Christmas Hours For Local Shops Said Decided On

Richmond Hill merchants are beginning to make decisions about Christmas shopping hours. Those in the Richmond Heights Shopping Centre have already done so.

Merchants on down-town Yonge Street will open on Thursday and Friday this week until 9 p.m., as usual, and will continue staying open until 9 p.m. each Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday until Christmas.

Bayview Plaza merchants will stay open to 9 p.m. on Thursday, December 14th, as usual and will thereafter stay open every week-day, Saturdays included, until 9 p.m.

Several of the smaller stores in the Allencourt Shopping Centre stay open to 9 p.m. regularly. The larger stores have not yet set their Christmas hours.

It is likely that stores in all areas will close promptly at 6 p.m. on Saturday, December 23rd. Closing of all stores on Boxing Day, December 26th, is practically certain.

THE USED CAR GAMBLE

A reputable dealer of my acquaintance has an effective way of dispelling the doubts of his cautious used car customers. He does it by simply explaining his basic business principles:

"Neither of us can be absolutely sure at this moment that this car will perform as we believe it will," this dealer explains. "But the difference in buying from us is that we are here to make it right if it doesn't."

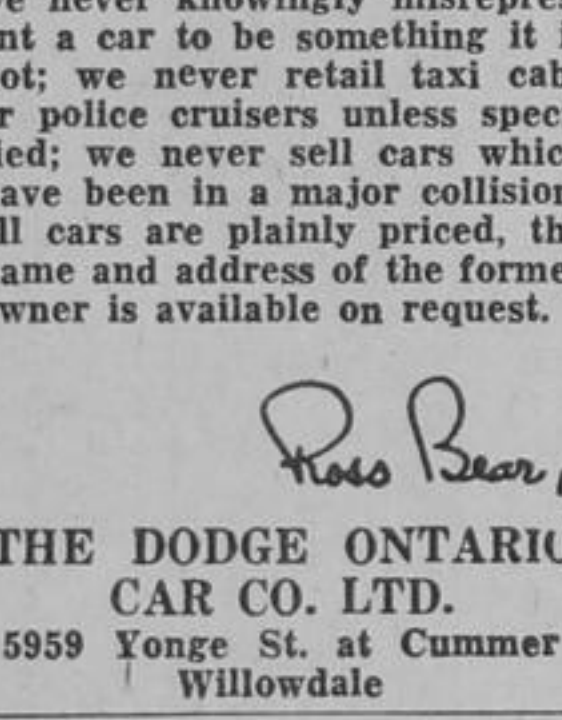

I know of no percentage figures on the subject, but it is a safe assumption that fully half of the used cars traded into dealers are in need of impending repairs of one kind or another. That is one of the fundamental reasons their owners decided to trade in their vehicles.

But even an expert appraiser can be fooled in evaluating a car's condition by faults that just don't show up in a mechanical check or a ride around the block. They may show up only when its new owner has put several hundred miles on it.

If the owner bought the car without regard to the dealer's reputation for integrity, that may be several hundred miles too late.

To take the gamble out of a used car bought from DODGE ONTARIO we have five operating principles to protect you we never knowingly misrepresent a car to be something it is not; we never retail taxi cabs or police cruisers unless specified; we never sell cars which have been in a major collision; all cars are plainly priced; the name and address of the former owner is available on request.

and in schools for elders and stewards. Incoming president, Keith Cambden, spoke of the formation of York Presbytery Men five years ago and of the advance which has been made since then. He spoke of Eldon Comfort, a layman of the Presbytery, who this past year went to Africa to serve the Church there. On behalf of the men Mr. Cambden presented gifts to the three past presidents of the organization: Delbert Booth, Wilbert Jennings, and Doug Parsons.

The Scarborough AOTS (As One That Serves) Glee Club under the direction of Syd Bagnell came up from Toronto to sing a selection of songs for the rally. These were enthusiastically received by the men.

Mr. Don Cameron, acting secretary of the Board of Men of the United Church of Canada, addressed the rally, taking for his theme a man's need to love God and his neighbour. The trouble so often is that we try to love God without loving our neighbour. Many people have an image of the Church as an institution which has nothing to do with the affairs of men. Mr. Cameron warned against compartmentalizing religion and life. He urged the men to demonstrate that the power of love is the greatest power in the world, stronger than rockets or Sputniks. He warned that laymen were not concerned enough about the Church speaking on international affairs. The world's problem, Mr. Cameron stated, is that men are not really willing to do what God asks them.

The church is part of a three-congregation circuit, in charge of Rev. Harold Davies, Maple. Other churches are Maple and Hope. The building will be retained in its present condition for the time being, with a service being held there once a year.

After the church is closed the attendance roll will be moved to Maple, where it is expected to remain, members of the Edgeley group will attend.

Land Use Change Forces Close Of Old Area Church

Edgeley United Church, in use for the past 85 years, is to be closed at the end of the year. The congregation has been gradually declining and is now down to twelve to fifteen persons. There is little possibility of an increase as the surrounding area is earmarked for industrial and commercial uses.

The decision to close was reached only after long and careful consideration by members of the congregation. It was influenced by the fact that the building was in need of considerable repairs and renovation.

Gail Elizabeth Hendry Is Bride Of Kenneth John Constable

Decorated with white chrysanthemums, Woodbridge United Church was the setting for the wedding on November 11, when Gail Elizabeth Hendry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Floyd Hendry, Woodbridge, was united in marriage to Kenneth John Constable, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Constable of Woodbridge. The Rev. William Morris officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white French velvet, falling into a chapel train, her fingertip veil held by a coronet of pearls and she carried a cascade of pink roses, white stephanotis and carnations.

Miss Carolyn Harwood was the bride's maid of honour. Miss Brenda Hendry, sister of the bride and Miss Lynne Jones, cousin of the bride, were the bridesmaids. Miss Sharon Plant was flower girl and all lady attendants were dressed alike in pastel blue French velvet, matching bandeau and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Mr. Robert Kerr of Richmond Hill was the groom's best man, and Mr. Lyness Jones, cousin of the bride and Mr. Ronald Burton, cousin of the groom were the ushers. Mr. Dale Constable, brother of the groom, was the ring-bearer. Organ music was played by Mr. C. Howie of Woodbridge, and vocalist

Miss Donna Graham sang the "Lord's Prayer" and the "Wedding Prayer". At the reception that followed in the church parlours, the guests were received by the bride's mother who was attired in dusty pink peau-de-soie, with matching accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The groom's mother wore a dress of magenta brocade, black accessories and a corsage of white mums.

For a wedding trip through the New England states the bride chose a brown wool dress, brown coat with fur trim, off-white hat, brown shoes and purse, with a corsage of white roses and carnations. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Constable will make their home on R. R. 2, Woodbridge.
