CONCORD SOCIALS

Home and School

The December meeting was well attended, with the school choir participating in the programme. Following the programme theme "Everywhere, Everywhere, Christmas Tonight," the girls sang carols from different lands. The choir, under the direction of Miss Janet Dalgleish who later led the parents in singing their carols too.

Several members of the Association told of the origin of Christmas customs in other countries.

Guest speaker for the evening was Dr. D. Wade, professor of World Religions and Christian Ethics at Knox College, Toronto. Dr. Wade's address followed the programme theme as he described how it felt to be in a non-Christian country at Christmas time. He emphasized that we in Canada, whether Christian or not, have been exposed to Christmas all our lives and cannot imagine life without it. Dr. Wade described the feeling that overcame his family on the Christmas which they spent in the Orient where, so far, only the Christians, a very small minority, celebrate the birth of Christ. There are no Santa Claus parades, very few coloured lights, no last minute shopping, none of the preparations which have become so much a way of Christian lives. Christmas comes to those who appreciate only its original meaning and so to the majority in the Far East, it doesn't come at all. Just past midnight, on the morning of Christmas, Dr. Wade recalled that he and his wife suddenly heard beautiful music which turned out to be groups of people singing Christmas carols, and they continued to sing all night long. Dr. Wade reminded us that we in Canada are so rich in spiritual as well as material things and we should never fail to appreciate this.

Butchered For 38 Years

A couple of weeks ago we were made aware of our neighbours through services which they offered. About ten o'clock one Saturday morning Mr. Bert Witty showed up at our door with some freshly butchered pork which was promptly bought and will enjoy the next few weeks. We didn't know that Mr. Witty butchered and he told us that this was his thirty-eighth year to do so. Some of us are a little slow to find out these things.

In the afternoon, a freckle-faced boy appeared wanting to know if we were in need of a Christmas tree, which he announced he was selling. We found out that he was Wayne Sherman whose dad, Bob had been kind enough to drive his boys and their trees around the neighbourhood. The supreme head of the house jumped at the opportunity of getting a tree delivered right to the door, since his resistance had worn very thin after an hour of "When are you going to get the tree?"

School News

Sympathy is extended again to the Poole family on the death of Mr. Poole's brother-in-law. Several members of the family motored to Concord, Michigan for the funeral.

Unpleasant as it is, we must remind ourselves again this year that some people do not have enough money for Christmas gifts, and they feel that the only way to get it is to break into someone else's home. Although it's rather late in the season, (who has money left now?) you are advised not to take any chances in leaving money or gifts around unguarded.

This year we got the "bug" to make Christmas decorations, and after a diet of styrofoam stew and "glitter" soup my family will be very glad to see that turkey dinner on Christmas. Even the rug has that glittery look.

Some decorations looked frazzled. Others a little bit frayed. So, buying a can of gold lacquer, I sprayed, and I sprayed, and I sprayed!

That "glow" my children have these days comes from outside as well as inside. My "ornaments in orbit" actually looked more like those missiles that didn't quite make it.

A Happy Holiday anyway to you all, and may Santa bring you at least one or two items that you want but really don't need!

The girls who took the "Gym in Swim" classes with the Y.W.C.A. this fall recently enjoyed the final evening of the series when husbands and friends joined them for swimming, badminton and exercises. On the last activity some husbands "chickened out" and the girls vow that next time they'll take their boyfriends!

It's time now for the second step in Christmas shopping - returning and exchanging everything that is too big, too small and the wrong colour.

Parents Meet Trustees Again Jefferson School Bus Topic Will Be Reopened

A five-member delegation representing the parents of school children of the Jefferson area, has not been able to come up with a solution to your problem. We will consider it again in a committee and will give you a reply.

In addressing the board, Mrs. Thomasson said that after a visit to the Department of Education, the parents of the children concerned were firmly convinced that the only solution to their problem lay within the power of the board. "You would not have set a precedent," she stated, "as we were the only area which had had a bus before the establishment of the school area." Continuing she said, "We have tried collecting money for bus service, but find this to be a most unsatisfactory solution of the problem."

She quoted the former chairman of the board, Mr. H. A. Constable, as having given firm assurance to the Jefferson board two years ago that the obligation of providing bus service in the Jefferson area would be carried out. Throughout her presentation she reiterated many times the feeling of the parents that the board had been adamant in its stand - but that the Jefferson bus was an obligation which could be granted without setting a precedent, as that area was the only one which had had a bus service.

She pointed out that if there had been any doubt of the continuation of the service at the time of the forming of the township school area, the Jefferson board would have made strong representation at that time to ensure this service in the future.

Trustees Goodwin, referring to a similar situation in the Hamilton area, suggested the parents should go to the municipal board for a solution. Mrs. Thomasson's reply was "We did go, but they sent us right back to you."

Board Not Committed

Referring to the quoted promise by the former board chairman, Trustee Dorothy Robertson said, "I am sure that Mr. Constable was in sympathy with you, as we all are, and he may have hoped to fulfill this promise, but he was only one member and could not commit the board to any obligation."

She also commented on Mrs. Thomasson's suggestion that some of the difficulty lay in the fact that the parents were a small group, by saying, "That has nothing to do with it. You

Parents Night

On Monday, parents night was held to allow the parents to speak to the teachers about their children's report card and progress in school.

Your correspondent would like to take this opportunity to wish everyone a Happy, Prosperous New Year.

Explorers

The Explorer group and their leaders, Mrs. J. Story and Mrs. P. Bennett, held their Christmas Party in the Sunday School room on December 18, when they entertained their mothers as their guests.

A short devotional period was held followed by games and the exchange of gifts. Each girl presented her mother with a gift.

Refreshments brought an enjoyable evening to a close.

Sunday School Christmas Concert

The annual Sunday school Christmas Concert was held in the church on December 20, with Dr. Binnington as chairman. The junior choir sang several Christmas numbers. A Christmas Pageant was given by the mission band members, who also sang a chorus. Mrs. W. Sandle's primary class gave a short exercise, "What Can We Do?" Mrs. P. Bennett's class gave an exercise also. "The Sunday School Class" Misses Anne Smith and Carol Hason sang a duet. Richard Calvert and Murray Mackness of the kindergarten class gave recitations.

Kyoko Ito and Sandra King of the primary class gave recitations. The junior choir presented the Christmas pageant, "O Holy Night" with Roberta Story, Anita Orr, Karen Chadwick, Cathy Sanderson, Robyn Macdonald, Judy Morton, Barbara Empringham and Sharon Boynton as the angels, which was very much enjoyed by all.

Following the benediction, everyone went down to the Sunday school room where the Santa Claus arrived and distributed the gifts and treats to the children.

It was the Father and Son Night at the Victoria Square and District Lions Club meeting on Tuesday evening of last week.

The guest speaker was Mr. J. B. Price, of Ballantrae, his topic being, "The Importance of Education in the Changing Conditions". He urged the students to stay in school to complete their education.

The winner of "Frank," the turkey, was Mr. Gordon Ramsey, R.R. No. 4, Stouffville.

The winners of the lucky draw for 12 prizes of turkeys were: Miss Mabel Sanderson, Victoria Square; Mrs. S. DeFoe, Victoria Square; Mrs. Roy Nelson, Gormley; Elinor Magee, Toronto; Miss Elta Stephenson, Richmond Hill; Sharon Macdonald, Gormley; Fraser Gee, Victoria Square; Peter Dolderrum, Gormley; Norman Wood, Toronto; David Reid, Gormley; Aubrey Stephenson, Buttonville, and William Orr, Victoria Square.

Brownies The leaders of the brownies of the 1st Gormley Brownie Pack attended the Christmas Party given by the 13th Richmond Hill Pack, on Tuesday evening in St. Matthew's United Church, Richmond Hill East.

A programme of games, skits, plays and carol singing were given by both packs. Richmond Hill Pack served a lovely lunch. The leaders of the Brownies get exactly the same hearing as any other group, large or small."

Concluding the discussion, Chairman Sam Kaiser pointed out that the Vaughan Township School Area Board was not in operation when the school area was formed. The township council applied to the Department of Education to form a school area, and in so doing dissolved two existing school areas and several union school sections.

Happy New Year to all the readers of my column. If you have any news of interest, would you please contact me.

Neighbourhood Notes

Bernice St. John, celebrated her eighth birthday last Monday with fourteen of her school chums joining in games, cake and pop.

Dave Wilson received an honorary membership for 50 years in the Orange Order. Last year was the first year he was unable to march in the Orange Parade, on account of illness. He is a member of Temperance L.O.L. 301.

Brownie News

The Fourth Thornhill Brownies were out last Thursday, singing carols at some of the older residents' homes on the street.

Mr. Coombs, Sussex Ave., returned home from Sunnybrook Hospital recently and is making good progress.

Langstaff Young Women's Institute held its December meeting and Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Marg. Blow. Twelve members answered the roll call by wearing a fancy Christmas costume.

Report on the renting of a Santa Claus suit was given, reports were also made on the Christmas visit, made by members, to three elderly citizens and two shut-ins, when a parcel of Christmas gifts was left with them. Mrs. Marg Blow and Mrs. Kay Morris were in charge of the programme. They presented five small skits and several games.

Mrs. Betty Patterson and Mrs. Joyce Curtis were chosen as having the best costume. Everyone went home with a prize of a Christmas decoration.

Mr. Lepke is continuing to make good progress in St. Michael's Hospital but it is doubtful that he will be home for the holidays.

I would like to take this opportunity to wish all my readers a Happy New Year.
