Majorettes Were Very Busy Girls During November Richmond Hill Police Majorettes, led by June Maitland, completed a busy month, with a well-earned Christmas party recently at the McConaghy School.

First appearance was at the Grey Cup Parade, where the Majorettes and the Police Boys Band represented Richmond Hill, courtesy of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce. The next appearance was at the Grey Cup half-time show. Mr. and Mrs. Wells, producers of the show, were high in their praise of the Richmond Hill girls.

The Richmond Hill Santa Claus Parade was next on the agenda. Here, local residents were able to see the snappy formations and the new red, white and blue uniforms, designed by Miss Maitland. The next parade, a week later, was the Santa Claus parade in Markham. The majorettes and the band were the guests of Mr. Gil Davis and his Markham Girls Band. Again the girls received ovations along the route. Incidentally, before each parade the girls had their hair styled, courtesy of D. Albert Brown Coiffeurs, at the Richmond Heights Centre. This was a community gesture by Mr. Brown and his associates.

At present there are 60 junior and 50 senior girls in the majorettes. Boosting their activities for 1962, they will soon be offering booster decals to citizens.

Neighbourhood Notes

Thursday evening of last week, following the Barton-Maw wedding rehearsal, Miss Donna Wakelin and her parents entertained at their Toronto home for members of the wedding party.

Rev. Dr. A. F. Binnington was master of ceremonies at the Barton-Maw wedding reception, and Mr. Henry Golster of West Hill proposed the toast to the bride. Holly garlands decorated the guest tables at the Yangtze Pagoda, and the knife the bride held to cut the cake was made by her maternal great-grandfather more than a century ago. Through the years it has been used to cut family wedding cakes.

Mr. Frank MacInerney was a member of the H. R. Paterson household for many years, was taken to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital early in the week.

Mr. George Arnold is another community member who spent Christmas in hospital. This has been a week of family reunions for most people in the community. Mr. and Mrs. John Brown held a Christmas party for members of their family, with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hood and other relatives present. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Reid were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lorn Dimma of Cedar Grove on Sunday evening, and on Monday entertained Mr. and Mrs. Bill Henry of Toronto, and others.

Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Stephenson there was a lively time with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilson and Larry of Orangeville and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Stephenson and their children enjoying a Christmas dinner. On Christmas Day, Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Peter of Unionville. Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Paterson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boardway at their family party on Monday, and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Miller entertained at Sunday dinner for Mr. and Mrs. James Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mingay, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Waterston with grandchildren, nieces and nephews also present.

The Rodick family Christmas was celebrated at the farm on Tuesday of this week with Rev. and Mrs. Morrison Sellar of Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. James Rodick and Mrs. Wm. Rodick and Grace. Duties with the Metropolitan Toronto Police Force kept John busy.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Jones and their family held a family party at their home on Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs. James McQuay, Don and Otto McQuay as guests; and at the S. R. Patterson home Mr. and Mrs. Harold Steffler, Gail, John and Paul were entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Crisp held Christmas dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crisp of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Robb, Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brumwell, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gough, Mr. and Mrs. George Hoper and their grandchildren. For Mr. and Mrs. Pratt one of the nicest Christmas gifts was the fact that their son Frank was able to be home after a long stay in hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Brown and Kathy were guests of Mrs. Brown's sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reshaw of Toronto, and Alan spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maw and Jean.

Mr. and Mrs. John Donaldson were entertained at their son's home, Mr. and Mrs. Rae Donaldson, John and Mary Lyn; and Mr. and Mrs. George Oakes and Bob opened their Christmas parties with Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Snider and Kathy.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hill celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Robinson, Thornhill, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Burr, Beverly. Sandra, Mr. Newton Burr and Mr. Cline Burr were at the Markham home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen.

There was a party of twenty at the Walter Brumwell home, with Mr. and Mrs. Clark Denby and their family and Mrs. Edna Denby present.

Members of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clark's family visited parents-in-law early in the day, but gathered at the Clark home for the evening, as did the members of the Hood family when Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hood and the children of the family gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Brumwell.

Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Binnington flew to New York Christmas Eve to spend the holiday season with their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hewitt and their two small sons. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Worsnop returned late this week from a flying visit to Pittsburgh, California, where they visited their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Malone at Christmas time. It was also their first chance to become acquainted with their new granddaughter, nine-month-old Dale Malone.

The Village Folk Dancers were a featured part of the Christmas morning show "Free and Easy" over CFTO at 10 o'clock. This group meets at Buttonville W.I. Hall each Wednesday evening through the winter.

Alan Binnington has joined the staff of the Crown Life until he can resume his law course. Sunday School Concert There was a capacity audience on the Tuesday evening before Christmas, when Brown's Corners Sunday School children and their parents met to greet Santa Claus, and while they waited for him to come they presented a concert packed with interest. Snow, and a glorious moon were provided for the occasion, and Christmas was in the air. The tree lights sparkled no brighter than the children's eyes. There were carols, led by Mrs. S. J. English and Mrs. George Hooper, to begin; later the junior choir delighted everyone with Christmas songs, ending with "We wish you a Merry Christmas."

James Britten was best man, and the ushers were Derek Maw, brother of the bride, and Harold Holden.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Yangtze Pagoda Restaurant, Richmond Hill, where Mrs. Maw received the guests in a teal blue brocade sheath dress with matching jacket and accessories. Her corsage was pink sweetheart roses. Mrs. Barton's flowers were yellow sweetheart roses and the groom's grandmother wore yellow tea roses on her costume. Later the bride and groom left by motor for the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec City, where they will spend the Christmas holidays.

The bride traveled in a white wool sheath with red Chanel jacket, casual camel's hair coat, red bow hat and red and black accessories. Her corsage was a white lily. On her return, Mr. and Mrs. Barton will live in Toronto, where they both teach on the Toronto Board of Education staff. Local guests attending the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Binnington, Mr. and Mrs. John Storey, Art Storey, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Snider and Alan Brown. Others attended from Toronto, Peterborough, Scarborough and West Hill.

There are several bereaved homes in the community this Christmas and we extend sympathy. The Alan D. Martin family attended the funeral of Mr. Martin's father, John Alfred Martin of Toronto, on Thursday afternoon of last week, and Mrs. Darling, who lived in the small cottage opposite Buttonville School situated on the farm owned by her daughter, Mrs. Snowball, died suddenly early this month.

Mrs. Joe Fisher Friends in the neighbourhood were saddened on Thursday of last week to learn of the sudden passing of Mrs. Joe Fisher, whose home is on the fifth concession of Markham, north of No. 7 Highway.

Mrs. Fisher, the former Maude Burton, was making good progress following surgery at the Scarborough General Hospital when she was stricken. She is survived by her husband and several brothers and sisters. The funeral service was held Sunday afternoon of this week at the Pipher Funeral Home, Richmond Hill, with interment at Thornhill Cemetery. Rev. Dr. A. F. Binnington officiated.

Mrs. Fisher attended Brown's Corners United Church and was active in W.M.S. and harmony club work.

The Nursery children presented a pageant "Away in a Manger," assisted by leaders Mrs. Syl Savage, Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Ken Stiver, and a second pageant was presented by the older Sunday School children, with Mrs. Wilfred Turner and Mrs. Steffler directing.

Garnet Stewart and Charles Turner looked after staging, assisted by Gordon Brown, Tom Arnold and Danny Wood. Santa Claus arrived at the conclusion of the concert laden with gifts.

Wedding

BARTON-MAW The altar of Brown's Corners United Church glowed with candlelight on the evening before Christmas Eve, when Marie Louise, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maw was united in marriage to Raymond G. Barton, son of Brigadier and Mrs. Clarence Barton of Toronto.

The groom's father assisted Rev. Dr. A. F. Binnington during the double ring ceremony; Miss Joy Fuller played the wedding music, and Mrs. George Hooper sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love." During signing of the register, the assembly sang Christmas carols at the brides request.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was beautiful in a floor-length gown of white peau de soie with small bows accentuating the indented round neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The fitted bodice and full skirt were embroidered with crystal and seed pearls, and a coronet of crystals and seed pearls caught her finger tip veil. Her flowers were a cascade of white stephanotis and carnations and the pearl drop pendant she wore was the gift of the groom.

Miss Jean Maw was her sister's maid of honour, and the bridesmaids were Misses Donna Wakelin of Toronto and Margaret Barton of Peterborough, sister of the groom. Little Miss Cynthia Golster of West Hill was flower girl. The attendants wore crinolined gowns of Christmas red brocade on lines similar to the bride's, with matching veiled bows in their hair, and they carried white tant point such as Hamilton, customers here should continue to dial "Operator." Mr. Barnes pointed out that information operators are working with records for hundreds of thousands of telephone numbers so that the more details the customer can give concerning the name, initials and street address of the person he is trying to reach, the faster the operator will be able to find the telephone number wanted.

The 113 "Information" service will become effective at the same time in Oakville, Clarkson, Dunbarton and Streetsville.

DEPT. OF HEALTH TWP. OF NORTH YORK P. H. P.

Public health practitioners, who find ways of overcoming obstacles and bridging the gap between discovery and application, have long been unsung heroes of health and medicine. No professional practice has a more direct, intimate and immediate effect upon so many people as the application of modern public health skills.

In public health, the community is the patient and every member of the community is touched and favorably affected by good public health practice. (Dr. Mattison, Exec. Dir., American Public Health Assn.) Carl E. Hill, M.D., M.O.H.

Merry Christmas At Orange Home Children at the Loyal True Blue and Orange Home received extra special Christmas gifts this year in addition to the parties given annually by Bing Lee of the Town Inn and Mr. Hein of the Yangtze Pagoda Restaurant.

All the children at the home were encouraged to spend the Christmas season with friends and relatives and as a result all the youngsters spent from three to four days in the festive surroundings of their friends. In the past the Richmond Hill Fire Department always delivered Santa Claus to the home on a fire truck, but this year, because the children were away, Santa was not asked to appear.

No Rabies Epidemic Says Control Officer "As far as I know we have not reached epidemic stage in regards to rabies." This was the statement given to the "Liberal" Tuesday by Canine Control Officer James Ryan after an article appeared in a Toronto daily suggesting that southern York County was in the midst of a rabies epidemic. Mr. Ryan also said that he was incorrectly quoted as saying that a hunt for rabid animals was being organized in Vaughan Township. "A hunt was suggested," said Ryan, "but nothing definite was planned."
