

News of the World in Pictures

FUSSIN' FEATHERS—Pelican Pete lets visitors know he isn't happy with something in a London, England, zoo.

Jiggs sits quietly while George Ryals gets set.

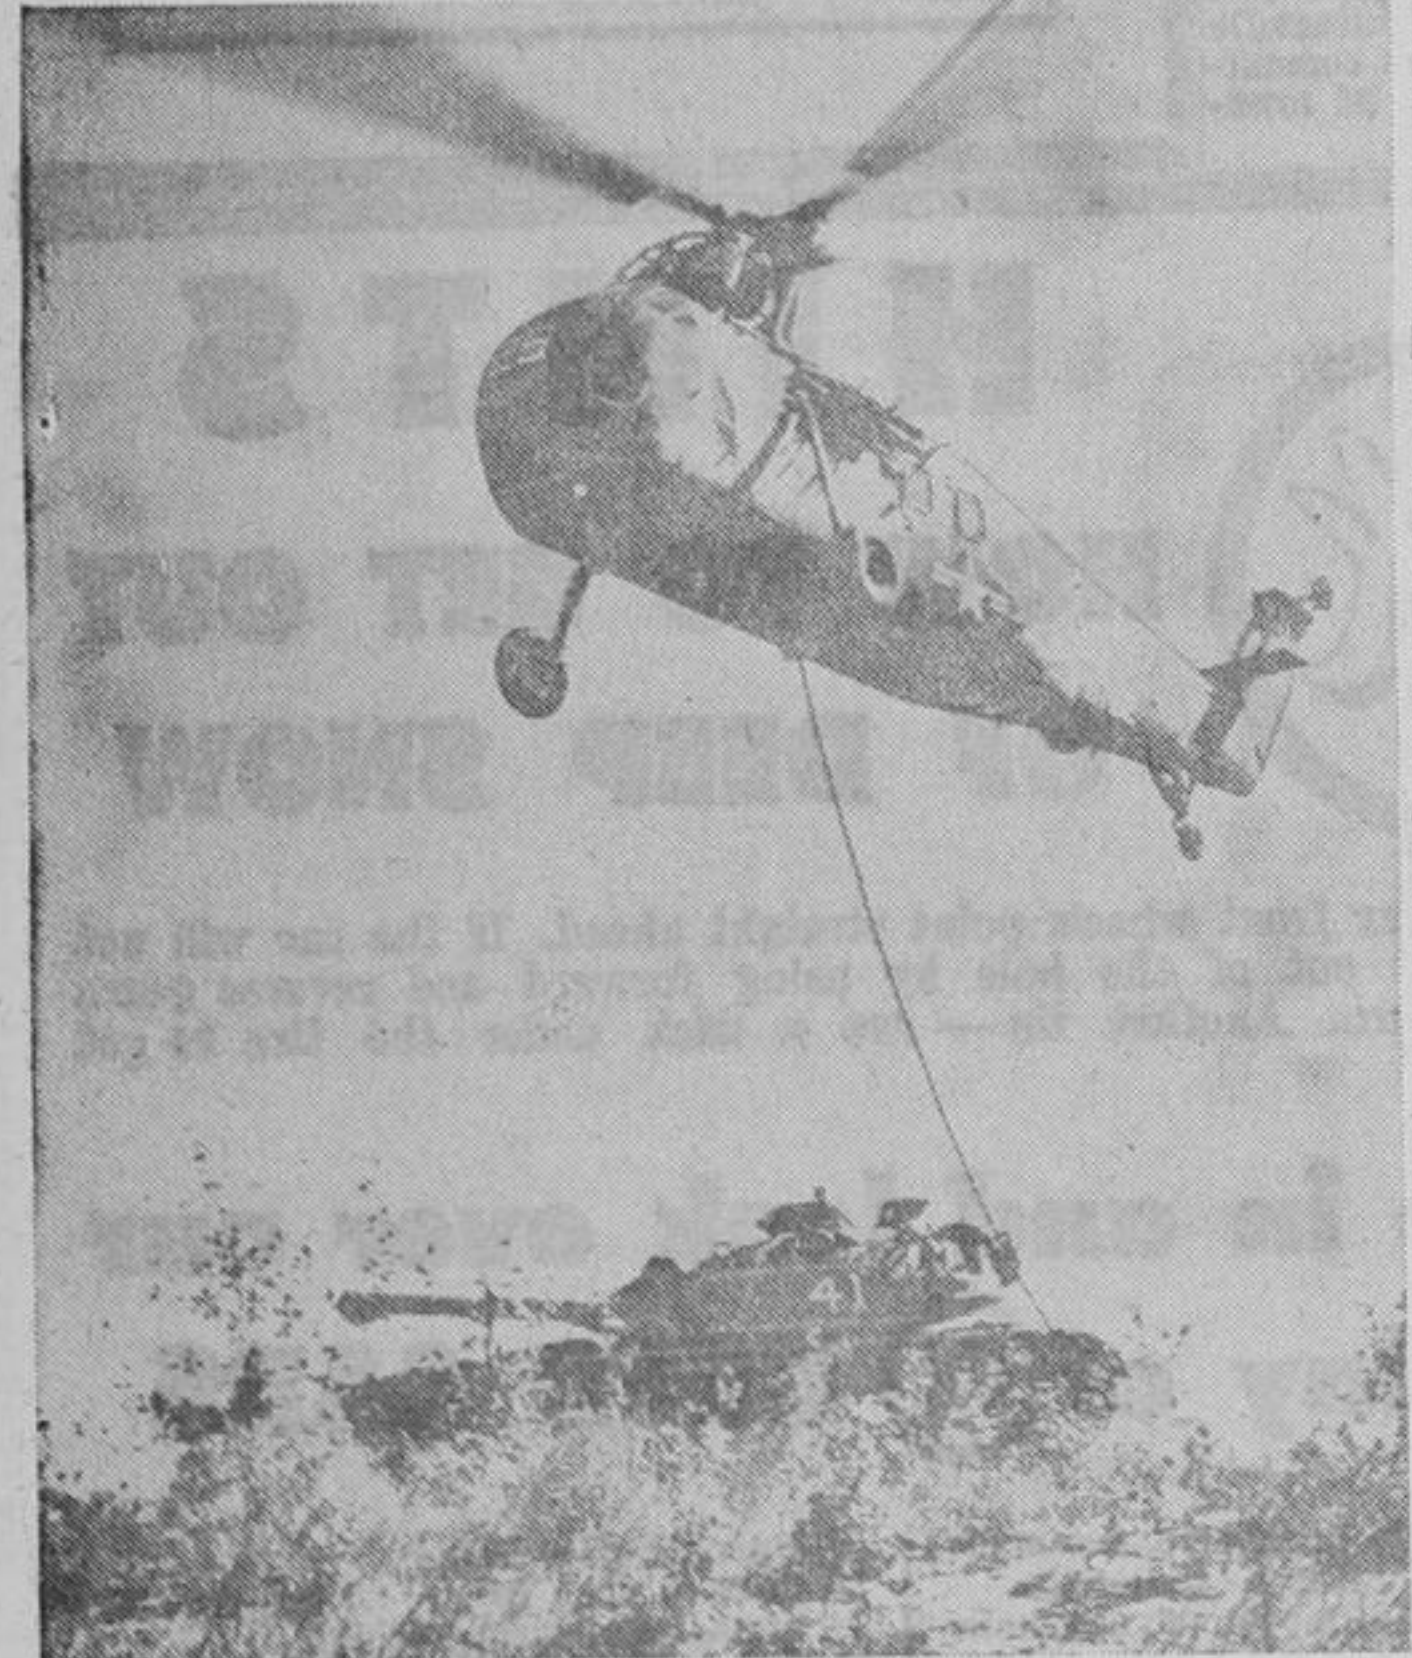

A funny story helps him out.

A CHIMP CUTS UP

WHAT HAPPENS when a chimpanzee gets a haircut? When the chimp is Jiggs and the "barber shop" is Ross Allen's Reptile Institute in Silver Springs, Fla., then anything can happen—like this time.

Jiggs shows Ryals how he wants his hair cut.

FLYING GAS STATION—An infantry tank replenishes its fuel supply from tanker helicopter in Quantico, Va.

SONG SESSION — Diahann Carroll and Richard Kiley get an accompaniment from composer Richard Rodgers in a New York rehearsal for musical, "No Strings."

MOTHER DOESN'T KNOW BEST—At least that's the opinion of that youngster as it sasses its mother back in Fair Lawn, N.J. They're residents in a kiddie zoo.

SOME SAND DOIN'S—Margaret Davis likes her Miami Beach, Fla., vacation, but she's having sand castle trouble.

COMMUNITY MOULDERS—Young Tanganyikan girls gather to learn simple home crafts so that they may teach mothers in various village clubs. A plan for development of medical services is now underway in that nation.