarke and Supervising Principal Sand. Bill Lusk, one of the graduates gave the valedictorian speech. Bill also received a cheque of $15. from the Henderson Home and School treasurer for highest academic achievement. Bob Cries-man was presented with a cheque for $10, by Mrs. D. Morrison of the Doncaster Ladies Club as second highest student.
 Principal Martindale spoke a few words of challenge to the grads and with the assistance of Mrs. Wardiner and Mrs. Calder, grade 8 teachers, presented the graduation pins. Daphne Am-strong thanked the home and school association for the pins.
 The formal part of the program concluded by Mr. Art McMaster on behalf of the grads' parents thanking the home and school for arranging the details of the important event. The rest of the evening was turned over to the grads for a dance with the teaching staff and a few home and school executive members remaining as chaperones. This form of graduation seemed an unqualified success and will probably become traditional.
 A new parking area has just recently been paved directly north of the Henderson Ave.
 School and the roadway to the east of the woods is now blocked off. This has probably been a hazard to the pupils walking to and from school, and it is rather nice to have a foot-path from this end of the school grounds. The other areas that make up the "parkette" have recently been seeded and a carpet of green is a lovely picture there now.

No Real Concern
 On Overspending
 Seen By Council

With the county's auditor stressing several times that the figures were only on an interim basis, members of York County Council at their recent session spent some time discussing an apparent over-spending of the budget on phases of county work. It was revealed in the finance committee's report that expenditures on reforestation amounted to 181 per cent of the budgeted amount, while registry office expenditures were 151 per cent. Administration of justice had taken up 99 per cent of its budget. The report said that this was causing the finance committee some concern.
 But, said Reeve William Hodgson of King Township, this was not a true picture. Only expenditures were shown without the corresponding revenue. The auditor said that the figures were an "educated guess," while Clerk-Treasurer J. L. Smith said that the amounts listed in the budget were received some over-spending was likely.
 Again the auditor, who suggested that the press should exercise discretion in dealing with the figures, said that he did not think that there would be any over-spending on the whole at the end of December.
 Councillors failed to show any real concern about the situation, most making the stand that the figures, presented in the form that they were, only showed part of the picture and could not be regarded as indicating the true situation. In certain cases, it was impossible to tell what revenue would come from outside sources until the end of the year, and this was a usual situation, it was declared.

The Ontario Conference On Education

In recent weeks "The Liberal" has been privileged to publish articles written by Mr. G. L. McDiarmid, principal of McConaghy Public School, Richmond Hill, and president of Ontario Public School Men Teachers Federation. These articles have dealt with various phases of education. Here is another by the same author. EDITOR.

Imagine this scene: forty people seated around a table. The setting is a small lodge on Lake Muskoka. The time is 1960, mid-August, and a good time for swimming, fishing and boating, but for the largest part of a week these forty people will have time only for a dip before the evening meal. Who are they, and why did they come here?
 Every summer, forty delegates of all the school teachers of Ontario (private schools excepted) meet to share ideas and make decisions of policy for the coming year. They choose a setting some distance away from their Toronto headquarters, so that persistent telephones and insistent callers shall not, for this space of time, interrupt the "brainstorming". The activities of the Ontario Teachers' Federation will be described another time, but it is timely that one decision of this 1960 meeting be discussed now.

We noted in the last article that the Minister of Education receives advice and requests from many sources of opinion.
 One of these sources is the teachers themselves. Because this Board of Governors of the Ontario Teachers' Federation had been concerned that course be brought up to date, and that educational requirements for teachers be enhanced, and because suggestions for such changes were being heard more often from a wider area of the province, it was decided to set up an Ontario Conference on Education. This conference will be held at Windsor, Ont., on Thursday, Friday and Saturday this week.

The aims of this conference were stipulated by the teachers, and then the conference was turned over to an autonomous body so that it would not happen (or appear to happen) that this conference was "teacher-controlled". The terms of reference were given as follows:
 "This conference, through group processes, will make a critical analysis of what is being done in education in Ontario.
 It has three main aims:
 1. To assess the strengths of our educational procedures; 2. To identify weaknesses; and
 3. To propose means for correcting deficiencies and for overcoming difficulties.
 The information and recommendations from the group discussions will enable those concerned to initiate improvements with the least possible delay.
 Education in Ontario must face fearlessly the challenge resulting from a rapidly changing way of life in a drastically changing world."
 The proportion of teachers at this conference of 1,000 delegates will be less than fifty per cent.
 Consequently, news will emanate from Windsor during the latter part of this week on such items as the effectiveness of teaching of various subjects, the philosophy of teaching certain subjects, teacher education, the treatment of individual differences in school, religious instruction, mental health, and equal opportunities for all children, to mention only a few topics.
 What are the opinions of the home and school association, the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, the Ontario Federation of Labour and ten other sponsoring organizations? When the discussions are finished at the end of this week, each of these organizations is expected to bring back reports for study, and for action.
