Neighbourhood Notes
Last week work was begun on the C.N.R. by-pass at the Don Mills Road crossing south of 14th Avenue. Residents in that area are being inconvenienced since the road has been re-routed. Driveways are difficult to manoeuvre, and dust is a constant problem.

One family in the neighbourhood of the by-pass has already moved. Mr. and Mrs. James Watson will move to Willowdale in the near future, and the Longs will move also.

The Holden home was removed some months ago, and Mrs. Holden and Fred went to Willowdale.

Mrs. A. Shenfield and Mrs. John Wilkins have both been in hospital recently but are now home.

John Brown was taken to Scarborough Hospital last week suffering from a heart ailment. His doctor has ordered a month's rest.

Last week's sudden warmth saw a great deal accomplished on local farms, and several farmers have most of their seeding done.

George and Joan Hooper and their sons attended a party for Joan's grandfather, Joseph Monkman, who celebrated his 90th birthday last week-end.

Harry Bourne of Richmond Hill, entertained at a family gathering in his honour. Mr. Monkman farmed for many years in the Richmond Hill area.

Mrs. Dick Jones and Mrs. McNeishe left Monday for a few days in Buffalo. Last week-end, other Easter vacationers returned. Miss Beverley Burr, from Nassau; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Reid from Washington and Detroit; and Mrs. F. H. Leaf from Virginia Beach, Washington and the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Joseph Fisher's sale last Saturday was reported to be quite successful. The Fisher home on the 6th concession, north of Highway 7, was sold to an Estonian couple, and Mr.

Fisher is living with his son at Lemonville.

On Saturday, group No. 4 of Brown's Corners United Church Women sold coffee and sandwiches to sale buyers, Mrs. A. Stephenson and Mrs. D. Hood convened.

Congratulations to Jim and Rosemary Miller, whose six little boys now have a sister, Mary Rose, born on Good Friday. Of their ten grandchildren, this is the second granddaughter for Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Miller.

On Easter Sunday the lilies at Brown's Corners church altar were the gift of Mr. George Arnold Senior. Later the 14 plants were distributed among sick members and shut-ins.

Kenneth Hooper escaped injury, but his brother-in-law, Kenneth Vollett, spent two days in hospital with concussion recently, after his new Pontiac was wrecked when he was in an accident at the corner of Steele's Avenue and Don Mills Road last Thursday. The driver of the second car is said to have failed to stop at Don Mills Road. Both the driver and her grandson are in hospital.

Cars Robbed Outside Police Station
Cars parked beside a police station would be the last anyone would expect to find robbed, but it did happen last Friday.

Buttonville W.I. held a benefit for the Canadian Cancer Society that night at Buttonville W.I. Hall and party-goers parked their cars on the farm beside the 14th Avenue.

Township municipal offices, where the police offices are situated. During the evening, one of the women working in the kitchen noticed a station wagon disabled on the road and noticed men working on it. Later, it was discovered that two cars belonging to George Black, R.R.1 Markham, and James Riddick, R.R.2 Gormley, both attending the euchre party, had been broken into. The back seat removed and tools taken. The Rodick car was jacked up and a front wheel was missing. Police are still investigating.

Cancer Society Benefit
A euchre party sponsored by Buttonville W.I. for the Canadian Cancer Society was successful on last Friday. There were 22 tables of players and the proceeds were more than $70.00.

Mrs. Belle Glendenning
Old friends in the community were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. John Glendenning, the former Belle Johnson, at a Willowdale nursing home April 24.

Mrs. Glendenning suffered a stroke some time ago, but attempted to make a good recovery when she was suddenly stricken last Tuesday.

Sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Craigie and their family, and a brother, John Johnson of Willowdale.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. William Butt, at St. John's cemetery, Markham.

Lutherans Start Energetic Drive For New Church Home On Bayview

$4,800 is the goal announced for St. Paul's Lutheran Church capital funds campaign. The figure was disclosed to the congregation at a special dinner meeting Sunday.

The congregation met for dinner at the Hide-A-Way Restaurant in the Allencourt Plaza. The goal was announced by Philip Limpert, building chairman. Ross Percival acted as toastmaster for the event. First speaker was Albert Harvey on "Our Past," a sketch of the church's history.

Philip Barth, president of St. Paul's Church, spoke on "The Present". He described the needs and challenges of the church's programme in relation to its projected building.

Pamela Stodart then gave the view of the youth of the congregation. She pointed out the need for proper space for Sunday school and young peoples' activities.

Philip Lambert spoke on "Our Future". He outlined the proposed building programme, anticipating construction early next year.

Following brief remarks by Pastor Albert Myers, Richard V. Hermansen was introduced. Hermansen is public relations director for Waterloo Lutheran University. He gave the main speech of the evening, uplifting and inspiring the group.

The capital funding effort is called the "Venture in Faith". The name was also announced at Sunday's meeting. A Venture Goal of $5,600 was also announced as a challenge to the congregation.

Teams of visitors will be commissioned Sunday May 6 during the 11 a.m. worship service in Walter Scott School. They will visit every member-family to seek a financial commitment to the programme.

An eight-page brochure entitled "Our Venture in Faith", outlining the programme in detail, has been given to each member.

A training session for the visitors' teams will be held this evening (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. at 110 Rockport Crescent. Mr. Ted Weber of Kitchener will conduct the training.

Mrs. Betty Harvey headed the arrangements committee for the dinner meeting. Chairman of the campaign is Harvey Dufferin.

The building committee is now interviewing architects. It is hoped that one may receive official appointment about June 1 and begin work on plans.

The church owns a 2 1/2 acre building site adjacent to the high school on Bayview Avenue.

Too Many Broken Windows

Defer Closing Public School Grounds Board To See Police Committee

A recommendation from the Richmond Hill Public School Board Building Committee to close all school grounds, following excessive window breakage and other trouble, was deferred, pending a meeting to be held with the police committee of town council, when the school board met Thursday evening with Deputy-Reeve Tom Broadhurst, council's chairman of finance.

At its last meeting, town council was confronted with a bill for $21.01 for a broken window at Pleasantville School, caused by children playing with golf balls in the school grounds after school hours.

In answer to the board's request for payment, the deputy-reeve not only wrote to the board pointing out that it was public money which would be used to pay for window glass—whether school board or council footed the bill—but appeared in person to cement better relations between council and school board.

Joseph Rabinowitch, vice-chairman of the board, said it was not the cost of replacing one window which was at stake, but rather to make council aware of the need for a by-law to prevent continued glass-breakage throughout the school area.

Business Administrator Kenneth Turton reported a rash of youthful golf enthusiasts in the town, and said he had seen six youths hitting golf balls at Beverley Acres School.

"Does the town have a by-law to cover this?" asked Chairman Harold Sanderson. To which the deputy-reeve replied that hours. I would like to see this thing worked out with a little more co-operation."

Deputy-Reeve Broadhurst: "Instead of sparring with each other we should get together."

Crosby Ave. Guard Chairman Harold Sanderson: "Talking about co-operation, what about the Crosby Avenue crossing guard? We read first in the local press that a guard had been appointed there. There have been numerous requests sent to council by us which we don't get answers to."

He also stated that the deputy-reeve was the first member of council to visit the board in the five years he has been on the board. "At least we go to them for budget purposes," he concluded with a smile.

YORK SUMMIT DISTRICT SCOUT AND CUB HANDICRAFT HOBBY SHOW A SUCCESS

"A wonderful success", "tremendous", and "a great show" these were some of the comments heard at the York Summit Handicraft and Hobby show held in the Richmond Hill United Church last Saturday afternoon and evening.

The 5th Richmond Hill group were the winners of the George Harvey Memorial Trophy for the group accumulating the most points, with the pack award going to the 1st Richmond Hill Cub Pack and the Troop award to the 5th Richmond Hill Scout Troop.

Points were awarded on a 10-6-3 basis for first, second, third and good effort respectively. The final standings were 5th Richmond Hill, 278 points; 6th Richmond Hill, 189 points; 1st King, 142; 1st Richmond Hill 128; 8th Richmond Hill, 83; 3rd Thornhill, 79; 1st Leacock, 67; 3rd Richmond Hill, 64; 2nd Richmond Hill, 53; 1st Beverley Acres, 36; 1st Melville, 34; 4th Richmond Hill, 31; 2nd Markham, 27; 1st Jefferson, 25; 1st Maple, 25; 1st Oak Ridges, 24; 2nd Thornhill, 23; 1st Concord, 20; 7th Richmond Hill, 13; 1st Richvale, 8 and 3rd Markham, 3.

852 entries were received and everyone of them represented some boys "Do your best" contributing to an amazing display of talent and productivity.

The exhibits were judged according to classification for Scouts in one group and Cubs were judged in two groups, boys to 9 1/2, and boys over 9 1/2. The scout exhibits were classified in 22 groups or sub groups, and the cub exhibits were classified in 23 groups or sub groups.

The largest single classification was Cuberacts with over 50 entries, and the judges found themselves hardput to come up with winners, finally settling on seven first place ribbons. Cuberact entries included copper tooling, leatherwork, indian headresses, aluminum metalwork, knitting, kneedlework, corkwork, and knotting boards.

The toy making classification was of such high calibre that the judges awarded a ribbon for a kit (which was excluded under the rules of the classification) only after lengthy deliberation. It was not until much later in the day that anyone realized that it was a kit.

Throughout the afternoon the 3rd Richmond Hill Scout Troop operated Morse code stations and messages were sent from one room to another for people viewing the exhibits. Movies were shown continuously throughout the day.

The 5th Richmond Hill Ladies Auxiliary added much to the festivities with their lunch counter, which was one of the busiest spots at the Hobby Show.

Winners of first place ribbons in the Cub section were D. Boyle (2), J. Fraser (2), P. McCormick (2), B. Bacon, B. Butler, D. Burgess, F. Babcock, R. Armstrong, M. Calder, D. Ferguson, N. Holbeck, C. Long, D. Mowatt, B. McPhee, J. Moorley, B. McBain, K. Moore, R. MacLadeen, J. Olson, S. Pascal, G. Palmer, D. Robertson, J. Rigby, S. Spear, E. Weidman and D. Whitman. Winners of the six entry was the 3rd Thornhill.

Winners of first place ribbons in the Scout section were D. Ailles, J. Bamford, H. Cazaly, J. Fraser, P. Bennett, J. Hadcock, S. Lunn, J. McPhee, O. Neilson, P. O'Brien, J. Smart and R. Taylor. Winner of the Patrol entry was the 3rd Thornhill.

A "Cub and Scout vacation" has been taken by the local groups, due to the Easter school holidays, boys away, and the school buildings where most groups hold their regular meetings, have been closed over the Easter period. However, this rest period will do the boys good, and be eager to resume their activities.
