Local Senior Citizens Orangeville Project

A committee from the Richmond Hill Senior Citizens Club is going to Orangeville this week to study the senior citizens' apartment project under construction there. The purpose of these developments of which there are about 13 either finished or under construction in Ontario, is to provide low cost housing to senior citizens existing on limited incomes. The purpose of the visit this week is to give local senior citizens an idea of what the developments are like, with the possibility of a similar project in the Richmond Hill area to be investigated later.
