A QUALITY PAINT JOB

If your car is of recent vintage but is in need of a paint job, it will pay you to have it done. The result will increase your own satisfaction and the car's value when you trade it in.

How your car is painted, however, will decide how long that value last. Insufficient paint applied over an unprepared surface will mean renewed rust spots in a few months and wasted money.

M. R. Bear

If the entire car is done at Dodge Ontario, this is how we will do it:

Pitted and rusted spots are sanded to the bare metal and reprimed. Then the entire surface of the old paint and reprimed areas are hand rubbed smooth. Name plates are removed before this process and are then replaced after the final drying. Chrome trim is masked, of course, but so as to permit the paint to be applied under the edges.

Three coats of quality paint are then applied evenly under dust-free conditions (thick coats tend to develop cracks eventually) and the paint baked in a drying oven to give it a factory quality.

The price we charge for this guaranteed quality paint job is approximately $95. It would be possible to do the job for less money providing that the preparatory steps of sanding, priming and rubbing were eliminated and a single coat of paint applied and dried in the open air. But the price should be at least half as much to permit you to do the job again in six months to when you will need to.

St. Gabriel's Anglican Church, Crosby & Bayview Aves., Richmond Hill are holding a Bake Sale and Fashion Show on Monday, March 5, at 3 p.m.

Teachers Hear System Challenged

Academic Courses Best Industrialist Declares

Staff members of the York Central District (Thornhill, Woodbridge, Richmond Hill and Bayview High Schools) attended their annual District 12 Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation Conference at Brampton last Friday. This was an all-day conference with the students of the district receiving a day off from their school routine.

The morning segment of the conference featured three outstanding speakers, Mr. A. H. McKague, Assistant Superintendent of Secondary Education for the Province, Mr. E. H. Lindsay, Vice-president of General Electric and Mr. J. W. Singleton, Superintendent of Burlington Secondary Schools. The afternoon session was devoted to further professional development when teachers joined their choice of twenty-one subject area interest groups. The general consensus was that the conference was one of the best in years.

"It Comes Out Wrong"

The Vice-president of General Electric, Mr. Lindsay, started his views on "Education and Employment" with the story of "an educational toy designed to help the child adjust to the world today - any way you put it together it comes out wrong!" Society is complicated, he said, and education, in the words of Thomas Huxley "should train you to do the things that need to be done, when they should be done, whether you like it or not."

He said that shop work might keep a student in school longer but a shop student would be of little value to a large corporation nor would he get an education in the true sense. Mr. Lindsay felt that students from the academic courses were a better risk in industry because these people would in all probability have some mental ability, the desire for learning, and the likelihood of being successful.

He hoped that there would not be a trend towards lowering the standards of the high school because of the trend to vocational courses.

Three Needs Apparent

In his summation, Mr. Lindsay said that we must face up to three things:

(1) The need for better and wider spread education and the recognition that vocational education is not education in the true sense, nor a good foundation for advanced studies.

(2) The experience of corporations with persons coming to them with vocational education has led them to place secondary school vocational courses at the bottom of the totem pole of educational requirements.

(3) The primary obligation of the schools is not to cater to the business community but to the individual student and to the community in which he lives. Mr. Lindsay completed his advice by saying that schools should not conform their courses to what business needs, or says it needs.

Baden Powell Sunday" February 25, was observed in Richmond Hill by a number of the Scout-Cub, Guide-Brownie groups that crowded to capacity several local churches.

The church parade and service of the 3rd Scout Troop of Richmond Hill East was held in the Anglican Church of St. Gabriel, the 3rd being joined by the 6th Cub and Scout Troop. The Guides and Brownies were well represented by the 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th Guide Companies and the 4th, 5th, 6th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 13th Brownie Packs, together with their leaders. The Rev. R. E. McLennan conducted the service, the First Lesson being read by Scout David Amos and the Second Lesson read by Guide Ann Firman.

Immediately following the presentation of the Queen's Scout Badge to Scout Murray Day by the Chaplain assisted by Scoutmaster Barry King, the Chaplain requested that all Cubs and Scouts re-affirm their Promise. Mr. Ronald Sculthorpe, District Commissioner, took the re-affirmation of the Cubs and Scouts. Guide Commissioner for Richmond Hill East, Mrs. L. G. Sisk, received the re-affirmation of the Guides and Brownies.

Anniversary Church Parade and Service was held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Walter Scott School on Sunday morning, with the 1st Beverley Acres Cub and Scout Troop, Kaa Cub Pack, Shere Khan Cub Pack, 7th and 8th Cub and Scout Troops, and their leaders, participating.

Pastor Albert Myers conducted the service, and, after the experiences of 18 years in scouting work, delivered an inspiring and appropriate message.

Richmond Hill United Church was the scene of Sunday's Anniversary Church Parade and Service, in which the 5th Scout Troop with Scoutmaster Drummond Fraser, and A.S.M. John Turner, together with "A" Cub Pack, Akela Al Clarke, and "B" Cub Pack, Akela Ted Duffy, also with the newly formed 5th Richmond Hill Rover Crew, Skipper Ralph Kerslake, participating.

The impressive sermon, "Singing in the Dark," delivered by the Chaplain, Rev. C. G. Higginson, was taken from the Scripture of St. Paul in prison, Acts 16, 9 to 33. The Lesson was read by Queen Scout Bill Fahey.

Bowlers To Aid March Of Dimes Sunday, March 11

Repeating the gesture of previous years, the ABC bowling alleys, Richmond Hill, will contribute its entire revenue on Sunday, March 11th, to the March of Dimes, Mrs. Norman Todd, in charge of the drive, has announced. The alleys will open on that date from one to eleven p.m.

The recent drive was an outstanding success. Mrs. Todd told "The Liberal." Returns so far had been slightly over $3,500, showing a big increase from last year, when Richmond Hill contributions were $2,591 and those from Richvale $270. The two places combined this year, boosting their total collection by 25 per cent.

Co-operation of everybody concerned was "wonderful," said Mrs. Todd, adding "The Liberal" to extend thanks on her behalf to those who worked and those who contributed.

Top Kiwanis Awards For Richmond Hill Schools

Choirs and trios from Richmond Hill Public Schools scored gratifying results in the recent Kiwanis Music Festival in Toronto. The winning of an award is comparatively incidental to the greater all-round musical training of such an event; but it is also pleasant and encouraging news. Out of 13 choral groups from our schools, two obtained first prize, five second prize, three third prize, and three fourth prize.

The list of choirs, with the name of the leader in brackets, and order of grades, is as follows:

- Triple Trios - Gr. 7 & 8 Pleasantville - (Mr. G. Shantz) - 2nd prize.
- Walter Scott - (Mrs. T. Jeans) - 3rd prize.
- McKillop - (Miss J. Ross) - 4th prize.
- Triple Trios - Girls under 16 years McKillop - (Miss F. Thomson) - 1st prize.
- Grade 5 Choirs McKillop - (Mrs. H. Nesbitt) - 4th prize.
- Grade 5 & 6 Choirs McKillop - (Mrs. H. Nesbitt) - 2nd prize.
- McConaghy - (Miss J. Ross) - 2nd prize.
- Grade 7 Choirs Walter Scott - (Mr. J. Peace) - 2nd prize.
- McConaghy - (Miss J. Ross) - 2nd prize.

100 Cases Heard In Record Court

Approximately 100 court cases were heard last Monday, at one of the longest sessions of Richmond Hill Magistrate's Court since its inception almost two months ago. Most of the cases dealt with were traffic charges laid by Richmond Hill police.

A number of dog cases, where people were summonsed for allowing their dogs to run at large, were also handled.

Many of the traffic cases were speeding offences although a number of "failing to stop" charges were also dealt with. Also included in the extensive docket were such offences as failing to change the ownership of a vehicle, failing to report an accident, having an unsafe vehicle and careless driving.

Magistrate R. G. Pearce, in sentencing a number of the offenders, recommended that they attend a traffic clinic which is held in Richmond Hill regularly.

Old Metro Line Car Barn Burns In Sunday Fire

Heavy damage was caused to the brick building which looks south down Yonge Street at the first of the Bond Lake curves, last Sunday around 6.30 p.m.

The building is now occupied as a furniture store operated by Harry Simpson. The proprietor, following his usual custom, had been working during the day and the fire is said to have broken out shortly after closing.

The building was constructed about 1900 and was originally a car barn for the old Metropolitan Railway, which at that time ran electric cars up Yonge Street from North Toronto to Sutton. In those days Bond Lake was a very popular picnic spot and organizations by the dozens made their Mecca during summer months.

After serving its original purpose it remained closed for a time, later becoming a car sales outlet.

Supply Of Water Meeting Subject For Oak Ridges

A number of property owners from the east side of Oak Ridges recently appeared before Whitchurch Township Council requesting the supplying of water through a new system, the water being purchased from King Township.

The Council, after investigating the situation, called a meeting which was held at the Oak Ridges Public School. Ratepayers from the area within the bounds of Yonge Street, north from the Lob Cabin to the Ridge Road; the South Road from Yonge Street east to Benson Avenue; Wilcox Road from Yonge Street east to and including Joyce's Point; and the North Road from Yonge Street east to and including the residence of Silvo Bolsonello, were present.

The situation with regard to taxes in arrears in the neighbourhood was pointed out, and property owners were told that a considerable portion of the arrears of taxes would have to be liquidated before anything more definite could be arranged. Whitchurch Council has agreed to call another meeting within a few weeks to see what can be done.

Reeve Clifford Walkwork promised that in the meantime council would get an estimate of cost and a preliminary report on the installation of a waterworks project and a supply main from King Township.

District residents last year voted against a proposal to have water services installed in the area. The recent move was sparked by two petitions, one signed by 80 qualified persons requesting the water service and the other signed by 34 qualified persons opposing the move.

CFGM Newsman Moves To Toronto Station

News editor and announcer of CFGM, Richmond Hill, for the last three years, Don Watson leaves this week to take up news duties with the new Globe and Mail broadcast over Station CKEY, Toronto.

A Westerner - and an emphatic "Blue Bombers" fan - he has lived in the east for three years. While working in Toronto, he will continue to make his home in Richmond Hill.
