THE FOLLY OF PRIVATE DEALS

As anyone who has tried will tell you, attempting to sell your old car privately and then buying a new one without a trade can make you wish you hadn't.

Here are some of the steps an owner must go through to accomplish this complicated task:

Firstly, he must advertise his car in a newspaper where he will find that his ad won't begin to compete with those of dealers. If he is lucky and it does get him results, then he must generally be forever on call waiting for the right prospect to come along.

When he does find a buyer, he runs into real price resistance. Private buyers expect to buy from an individual for substantially less. That's usually why they answer such ads in the first place. In addition, the seller can offer no guarantees for service after delivery and the buyer knows that all future faults with the car become his responsibility.

Since better than three quarters of all buyers have a car to trade, the chances are good that the buyer himself will have a car that will stand in the way of the deal. If the transaction passes this hurdle, then the problem of finance arises. Again, better than 70% of all cars are sold on terms, and the chances are good that the prospective buyer will wish to buy this way.

It is to overcome all these problems, of course, that car dealers exist. You will be far better ahead if you find a reputable one and trade your car with him. If you should deal with us, you will be availing yourself of honest treatment, reliable service and fair dealings as a matter of course.

Earnings Claims Bring Big Fines On U.I.C. Charge

Two men were fined a total of $175. in Richmond Hill Magistrate's Court Tuesday after being convicted of filing false statements with the National Unemployment Insurance Commission during 1961. Gordon Thomas of R.R.1, King City, and Everett McNelly, R. R. 2, Stouffville, were convicted by Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake on evidence given by a commission official.

The official said that the two men had applied for unemployment benefit, signing statements as to their earnings during the week prior to filing for the benefits. Investigation by the commission showed that the information on the statements was completely false.

McNelly, married, with five children, was fined a total of $75 on two counts and given until March 6 to pay the fine. Thomas, also married and with five children, was fined a total of $100 on four counts. He was also given until March 6 to pay the fine. It was noted that both men were making restitution for the benefits they received and were not entitled to.

If it's true that a fool and his money are soon parted — then tell us how they got together in the first place?

Town Hydro Completes Bayview Ave. Lighting

Chairman Sam Cook of Richmond Hill Hydro announced this week that the commission has completed its street lighting program on Bayview Ave. An additional number of modern vapour mercury street lights have been installed on the west side of Bayview extending from Rockport Crescent north to Taylor Mills Drive South at a cost of $1,100.81. The new lighting was completed in two stages. Last fall lights were installed from Markham Road to Rockport, and now the remainder of the lights have been erected giving Bayview a bright appearance at night.

Bathurst Street Remains Blocked House In Centre

Howard Hunter of Densgrove Construction, the company said to be moving the "ditched house" formerly in the ditch on Bathurst Street south of the Vaughan Road and now back in the centre of the road, causing a traffic block, was expected to appear in Richmond Hill Magistrate's Court last week. Through a misunderstanding he went to Newmarket instead. He will appear in court at the Hill on March 1st.

Vaughan Township is trying to get a writ of mandamus, which would force Hunter to move the house within a specified time or suffer penalties.

"The Liberal" has received numerous calls from irate residents regarding the blocking of Bathurst Street. The only people in a position to do anything are the mover himself and Vaughan Township authorities, with the aid of the courts.

Senior Citizen David T. Rumble Passes Feb. 16

David Thomson Rumble, a life long resident of Vaughan Township died on February 6th. His whole span was spent on his farm where he was born. His family having lived on Cedar Hill farm for 90 years. He was a member of Richmond Hill United Church, a life member of Richmond Lodge A.F. & A.M. He is survived by his wife Gladys Elizabeth Cowie, one son Stewart Thomson Rumble, two daughters Mrs. Harold Howarth (Madeline) and Isobel, four grandchildren, David, John and Sharon Rumble and Elaine Howarth. Also one sister, Mary and two brothers, James and Frank.

The funeral service was held Monday, February 19, 1962, from Wright and Taylor Chapel of the Pipher Funeral Home with Rev. Charles Higginson officiating. Pallbearers were grandsons David and John Rumble, four nephews, Wm. Proctor, Wm. Rumble, Wm. Vanderburgh and Jack Rumble. Interment was at Richmond Hill Presbyterian Cemetery.

Split Factory Lands

Publicizing a decision at a recent meeting of Richmond Hill Town Council, when that body sat as a committee of the whole without press or public being present, Mayor James Haggart announced at council meeting on Monday that it had been decided to sub-divide the parcel of industrial land bought by the municipality recently and to provide a road which would give access to all lots.

The announcement, he said, was made in accordance with the requirements of the Municipal Act and so that all citizens would know what was taking place.

Level Crossings Opposed

CNR Breaking Promises Markham Reeve Asserts

The Canadian National Railways is not keeping its promises not to build any level crossings in the municipality, in connection with the bypass line to the marshalling yards in Vaughan Township, declared Reeve Wilfred Dean of Markham Township at council's last meeting. "It looks as though the railway is trying to get away with level crossings," he declared. "I don't recall this council approving anything with regard to crossings in this township," said Councillor Allan Summer. The railway was working piecemeal to break its promises, said Reeve Dean heatedly. "It is quite a skin game they are working on us."

"At our first meeting with the railway there were to be no level crossings in the township," he said.

Thornhaven School W.A. Meeting On February 27

A meeting was held on February 12th, at the home of Mrs. Donald Brown, Markham for women interested in forming an auxiliary for Thornhaven School for Retarded Children in Richmond Hill. The members attending came from Richmond Hill, Thornhill, Willowdale, Markham, Stouffville and Milliken.

Mrs. D. A. Kennedy of Hillside, who is an active member of the women's auxiliary at the Beverley Street School for Retarded Children in Toronto, presented the group with a detailed and helpful account of the activities that their auxiliary undertake in raising funds; plus suggestions on how an auxiliary of this type can be organized.

The discussions also centred upon ways and means that a woman's auxiliary could raise funds for needs at the school.

Condition Of Toronto And Suburbs Before Bill 80 Slated As Warning

Mayor James Haggart will prepare the brief which will consolidate town council's thinking on the question of co-ordination between the five municipalities of Richmond Hill, Vaughan and Markham Townships and the Villages of Woodbridge and Markham.

Meeting some weeks ago, councils of the municipalities approved, in principle, action which would lead to co-operation between them to their mutual advantage. It was agreed that each municipal council would study the comprehensive brief prepared by Vaughan Township, and then submit its ideas for further consideration. Out of such study is expected to arise a co-ordinating body which, while it might not have official status, would serve as a link between groups with similar problems.

General Basis Needed
Members of Richmond Hill Council were emphatic in their view that, at the beginning, all proposals must be treated on a said Reeve Dean. Now it looks as if there may be seven if something isn't done. A letter from the Board of Transport Commissioners advised council that the board would ask the CNR to estimate the cost of light and bell signals for two crossings in the township. "There would be three crossings within three-quarters of a mile," he said.

Council decided to make a strong protest to the CNR, stating its objections. A suggestion that the four townships through which the access line passes should co-operate in fighting level crossings was made by the reeve.

Warning signals for the John Street - 16th Avenue Bala line have been approved and construction is likely to take place in the near future.

Mrs. C. H. Atkinson, of Richmond Hill, was appointed temporary chairman and Mrs. Charles Allen of Milliken, temporary secretary to preside at the first official meeting to be held February 27th at 8:00 p.m. at Thornhaven School, Richmond Hill. An invitation is extended to anyone interested in joining this auxiliary to attend this meeting. The staff of Thornhaven will be present on the night and will conduct a tour of the school.

Mrs. William Ostler of Willowdale, Mrs. Jack Lumsten, Markham, Mrs. W. G. Dodds, Richmond Hill, and Mrs. Percy Schell, Stouffville were appointed representatives of their area and any information required can be obtained from these representatives.

The problems of the north differ from those of the south," said Mayor Haggart. He hoped that the co-ordinating group would grow into a body which would result in much good for the people of the district. "We should not forget conditions in Toronto before Bill 80," (the legislation which created Metro) he declared. "They forced a 'shot-gun' marriage. The municipalities there could not get along with their neighbours. We could find ourselves forced into such a marriage." We must show our good faith.

Councillor John MacDiarmid suggested that an outsider should be named chairman of the co-ordination group. He and others opposed a passage in the Vaughan Township brief which suggested that the mayor of Richmond Hill, ex officio, should be chairman. Mayor Haggart was also in opposition, saying that the office should be rotated among all municipal heads. He felt that all municipalities should be on an equal footing.

Dealt with last week by town council, which referred it to the personnel and welfare committee, a resolution from the town of Penetanguishene suggesting that the provincial government be asked to abrogate the requirement that relief recipients must not be asked to work, met with disapproval when it was reported on by the committee at council meeting this week.

Members repeated their objections, adding others. Councillor Alec Campbell, in a recent illness, said that the town's welfare officer, Norman Lewis, was now ill. The clerk-treasurer was looking after welfare work for the time being, he said. Reports on 1961 welfare would be forthcoming shortly, said Councillor Campbell.

Discussing the Penetanguishene suggestion, which would require relief recipients to work for the municipality if called on to do so, Mayor Haggart said that the bulk of welfare payments over the years were to people who were unemployed in any circumstances. Also, he declared, it would be folly to ask inexperienced men to handle works department jobs for which they were not trained. "We would be playing around with men's lives," he asserted. "We should try to get them proper work."

Campbell Opposes
Councillor Campbell, chairman of the welfare and personnel committee, said that his committee recommended against the proposal. "The basis of welfare is to give aid to people in need," he said. "We cannot do you a 'refuse payments' to a man who will not work? What about his family?" He declared that the administrative problems would be too great to make the idea worthwhile. "There will always be people who take advantage and have to be taken care of," he said. "In our scheme of living the workers have to carry such people."

"Shysters are rare," declared Deputy Reeve Broadhurst. He felt that a decision to put relief recipients to work would put too much arbitrary power in the hands of welfare officers. Councillor Mrs. Southwell repeated her previous contention that men being put to work would be taken off the relief payrolls, with the municipality then failing to get any provincial subsidy.

Council unanimously turned down the Penetanguishene suggestion. As far as Richmond Hill Council is concerned, relief recipients will not be asked to contribute labour for the aid they are given.
