Next year we're going to try a new scheme. Everything else has gone instant - from potatoes to puddings. So we're going to try for an instant Christmas morning.

To Limbo with wrapping gifts! We'll get an armload of wrapping paper, tags and fancy bows. Not to use in the usual way but to tear into shreds. The dog can play with the bows for a few days to get 'em into real prime condition. When the family troops into the tree only Santa's unwrapped gifts will be on view.

After everyone has ohed and ahed over what the jolly old man has left, each juvenile member will be given a large bag of torn wrapping paper, seals and dog-chewed bows and ribbon. With childish glee first draw were Kay Helleur, and Vi McLatchy. they'll proceed to hurl this gay garbage all over the

When the house looks like an annex of the town dump and childish exuberance has worn thin, Mom and Dad have only to shovel out the debris and produce the beautifully unwrapped gifts! What a labour Blanche Smith, C. McRoberts, J. The winners of the lucky phy scored two goals while John Birrell singles. Leafs' goals saving device - Instant Christmas Shambles!

Even the ribbon, wrapping paper and tag companies won't lobby against this deal. Why should they? They'll sell just as much ribbon as they ever did and, if the idea really took hold, maybe they'd sell even more.

Craigie's Rangers and the Richmond Hill Tree Service Team are leading the league, with the unsponsored Orphans and Wise Insulation rounding out the four team loop. Scoring plays are frequent and the action is definitely on the torrid side.

You are assured of your money's worth as a spectator as all players in the league play because they love hockey. Put a bunch of real hockey filberts on the ice and you know that the players are giving of their best every inch of the way. Take a look some Tuesday night and see how exciting it can be, and the cost is negligible.
